Rice Sprout Song A Novel Of Modern China:

The Rice Sprout Song Ailing Zhang, 1998-05-15 In this first of three novels written in English in the 1950s and 1960s by Eileen Chang the author touches on subjects hitherto unnoticed in her works the politics of writing and writing about politics Foreword p vii viii The Rice Sprout Song Eileen Chang, 1963 The Rice Sprout Song Ai-ling Chang, 1998 The Rice-sprout Song Eileen Chang, 1960 Modern China and the West Hsiao-yen PENG, Isabelle Rabut, 2014-04-30 In Modern China and the West Translation and Cultural Mediation the authors investigate the significant role translation plays in the act of cultural mediation They pay attention to transnational organizations that bring about cross cultural interactions as well as regulating authorities in the form of both nation states and ideologies which dictate what and even how to translate Under such circumstances is there room for individual translators or mediators to exercise their free will To what extent are they allowed to do so The authors see translation as a shaping force While intending to shape or reshape certain concepts through the translating act translators and cultural actors need to negotiate among multifarious institutional powers that coexist including traditional and foreign Contributors include Fran oise Kreissler Angel Pino Shan Te hsing Nicolai Volland Joyce C H Liu Huang Ko wu Isabelle Rabut Xiaomei Chen Zhang Yinde Peng Hsiao yen Sebastian Hsien hao Liao and Pin chia Feng The Semblance of Identity Christopher Lee, 2012-04-18 The history of Asian American literature reveals the ongoing attempt to work through the fraught relationship between identity politics and literary representation This relationship is especially evident in literary works which claim that their content represents the socio historical world The Semblance of Identity argues that the reframing of the field as a critical rather than identity based project nonetheless continues to rely on the logics of identity Drawing on the writings of philosopher and literary critic Georg Lukacs Christopher Lee identifies a persistent composite figure that he calls the idealized critical subject which provides coherence to oppositional knowledge projects and political practices He reframes identity as an aesthetic figure that tries to articulate the subjective conditions for knowledge Harnessing Theodor Adorno's notion of aesthetic semblance Lee offers an alternative account of identity as a figure akin to modern artwork Like art Lee argues identity provides access to imagined worlds that in turn wage a critique of ongoing histories and realities of racialization This book assembles a transnational archive of literary texts by Eileen Chang Frank Chin Maxine Hong Kingston Chang rae Lee Michael Ondaatje and Jose Garcia Villa revealing the intersections of subjectivity and representation and drawing our attention to their limits The Sing-Song Girls of Shanghai Bangqing Han, 2005 Courtesans desire the denizens of the Shanghai underworld are just some of the elements in Han Bangqing's novel of late imperial China published in 1892 now available in English for the first time The A to Z of Modern Chinese Literature Li-Hua Ying, 2010 The A to Z of Modern Chinese Literature presents a broad perspective on the development and history of literature in modern China It offers a chronology introduction bibliography and over 300 cross referenced dictionary entries on authors literary and historical developments trends genres and concepts that played a central role in the evolution of modern Chinese literature

Eileen Chang: The Performativity of

Self-Translation Jessica Tsui-yan Li, 2025-06-16 Eileen Chang The Performativity of Self Translation by Jessica Tsui-yan Li focuses on the self translation of Zhang Ailing Eileen Chang 1920 1995 one of the most important Chinese writers of the twentieth century Although self translation is overlooked in most studies of her work Chang's literary achievements are attributed in part to her lifelong self translation of her lived experiences and family sagas as well as her bilingualism This book enriches current studies of self translation by proposing a new hypothesis of theorizing self translation as a performative act characterized by its in betweenness and the aesthetic freedom that the self translator enjoys contextualized within larger debates about translation and the specific practice of self translation in Chinese history in comparison to its Western counterpart

Routledge Handbook of Modern Chinese Literature Ming Dong Gu, 2018-09-03 The Routledge Handbook of Modern Chinese Literature presents a comprehensive overview of Chinese literature from the 1910s to the present day Featuring detailed studies of selected masterpieces it adopts a thematic comparative approach By developing an innovative conceptual framework predicated on a new theory of periodization it thus situates Chinese literature in the context of world literature and the forces of globalization Each section consists of a series of contributions examining the major literary genres including fiction poetry essay drama and film Offering an exciting account of the century long process of literary modernization in China the handbook's themes include Modernization of people and writing Realism romanticism and modernist aesthetics Chinese literature on the stage and screen Patriotism war and revolution Feminism liberalism and socialism Literature of reform reflection and experimentation Literature of Taiwan Hong Kong and new media This handbook provides an integration of biographical narrative with textual analysis maintaining a subtle balance between comprehensive overview and in depth examination As such it is an essential reference guide for all students and scholars of Chinese literature

Chinese Diasporic Writers and Artists Kwok-kan Tam, Lily Li, 2025-09-10 This book presents new and original essays that capture the enigmatic and intriguing personal and imagined worlds of Chinese writers and artists in diaspora in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Including chapters on artist writers such as Gao Xingjian Dai Sijie Ha Jin and Hong Ying Tyrus Wong and Shen Wei the book explores personal cross cultural experiences through their literary and other artistic works reflecting on their cultural identity their native home and their new home the past and the present By writing filming and painting about their diaspora diasporic experience they are writing about their selves and the traumatic experience many of them have gone through in forgetting the past forgiving the damage and foreshadowing a future by re-visioning their selves Their experience represents a generation's quest for an identity of being Chinese but culturally distanced from China As a study of cross cultural human experience through the lens of literature film and other arts this book will not only appeal to students and scholars of Chinese diaspora studies it will also appeal to those with an interest in Chinese literature film and culture

Eileen Chang Kam Louie, 2012-03-01 Eileen Chang 1920 1995 is arguably the most perceptive writer in modern Chinese literature She was one of the most popular writers in 1940s Shanghai but her insistence on writing about individual human relationships and mundane matters rather than revolutionary and political movements meant that in mainland China she was neglected until very recently Outside the mainland her life and writings never ceased to fascinate Chinese readers There are hundreds of works about her in the Chinese language but very few in other languages This is the first work in English to explore her earliest short stories as well as novels that were published posthumously It discusses the translation of her stories for film and stage presentation as well as nonliterary aspects of her life that are essential for a more comprehensive understanding of her writings including her intense concern for privacy and enduring sensitivity to her public image The thirteen essays examine the fidelity and betrayals that dominate her alter ego's relationships with parents and lovers informed by theories and methodologies from a range of disciplines including literary historical gender and film studies These relationships are frequently dramatized in plays and filmic translations of her work
