scholarship Participatory Critical Rhetoric Michael Middleton, Aaron Hess, Danielle Endres, Samantha Senda-Cook, 2015-12-16 Increasingly rhetorical scholars are using fieldwork and other ethnographic performance and qualitative methods to access document and analyze forms of everyday in situ rhetoric rather than using already documented texts In this book the authors argue that participatory critical rhetoric as an approach to in situ rhetoric is a theoretically methodologically and praxiologically robust approach to critical rhetorical studies This book addresses how participatory critical rhetoric furthers understanding of the significant role that rhetoric plays in everyday life through expanding the archive of rhetorical practices and texts emplacing rhetorical critics in direct conversation with rhetors and audiences at the moment of rhetorical invention and highlighting marginalized voices that might otherwise go unnoticed This book organizes the theoretical and methodological foundations of participatory critical rhetoric through four vectors that enhance conventional rhetorical approaches 1 the political commitments of the critic 2 rhetorical reflexivity and the role of the embodied critic 3 emplaced rhetoric and the interplay between the field text and context and 4 multiperspectival judgment that is informed by direct participation with rhetors and audiences In addition to laying the groundwork and advocating for the approach Participatory Critical Rhetoric also offers significant contributions to rhetorical theory and criticism more broadly by revisiting the field s understanding of core topics such as role of the critic text context audience rhetorical effect and the purpose of criticism Further it enhances theoretical conversations about material rhetoric place space affect intersectional rhetoric embodiment and rhetorical reflexivity The Terministic Screen David Blakesley, 2007-09-28 The Terministic Screen Rhetorical Perspectives on Film examines the importance of rhetoric in the study of film and film theory Rhetorical approaches to film studies have been widely practiced but rarely discussed until now Taking on such issues as Hollywood blacklisting fascistic aesthetics and postmodern dialogics editor David Blakesley presents fifteen critical essays that examine rhetoric s role in such popular films as The Fifth Element The Last Temptation of Christ The Usual Suspects Deliverance The English Patient Pulp Fiction The Music Man Copycat Hoop Dreams and A Time to Kill Aided by sixteen illustrations these insightful essays consider films rhetorically as ways of seeing and not seeing as acts that dramatize how people use language and images to tell stories and foster identification Contributors include David Blakesley Alan Nadel Ann Chisholm Martin J Medhurst Byron Hawk Ekaterina V Haskins James Roberts Thomas W Benson Philip L Simpson Davis W Houck Caroline J S Picart Friedemann Weidauer Bruce Krajewski Harriet Malinowitz Granetta L Richardson and Kelly Ritter Supplement to Rhetorical Dimensions in Media Martin J. Medhurst, Thomas W. Benson, 1995-11 See it Now Confronts McCarthyism Thomas Rosteck, 1994 Analyses the medium of documentary and an era in US history This cultural study considers four See It Now programmes on the abuses of McCarthyism originally broadcast in 1953 54 illuminating the structure content assumptions and rhetoric of the genre and its impact on the TV industry Modern Occult Rhetoric Joshua Gunn, 2011-01-28 A broadly interdisciplinary study of the pervasive secrecy in America cultural political and religious discourse The occult has traditionally been understood as the study of secrets of the practice of mysticism or magic This book broadens our understanding of the occult by treating it as a rhetorical phenomenon tied to language and symbols and more central to American culture than is commonly assumed Joshua Gunn approaches the occult as an idiom examining the ways in which acts of textual criticism and interpretation are occultic in nature as evident in practices as diverse as academic scholarship Freemasonry and television production Gunn probes for instance the ways in which jargon employed by various social and professional groups creates barriers and fosters secrecy From the theory wars of cultural studies to the Satanic Panic that swept the national mass media in the late 1980s and early 1990s Gunn shows how the paradox of a hidden buried or secret meaning that cannot be expressed in language appears time and time again in Western culture These recurrent patterns Gunn argues arise from a generalized popular anxiety about language and its limitations Ultimately Modern Occult Rhetoric demonstrates the indissoluble relationship between language secrecy and publicity and the centrality of suspicion in our daily lives

Analyzing Media James W. Chesebro, Dale A. Bertelsen, 1998-10-01 For the past 25 years critics of communication have focused on the content and form of verbal and nonverbal communication while for the most part neglecting what traditionally has been considered a technical rather than a critical issue the impact of how messages are produced or formatted in the various media Topics such as the sexual and violent content of television and films the meaning of pornography and the persuasive efforts of advertisers largely have been examined with the use of social science methodologies that ignore the behavioral and message generating implications of specific media systems themselves Filling a significant void in the literature this volume eschews the notion of communication technologies as neutral conduits and instead depicts them as active and creative determinants of meaning In doing so it offers an illuminating examination of the dynamic relationships among communication cognition and social organization Providing a framework for the chapters that follow the first section of the book presents a history of human communication from a technological perspective explores the integral role of communication technologies in everyday life and isolates the ways in which criticism can function as an assessment system Three specific technological cultures that define human communication are identified the oral the literate and the electronic The authors identify structural features and discuss the social implications of each They also provide descriptions interpretations and evaluations of these technological cultures and show how criticism changes when the media of transmission is taken into account The book concludes with a cogent discussion of a range of topics surrounding media criticism such as its pedagogical implications how multiple selves can exist in a world of varied communication technologies the integration of communication technologies and how media studies should be incorporated into the disc
