

ARCHITECTURAL THEORY

- Eisenman's fragmented forms are identified with deconstructivism.
- His theories on architecture are based on the philosophy of deconstructivism.
- His work represents a continued attempt to liberate form from all meaning.
- He currently teaches theory seminars and advanced design studios at the Yale School of Architecture.
- Eisenman first rose to prominence as a member of the New York Five Architectural firm.
- Eisenman received a number of grants from the Graham Foundation for work done in this period. These architects' work at the time was often considered a reworking of the ideas of Le Corbusier.
- Eisenman's focus on "liberating" architectural form was notable from an academic and theoretical standpoint but resulted in structures that were both badly built and not user friendly.
- Until recently, few of his designs had been built. Most attention has been focused on his architectural ideas which attempt to create contextually disconnected architecture.
- Eisenman has also embarked on a larger series of building projects in his career. His largest project to date is the soon-to-be completed City of Culture of Galicia in Santiago de Compostela, Spain.

Bringing the Dark Past to Light John-Paul Himka, Joanna Beata Michlic, 2019-06-12 Despite the Holocaust's profound impact on the history of Eastern Europe the communist regimes successfully repressed public discourse about and memory of this tragedy Since the collapse of communism in 1989 however this has changed Not only has a wealth of archival sources become available but there have also been oral history projects and interviews recording the testimonies of eyewitnesses who experienced the Holocaust as children and young adults Recent political social and cultural developments have facilitated a more nuanced and complex understanding of the continuities and discontinuities in representations of the Holocaust People are beginning to realize the significant role that memory of Holocaust plays in contemporary discussions of national identity in Eastern Europe This volume of original essays explores the memory of the Holocaust and the Jewish past in postcommunist Eastern Europe Devoting space to every postcommunist country the essays in Bringing the Dark Past to Light explore how the memory of the dark pasts of Eastern European nations is being recollected and reworked In addition it examines how this memory shapes the collective identities and the social identity of ethnic and national minorities Memory of the Holocaust has practical implications regarding the current development of national cultures and international relationships

Expanding Fields of Architectural Discourse and Practice Matthew Butcher, Megan O'Shea, 2020-11-27 Expanding Fields of Architectural Discourse and Practice presents a selection of essays architectural experiments and works that explore the diversity within the fields of contemporary architectural practice and discourse Specific in this selection is the question of how and why architecture can and should manifest in a critical and reflective capacity as well as to examine how the discipline currently resonates with contemporary art practice It does so by reflecting on the first 10 years of the architectural journal P E A R 2009 to 2019 The volume argues that the initial aims of the journal to explore and celebrate the myriad forms through which architecture can exist are now more relevant than ever to contemporary architectural discourse and practice Included in the volume are architectural practitioners design researchers artists architectural theorists historians journalists curators and a paleobiologist all of whom contributed to the first seven issues of the journal Here they provide a unique presentation of architectural discourse and practice that seeks to test new ground while forming distinct relationships to recent and more longstanding historical legacies Praise for Expanding Fields of Architectural Discourse and Practice The story told by the authors of this work can thus be considered as the central tool of an architectural transgression Critique d art

Empathetic Memorials Mark Callaghan, 2020-11-12 This book is a study of the Berlin Holocaust Memorial Competitions of the 1990s with a focus on designs that kindle empathetic responses Through analysis of provocative designs the book engages with issues of empathy secondary witnessing and depictions of concentration camp iconography It explores the relationship between empathy and cultural memory when representations of suffering are notably absent The book submits that one design represents the idea of an uncanny memorial and also pays attention to viewer co authorship in counter monuments Analysis of counter monuments also include their creative engagement with German history and their determination to defy fascist aesthetics As the winning design for The Memorial to the Murdered Jews of Europe is abstract with an information centre there is an exploration of the memorial museum Callaghan asks whether this configuration is intended to compensate for the abstract memorial s ambiguity or to complement the design s visceral potential Other debates explored concern political memory national memory and the controversy of dedicating the memorial exclusively to murdered Jews

