Riceyman Steps A Novel Oxford Paperbacks:

The Oxford English Literary History: Volume 10: 1910-1940: The Modern Movement Chris Baldick, 2005-11-10 This exciting new volume provides a freshly inclusive account of literature in England in the period before during and after the First World War Chris Baldick places the modernist achievements of Virginia Woolf T S Eliot and James Joyce within the rich context of non modernist writings across all major genres allowing high literary art to be read against the background of low entertainment Looking well beyond the modernist vanguard Baldick highlights the survival and renewal of realist traditions in these decades of post Victorian disillusionment Ranging widely across psychological novels war poems detective stories satires and children s books The Modern Movement provides a unique survey of the literature of this turbulent time

Middlebrow Literary Cultures E. Brown, M. Grover, 2011-11-30 The literary middle ground once dismissed by academia as insignificant is the site of powerful anxieties about cultural authority that continue to this day In short the middlebrow matters These essays examine the prejudices and aspirations at work in the battle of the brows and show that cultural value is always relative and situational

Food, Drink, and the Written Word in Britain, 1820-1945 Mary Addyman, Laura Wood, Christopher Yiannitsaros, 2017-04-21 This volume explores the intersection between culinary history and literature across a period of profound social and cultural change Split into three parts essays focus on the food scandals of the early Victorian era the decadence and greed of late Victorian and Edwardian Britain and the effects of austerity caused by two world wars

Writing disenchantment Andrew Frayn, 2015-11-01 It has become axiomatic that First World War literature was disenchanted or disillusioned and returning combatants were unable to process or communicate that experience In Writing disenchantment Andrew Frayn argues that this was not just about the war non combatants were just as disenchanted as those who fought and writers such as D H Lawrence and Virginia Woolf produced some of the sharpest criticisms Its language already existed in contemporary sociological and historical accounts of the problems of mass culture and the modern city whose structures contained the conflict and were strengthened during it Archival material sales data and reviews are used to chart disenchantment in a wide range of early twentieth century war literature from novels about fears of invasion and pacifism through the modernist novels of the 1920s to its dominance in the War Books Boom of 1928-30 This book will appeal to scholars and students of English literature social and cultural history and gender studies

The Transformation of the Psyche in British Primary Care, 1870-1970 Rhodri Hayward, 2014-02-25 Conflicting models of selfhood have become central to debates over modern medicine Yet we still lack a clear historical account of how this psychological sensibility came to be established The Transformation of the Psyche in British Primary Care 1880-1970 will remedy this situation by demonstrating that there is nothing inevitable about the current connection between health identity and personal history It traces the changing conception of the psyche in Britain over the last two centuries and it demonstrates how these changes were rooted in transformed patterns of medical care The shifts from private medicine through to National Insurance and the National Health Service fostered different kinds of relationship between doctor and patient and different understandings of psychological distress

The Transformation of the Psyche in British Primary Care 1880-1970 examines these transformations and in so doing provides new critical insights into our modern sense of identity and changing notions of health that will be of great value to anyone interested in the modern history of British medicine

A Short History of English Literature Harry Blamires, 2013-02-28 First published in 2012 This work of introduction is designed to escort the reader through some six centuries of English literature It begins in the fourteenth century at the point at which the language written in our country is recognizably our own and ends in the 1950s It is a compact survey summing up the substance and quality of the individual achievements that make up our literature The aim is to leave the reader informed about each writer's main output sensitive to the special character of his gifts and aware of his place in the story of our literature as a whole

Riceyman Steps Arnold Bennett, 1983 Unpacking her trunk she moved about walked stooped knelt rose opened drawers shut drawers with the magnificent movements of a richly developed and powerful body The expression on her mild face and in her dark blue eyes denoted a sweet unconscious resignation No egotism in those features No instinct to fight for her rights and to get all she could out of the universe No apprehension of injustice No resentment against injustice No glimmer of realization that she was the salt of the earth

