Subject Cataloging Division, 1988 Thomas Cole's Journey Elizabeth Mankin Kornhauser, Tim Barringer , 2018-01-29 Thomas Cole 1801 1848 is celebrated as the greatest American landscape artist of his generation Though previous scholarship has emphasized the American aspects of his formation and identity never before has the British born artist been presented as an international figure in direct dialogue with the major landscape painters of the age Thomas Cole s Journey emphasizes the artist s travels in England and Italy from 1829 to 1832 and his crucial interactions with such painters as Turner and Constable For the first time it explores the artist s most renowned paintings The Oxbow 1836 and The Course of Empire cycle 1834 36 as the culmination of his European experiences and of his abiding passion for the American wilderness The four essays in this lavishly illustrated catalogue examine how Cole s first hand knowledge of the British industrial revolution and his study of the Roman Empire positioned him to create works that offer a distinctive even dissident response to the economic and political rise of the United States the ecological and economic changes then underway and the dangers that faced the young nation A detailed chronology of Cole s life focusing on his European tour retraces the artist s travels as documented in his journals letters and sketchbooks providing new insight into his encounters and observations With discussions of over seventy works by Cole as well as by the artists he admired and influenced this book allows us to view his work in relation to his European antecedents and competitors demonstrating his major contribution to the history of Western art Books in Print Supplement ,2002
600 Years of British Painting Denver Art Museum, 1999 The Pleasures of the Imagination John Brewer, 2013-03-12
The Pleasures of the Imagination examines the birth and development of English high culture in the eighteenth century It charts the growth of a literary and artistic world fostered by publishers theatrical and musical impresarios picture dealers and auctioneers and presented to the public in coffee houses concert halls libraries theatres and pleasure gardens In 1660 there were few professional authors musicians and painters no public concert series galleries newspaper critics or reviews By the dawn of the nineteenth century they were all apart of the cultural life of the nation John Brewer s enthralling book explains how this happened and recreates the world in which the great works of English eighteenth century art were made Its purpose is to show how literature painting music and the theatre were communicated to a public increasingly avid for them It explores the alleys and garrets of Grub Street rummages the shelves of bookshops and libraries peers through printsellers shop windows and into artists studios and slips behind the scenes at Drury Lane and Covent Garden It takes us out of Gay and Boswell s London to visit the debating clubs poetry circles ballrooms concert halls music festivals theatres and assemblies that made the culture of English provincial towns and shows us how the national landscape became one of Britain s greatest cultural treasures It reveals to us a picture of English artistic and literary life in the eighteenth century less familiar but more suprising more various and more convincing than any we have seen before Private Collecting, Exhibitions, and the Shaping of Art History in London Stacey J. Pierson, 2017-01-12 This book presents the history of a gentlemen s club in London that was founded in 1866 for the purpose of exhibiting private art collections It takes the main exhibition themes as a starting point to explore approaches to art connoisseurship and display in a unique setting
