The Multimediated Rhetoric of the Internet Carolyn Handa, 2013-12-04 This project is a critical rhetorical study of the digital text we call the Internet in particular the style and figurative surface of its many pages as well as the conceptual design patterns structuring the content of those same pages Handa argues that as our lives become increasingly digital we must consider rhetoric applicable to more than just printed text or to images Digital analysis demands our acknowledgement of digital fusion a true merging of analytic skills in many media and dimensions CDs DVDs and an Internet increasingly capable of streaming audio and video prove that literacy today means more than it used to namely the ability to understand information however presented Handa considers pedagogy professional writing hypertext theory rhetorical studies and composition studies moving analysis beyond merely using the web towards thinking rhetorically about its construction and its impact on culture This book shows how analyzing the web rhetorically helps us to understand the inescapable fact that culture is reflected through all media fused within the parameters of digital technology

Rhetoric in an Antifoundational World Professor Michael F Bernard-Donals, Michael F. Bernard-Donals, Richard R. Glejzer, 1998-01-01 In this brilliant collection literary scholars philosophers and teachers inquire into the connections between antifoundational philosophy and the rhetorical tradition What happens to literary studies and theory when traditional philosophical foundations are disavowed What happens to the study of teaching and writing when antifoundationalism is accepted What strategies for human understanding are possible when the weaknesses of antifoundationalism are identified This volume offers answers in classic essays by such thinkers as Richard Rorty Terry Eagleton and Stanley Fish and in many new essays never published before The contributors to this book explore the nexus of antifoundationalism and rhetoric critique that nexus and suggest a number of pedagogical and theoretical alternatives The editors place these statements into a context that is both critical and evaluative and they provide for voices that dissent from the antifoundational perspective and that connect specific practical pedagogies to the broader philosophical statements For those with an interest in rhetoric philosophy comparative literature or the teaching of composition this book sets forth a wealth of thought provoking ideas I have nothing but praise for this work a masterful treatment of the question What positive intellectual projects are possible within a world that radically questions the existence of philosophical foundations

The Public Work of Rhetoric John M. Ackerman, David J. Coogan, 2013-03-15 The Public Work of Rhetoric presents the art of rhetorical techn as a contemporary praxis for civic engagement and social change which is necessarily inclusive of people inside and outside the academy In this provocative call to action editors John M Ackerman and David J Coogan along with seventeen other accomplished contributors offer case studies and criticism on the rhetorical practices of citizen scholars pursuing democratic ideals in diverse civic communities with partnerships across a range of media institutions exigencies and discourses Challenging conventional research methodologies and the traditional insularity of higher education these essays argue that civic engagement as a rhetorical act requires critical attention to our notoriously veiled identity in public life to our uneasy affiliation with democracy as a public virtue and to the transcendent powers of discourse and ideology This can be accomplished the contributors argue by building on the compatible traditions of materialist rhetoric and community literacy two vestiges of rhetoric s dual citizenship in the fields of communication and English This approach expresses a collective desire in rhetoric for more politically responsive scholarship more visible impact in public life and more access to the critical spaces between universities and their communities The compelling case studies in The Public Work of Rhetoric are located in inner urban and postindustrial communities where poverty is the overriding concern in afterschool and extracurricular alternatives that offer new routes to literate achievement in new media and digital representations of ethnic cultures designed to promote chosen identities in neighborhoods and scientific laboratories where race is the dominant value and in the policy borderlands between universities and the communities they serve Through these studies and accounts the contributors champion the notion that the public work of rhetoric is the tough labor of gaining access and trust learning the codes and histories of communities locating the situations in which rhetorical expertise is most effective and in many cases jointly defining the terms for gauging social change

Apocalyptic Sheep and Goats in Matthew and 1 Enoch Elekosi F. Lafitaga, 2022-03-25 An alternative understanding of apocalyptic eschatology in the Gospel of Matthew Matthew s eschatological imageries of judgment are often identified as apocalyptic and referred to as Matthew s apocalyptic discourses In this volume Elekosi F Lafitaga reexamines Matthew s vision of the sheep and goats in the judgment of the nations which are often interpreted as metaphors for the saved and the condemned Lafitaga views these images in the wider context of the rhetoric of apocalyptic communication stretching back to Matthew 3 This broader context reveals that the vision of Matthew 25 serves to exhort Israel in the here and now according to the torah with salvation for Israel involving an indispensable responsibility to love and serve humanity Central to Lafitaga s analysis is the highly probable scenario that the material in Matthew is dependent on the Book of Dreams 1 Enoch 83-90

Cold War Rhetoric Martin J. Medhurst, Robert L. Ivie, Philip Wander, Robert L. Scott, 1997-11-30 Cold War Rhetoric is the first book in over twenty years to bring a sustained rhetorical critique to bear on central texts of the Cold War The rhetorical texts that are the subject of this book include speeches by Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy the Murrow McCarthy confrontation on CBS the speeches and writings of peace advocates and the recurring theme of unAmericanism as it has been expressed in various media throughout the Cold War years Each of the authors brings to his texts a particular approach to rhetorical criticism strategic metaphorical or ideological Each provides an introductory chapter on methodology that explains the assumptions and strengths of their particular approach Research and Rhetoric Amy Price Azano, Carolyn Callahan, 2021-10-21 The CLEAR curriculum developed by the University of Virginia's National Research Center on the Gifted and Talented is an evidence based teaching model that emphasizes Challenge Leading to Engagement Achievement and Results In Research and Rhetoric Language Arts Units for Gifted Students in Grade 5 students will engage in a systematic study of rhetoric as contemplated by the Greek philosopher Aristotle Students will answer the question When do you appeal to one's intellect to emotions or perhaps to one's sense of morality when trying to persuade In the research unit students will learn and employ advanced research skills from crafting open ended research questions and discerning between reliable sources They will carry out their own research study and present findings at a research gala These units focus on critical literacy skills including reading diverse texts understanding a speaker's or author's perspective and understanding an audience's perspective Winner of the 2016 NAGC Curriculum Studies Award Grade 5 Post-9/11 American Presidential Rhetoric Colleen Elizabeth Kelley, 2008-01-01 Post 9 11 American Presidential Rhetoric examines the communication offensive orchestrated by George W Bush and the members of his administration between the initial terrorism crisis of September 11 2001 and the March 20 2003 invasion of Iraq Colleen Elizabeth Kelley argues that the president relied on a set of particular strategies that coalesced into protofascist talk in order to discursively manage the post 9 11 situation and justify its 2003 war against Iraq This book suggests a framework for analyzing emergent fascist public discourse and its potential for producing additional substantial antidemocratic speech and action Kelley further reviews the role of the media in conveying President Bush's rhetorical doctrine to the American public The rhetoric of democratic discourse is presented as a firewall to guarantee that such speech based behaviors which are endorsed by willing publics and developed within democracies fail to thrive and do not destroy the very systems that enabled them in the first place Post 9 11 American Presidential Rhetoric is a stimulating text that will strike up discussion among scholars of political communication and those interested in cultural studies A System of Practical Elocution and Rhetorical Gesture J. Weaver, 1846
