Rhetorical Town:

"Too Good a Town" Edward G. Agran, 1999-07-01 For fifty years William Allen White first as a reporter and later as the long time editor of the Emporia Gazette wrote of his small town and its Mid American values By tailoring his writing to the emerging urban middle class of the early twentieth century he won his gospel of Emporia a nationwide audience and left a lasting impact on the way America defines itself Investigating White's life and his extensive writings Edward Gale Agran explores the dynamic thought of one of America's best read and most respected social commentators Agran shows clearly how White honed his style and transformed the myth of conquering the western frontier into what became the twentieth century ideal of community building Once a confidante of and advisor to Theodore Roosevelt White addressed and reflected in his work all the great social and political oscillations of his time urbanization and industrialism populism and progressivism isolationism internationalism Prohibition and New Deal reform Again and again he asked the question What's the matter about his times and townspeople then found the middle ground With great care and discernment Agran gathers the man strains of White's messages demonstrating one writer's pivotal contribution to our idea of what it means to be an American

Feminist Rhetorical Practices Jacqueline Jones Royster, Gesa E Kirsch, 2012-02-10 From two leading scholars in the field comes this landmark assessment of the shifting terrain of feminist rhetorical practices in recent decades Jacqueline Jones Royster and Gesa E Kirsch contend the field of rhetorical studies is being transformed through the work of feminist rhetoricians who have brought about notable changes in who the subjects of rhetorical study can be how their practices can be critiqued and how the effectiveness and value of the inquiry frameworks can be articulated To contextualize a new and changed landscape for narratives in the history of rhetoric Royster and Kirsch present four critical terms of engagement critical imagination strategic contemplation social circulation and globalization as the foundation for a new analytical model for understanding interpreting and evaluating feminist rhetorical inquiry and the study and teaching of rhetoric in general This model draws directly on the wealth of knowledge and understanding gained from feminist rhetorical practices especially sensitivity toward meaningfully and respectfully rendering the work lives cultures and traditions of historical and contemporary women in rhetorical scholarship Proposing ambitious new standards for viewing and valuing excellence in feminist rhetorical practice Royster and Kirsch advocate an ethos of respect and humility in the analysis of communities and specific rhetorical performances neglected in rhetorical history recasting rhetorical studies as a global phenomenon rather than a western one They also reflect on their own personal and professional development as researchers as they highlight innovative feminist research over the past thirty years to articulate how feminist work is changing the field and pointing to the active participation of women in various discourse arenas and to the practices and genres they use Valuable to new and established scholars of rhetoric Feminist Rhetorical Practice New Horizons for Rhetoric Composition and Literacy Studies is essential for understanding the theoretical methodological and ethical impacts of feminist rhetorical studies on the wider field Winner 2014 Winifred Bryan Horner Outstanding Book Award Rhetorical Praxis Henry Noble Day, 1883 New Testament Rhetoric, Second Edition Ben Witherington, Jason A. Myers, 2022-09-28 Witherington and Myers provide a much needed introduction to the ancient art of persuasion and its use within the various New Testament documents More than just an exploration of the use of the ancient rhetorical tools and devices this guide introduces the reader to all that went into convincing an audience about some subject Witherington and Myers make the case that rhetorical criticism is a more fruitful approach to the NT epistles than the oft employed approaches of literary and discourse criticism Familiarity with the art of rhetoric also helps the reader explore non epistolary genres In addition to the general introduction to rhetorical criticism the book guides readers through the many and varied uses of rhetoric in most NT documents not only telling readers about rhetoric in the NT but showing them the way it was employed This brief guide book is intended to provide the reader with an entrance into understanding the rhetorical analysis of various parts of the NT the value such studies bring for understanding what is being proclaimed and defended in the NT and how Christ is presented in ways that would be considered persuasive in antiquity from the introduction Rhetoric, Rhetoricians, and Poets Marijke Spies, A. van Strien, 1999 The Netherlandish rhetoricians of the sixteenth century have in the course of the last decades shed their image of third rate poets who lacking all sense of true beauty were capable only of pompous verbosity and a shallow manipulation of form The new scholarly assessment has also shed light on the role they played in the cultural and literary life of their time and it now appears that many of their dramas are well worth staging Once the sixteenth century was freed from the stigma of being the preparatory phase for the Golden Age the way was clear for thorough studies of the literature produced during the most turbulent period in the history of the Low Countries This volume contains essays which deal with works written not only in Dutch but also in French and in New Latin with topics ranging from the effects of poetic principles on literary practice to the use of poetry as a means for improving society and developing the individual The unifying thread in these studies is the pivotal importance of rhetoric in all forms of literary expression Freshman Rhetoric John Rothwell Slater, 1913 Local Theories of Argument Dale Hamble, 2021-03-25 Argumentation is often understood as a coherent set of Western theories birthed in Athens and developing throughout the Roman period the Middle Ages the Enlightenment and Renaissance and into the present century Ideas have been nuanced developed and revised but still the outline of argumentation theory has been recognizable for centuries or so it has seemed to Western scholars The 2019 Alta Conference on Argumentation co sponsored by the National Communication Association and the American Forensic Association aimed to question the generality of these intellectual traditions This resulting collection of essays deals with the possibility of having local theories of argument local to a particular time a particular kind of issue a particular place or a particular culture Many of the papers argue for reconsidering basic ideas about arguing to represent the uniqueness of some moment or location of discourse Other scholars are more comfortable with the Western traditions and find them congenial to the analysis of arguments that originate in discernibly distinct circumstances The papers represent different methodologies cover the experiences of different nations at different times examine varying sorts of argumentative events speeches court decisions food choices and sound explore particular personal identities and the issues highlighted by them and have different overall orientations to doing argumentation scholarship Considered together the essays do not generate one simple conclusion but they stimulate reflection about the particularity or generality of the experience of arguing and therefore the scope of our theories
