S. Bhathal, 1981 Population Policies and Programmes in Singapore Saw Swee-Hock, 2016-06-22 The second edition of Population Policies and Programmes in Singapore presents an up to date and comprehensive account of the government's initiatives to influence the course of fertility and hence the rate of population growth in the island state of Singapore since the 1960s The varied population issues and consequences associated with the prolonged below replacement fertility are discussed in detail The strength of the book lies in the author's intimate familiarity with the subject acquired through some personal involvement in the formulation of population policies for the country The Population of Singapore (Third Edition) Saw Swee-Hock, 2012 The third edition of this book presents a most comprehensive and up to date analysis of population trends and patterns in Singapore since its foundation in 1819 to the present day Separate chapters are devoted to population growth and distribution changing population structure migration mortality trends and differentials marriage trends and patterns divorce trends and patterns fertility trends and differentials family planning abortion and sterilisation fertility policies and programmes immigration policies and programmes labour force and future population trends The strength of the book lies in the author's deep familiarity with the subject acquired through some personal involvement in the compilation of demographic statistics as well as the formulation of population policies for the country Urbanization And Urban Policies In Pacific Asia Roland J Fuchs, 2019-09-18 This book is the outcome of the Conference on Population Growth Urbanization and Urban Policies in the Asia Pacific Region held in Honolulu during 8-12 April 1985 It provides wide attention among development planners urban managers and scholars in the field of urban and development planning Population Policy and Reproduction in Singapore Shirley Hsiao-Li Sun, 2012 This book examines the relationship between population policies and individual reproductive decisions in low fertility contexts Using the case study of Singapore it demonstrates that the effectiveness of population policy is a function of competing notions of citizenship and the gap between seemingly neutral policy incentives and the perceived and experienced disparate effects Drawing on a substantial number of personal interviews and focus groups the book analyzes the developmental welfare state's overarching emphasis of citizen responsibility and examines population policies that reinforce social inequalities and ignore cultural diversity These factors combine to undermine elaborate state policy efforts in encouraging citizens biological reproduction The book goes on to argue that in order to facilitate positive fertility decisions the state needs to modify the economic production at all cost approach and pay much more attention to the importance of social rights This suggests that the Singapore government might profitably approach the phenomenon of very low fertility with major initiatives similar to those of other advanced industrialized societies This book offers a significant contribution to the literature on social policy East Asian and Southeast Asian studies

To improve readability and comprehension of complex instructions, RDA has been edited and reworded since its original release. The rewording was carried out by the JSC RDA Copy Editor and reviewed by the U.S. RDA Test Coordinating Committee.

Estimation of Interstate Migration in Peninsular Malaysia, 1947-1970 Saw Swee-Hock, 1980. This paper begins by discussing the principal concepts and definitions used in the study of internal migration. The direct method of estimating internal migration based on the record of the change of residence is reviewed, while the three indirect methods known as the vital statistics method, the survival rate method, and the place of birth method are evaluated in somewhat more detail. The place of birth method was selected to compute the lifetime migration of the eleven states in Peninsular Malaysia in the three post-war census years 1947, 1957, 1970, and the interstate migration during the two intercensal periods 1947-57 and 1957-70. The results of the estimation reveal that, apart from the pronounced differences in the level of interstate migration among the eleven states, there have been significant shifts in the pattern of interstate migration during the post-war years.