Institute who comment on it and their experiences The book should appeal to architecture students and those interested in architecture and urbanism of the seventies when the government in the United States was more reasonable in economic and political equity Journal ,1993 The Dead Sea Scrolls Deception Michael Baigent,Richard Leigh,2013-04-30 The Dead Sea Scrolls were found in caves 20 miles east of Jerusalem in 1947 and 1956 Now Michael Baigent and Richard Leigh co authors of The Holy Blood and the Holy Grail have succeeded in uncovering what has been described as the academic scandal par excellence of the twentieth century the story of how and why up to 75 per cent of the eight hundred ancient Hebrew and Aramaic manuscripts hidden for some nineteen centuries have until very recently remained concealed from the rest of the world Through interviews historical analysis and a close study of both published and unpublished scroll material the authors are able to reveal the true cause of the bitter struggle between scholars for these documents disclose nothing less than a new account of the origins of Christianity and an alternative and highly significant version of the New Testament

Architecture and Spectacle: A Critique Gevork Hartoonian,2016-12-05 Focusing on six leading contemporary architects Peter Eisenman Frank Gehry Bernard Tschumi Zaha Hadid Rem Koolhaas and Steven Holl this book puts forward a unique and insightful analysis of neo avant garde architecture It discusses the spectacle and excess which permeates contemporary architecture in reference to the present aesthetic tendency for image making but does so by applying the tectonic of theatricality discussed by the 19th century German architect Gottfried Semper In doing so it breaks new ground by opening up a dialogue between the study of the past and the design of the present The work of each discussed architect is seen as addressing a historiographical problem To this end and this is the second important aspect of this book the chosen buildings are discussed in terms of the thematic of the culture of building the tectonic of column and wall for example rather the formal and this through a discussion that is informed by the latest available theories Having set the aesthetic implication of the processes of the digitalization of architecture the book s conclusion highlights strategies by which architecture might postpone the full consequences of digitalization and thus the becoming of architecture as ornament on its own right

Architectural Design Instruments Sébastien Bourbonnais,2024-06-18 While it is undeniable that architectural practices have been transformed with the advent of digital technologies they nevertheless continue to occupy an ambiguous or even problematic place within the design process The underlying premise of this book on architectural design instruments is not to see them simply as means to an autonomous end one that is pure and detached from any other technological aspect but instead to see these instruments and their formative abilities as a different way in which architects can approach design We maintain that it is through the very act of experimentation with these instruments that their various potentials are revealed and established It is through such repeated experimentation which is constantly being revised and consolidated that practice is successfully and sustainably transformed This view is less of a wish than it is an observation and as such it can be seen in the various practices that are analyzed in this book Echoes in Perspective-Essays on Architecture Daniel

Pavlovits,2015-05-29 One could read the collection of essays herein as a political voice to architecture and the architecture profession constantly gnawing away at the disciplinary only to find favor in the imaginative intellectually interesting and the creative Beyond embodying a collection of thought on architecture and its discipline the present collection of essays also serves as a not so veiled political program for the possibility of architecture Mapping Impressionist Painting in

Transnational Contexts Emily C. Burns,Alice M. Rudy Price,2021-05-03 This book offers microhistories related to the transnational circulations of impressionism in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries The contributors rethink the role of French impressionism in shaping these iterations by placing France within its global and imperialist context and arguing that impressionisms might be framed through the mobility studies concept of constellations of mobility Artists engaging with impressionism in France as in other global contexts relied on responded to appropriated and resisted elements of form and content based on fluid and interconnected political realities and market structures Written by scholars and curators the chapters demand reconsideration of impressionism as a historical construct and the meanings assigned to that term This project frames future discussion in art history cultural studies and global studies on the politics of appropriating impressionism Morphodynamics in Aesthetics Stefania Caliendo,2019-12-12 This book deals with the complexity of art by focusing on the singularity of the work of art Gathering a selection of writings in art theory and semiotics it explores the question of apprehending art from its perceptual aspects to aesthetic comprehension and understanding Theoretical enquiries focus in particular on the dynamics of the perception of forms the semiotic value of colour the aesthetic phenomenon of empathy the function of vision in relation to other senses and its faculty to lead in a substantial way to the embodiment of sense These theoretical points are constantly observed with reference to the analysis of works of art especially from the beginning of the modern era when a renovated psychophysical approach oriented the evolution of contemporary aesthetics Research into art theories sheds light on how differentials in topologic positions dimensions relationships and tones contribute to the arising of forms and colours in perception and affect the perceiver The essays presented address in different ways the emergence of sense by conceiving it as deeply anchored to the dynamics of perception in addition to the cognitive disposition and knowledge regardless of whether or not the subject artist or beholder is aware of these processes Through in depth analyses identifying to what extent the aesthetic moment builds on perceptual and semiotic processes works of art are revealed to be singularities reflecting the correlation with morphodynamics in the sciences
