Directions in Applied Linguistics Christina Gitsaki, 2011-12-08 The field of applied linguistics covers a diverse range of research and practice and has developed somewhat differently in various parts of the world due to variations in local socio cultural conditions needs and issues However this local diversity does not reflect a field that is incoherent but rather one which has a broad shared international agenda which is invigorated by the diversity brought to the field by local perspectives The papers in this volume represent some of the major global directions that research in applied linguistics is taking and shed light on how language is used to affect practice The aim of this volume is to explore some of the key methods and issues which are guiding applied linguistics into the future through an examination of these issues in local contexts thereby providing a basis for understanding the global directions the field is taking These directions follow two historically defined paths those related to educational studies and language teaching and those related to social issues involving language In the volume half the papers focus on the former examining issues of language teaching language teacher education and second language acquisition while the other half examine social issues related to language use bilingualism and multilingualism and language policy and planning The collection of papers presented in this book illustrates how these traditional themes are influenced by the rising forces of globalisation and the use of technology thus exemplifying both the new and old ways in which the study of language is realised In Defense of Informal Logic D.S. Levi,2013-03-09 My impulse when I decided to collect into a single volume the essays on topics in logical theory and related subjects that I have written in the last fifteen years was to borrow from the title of a work by Sextus Empiricus and call my collection Against the Logicians Although the essays address a variety of problems that interest me the thread that runs through them is a scepticism about how logicians see things So the title appealed to me However I had second thoughts and chose instead a title of one of my own essays In Defense of Informal Logic which emphasizes my support for other approaches Although my criticisms of logical theory are designed to cut deeply I do not want to be unresponsive to the needs that it is supposed to satisfy However my position that we have adequate resources for critically analyzing a particular argument and do not need a theory of argumentation will not completely satisfy those who think that there is a need for it So I want them to know that I am taking their concerns seriously