The Bookseller and the Stationery Trades' Journal, 1923

The 1920s Tamás Béneyi, Shene Boskani, Nick Hubble, 2025-07-24 The particularity of 1920s British fiction has become obscured by an academic focus on modernism This book takes a fresh approach to the decade by examining both canonical writers such as Virginia Woolf and E M Forster as well as less widely studied writers such as A A Milne and Naomi Mitchison From the aftermath of First World War to the Great Depression of 1929 and its political consequences the 1920s were a decade marked by radical social change Internationally there was an ongoing shift of global power and nationally Britain was adjusting to the aftermath of First World War to no longer being the dominant imperial power in the world and to the introduction of universal male suffrage and votes for women over thirty which was extended to those over twenty one in 1928 This volume relates the British fiction of the decade to these contexts in order to reassess and explain trends of the period such as war books fantastic romance literary modernism and new expressions of gender and sexuality A major critical re-evaluation of the decade the book covers such writers as Agatha Christie E M Forster Ethel Mannin Somerset Maugham R H Mottram D H Lawrence Wyndham Lewis A A Milne Hope Mirrlees Naomi Mitchison Dorothy Richardson and Virginia Woolf among others illustrating how their key themes and concerns fit within the social and political circumstances of the decade

Realism, Form, and Representation in the Edwardian Novel Charlotte Jones, 2021-01-07 The real represents to my perception the things that we cannot possibly not know sooner or later in one way or another wrote Henry James in 1907 This description riven with double negatives hesitation and uncertainty encapsulates the epistemological difficulties of realism for underlying its narrative and descriptive apparatus as an aesthetic mode lies a philosophical quandary What grounds the real of the realist novel What kind of perception is required to validate the experience of reality How does the realist novel represent the difficulty of knowing What comes to the fore in James s account as in so many is how the forms of realism are constituted by a relation to unknowing absence and ineffability Realism Form and Representation in the Edwardian Novel recovers a neglected literary history centred on the intricate relationship between fictional representation and philosophical commitment It asks how or if we can conceptualize realist novels when the objects of their representational intentions are realities that might exist beyond what is empirically verifiable by sense data or analytically verifiable by logic and are thus irreducible to conceptual schemes or linguistic practices a formulation Charlotte Jones refers to as synthetic realism In new readings of Edwardian novels including Conrad s Nostromo and The Secret Agent Wells s Tono Bungay and Ford s The Good Soldier this volume revises and reconsiders key elements of realist novel theory metaphor and metonymy character interiority the insignificant detail omniscient narration and free indirect discourse causal linearity to uncover the representational strategies by which realist writers grapple with the recalcitrance of reality as a referential anchor and seek to give form to the force opacity and uncertain scope of realities that may lie beyond the material In restoring a metaphysical dimension to the realist novel s imaginary Realism Form and Representation in the Edwardian Novel offers a new conceptualization of realism both within early twentieth century literary culture and as a transhistorical mode of representation

Writing London J. Wolfreys, 2007-07-12 This book stages a series of interventions and inventions of urban space between 1880 and 1930 in key literary texts of the period Making sharp distinctions between modernity and modernism the volume reassesses the city as a series of singular sites irreducible to stable identities concluding with an extended reading of The Waste Land

English Novel Hist 1895-1920 David Trotter, 2022-02-22 First Published in 1993 Written specifically for students and assuming no prior knowledge of the subject David Trotter s The English Novel in History 1895 1920 provides the first detailed and fully comprehensive analysis of early twentieth century English fiction Whereas all previous studies have been rigorously selective Trotter looks at over 140 novelists across the whole spectrum of fiction from the innovations of Joyce s Ulysses through to popular mass market genres such as detective stories and spy thrillers By examining the novels in both stylistic and historical terms David Trotter looks at the ways in which writers responded to contemporary preoccupations such as the spectacle of consumption and the growth of suburbia or to anxieties about the decline of Empire racial degeneration and sexual anarchy He also challenges the view that literature of the period can be interpreted as a neat procession from realism to Modernism
