European Porcelain in The Metropolitan Museum of Art Jeffrey Munger, Elizabeth Sullivan, 2018-05-09 Porcelain imported from China was the most highly coveted new medium in sixteenth and early seventeenth century Europe Its pure white color translucency and durability as well as the delicacy of decoration were impossible to achieve in European earthenware and stoneware In response European ceramic factories set out to discover the process of producing porcelain in the Chinese manner with significant artistic technical and commercial ramifications for Britain and the Continent Indeed not only artisans but kings noble patrons and entrepreneurs all joined in the quest hoping to gain both prestige and profit from the enterprises they established This beautifully illustrated volume showcases ninety works that span the late sixteenth to the mid nineteenth century and reflect the major currents of European porcelain production Each work is illustrated with glorious new photography accompanied by analysis and interpretation by one of the leading experts in European decorative arts Among the wide range of porcelains selected are rare blue and white wares and figures from Italy superb examples from the Meissen factory in Germany and the Sèvres factory in France and ceramics produced by leading British eighteenth century artisans Taken together they reveal why the Metropolitan Museum s holdings in this field are among the finest in the world
