According to the other opinion the expectation of the near end created a drive to change the world for the better and thus for innovation Close inspection of the history of prognostication reveals the continuous attempts and multifold methods to recognize and interpret God's will the prodigies of nature and the patterns of time That proves on the one hand the constant human uncertainty facing the contingencies of the future On the other hand it demonstrates the firm belief during the Middle Ages in a future which could be shaped and even manipulated The handbook provides the first overview of current historical research on medieval prognostication It considers the entangled influences and transmissions between Christian Jewish Islamic and non monotheistic societies during the period from a wide range of perspectives An international team of 63 renowned authors from about a dozen different academic disciplines contributed to this comprehensive overview

Arabic Mathematical Sciences Richard Lorch, 2024-12-11 This book deals with the mathematical sciences in medieval Islam and focuses on three main themes The first is that of the translation of texts from Greek into Arabic then from Arabic into Latin and close attention is paid to terminology and comparative vocabulary The other themes are those of the technology of the sphere and of astronomical instruments which are treated both from the mechanical and mathematical point of view Several of the articles combine these themes for instance the study of the self rotating sphere of al Khazini 12th century or that on the transmission of spherical trigonometry to the West Four articles also contain substantial texts with translation and commentary Reappraisals in Renaissance Thought Charles B. Schmitt, Charles Webster, 2024-10-28 This third collection of Charles Schmitt's articles complements the previous two and consists largely of studies published in the last few years of his life It therefore contains his mature reflections on central issues in the fields of Renaissance philosophy and science as well as important new research findings The main subjects are Aristotelianism and Scepticism and the history of medicine and natural philosophy Some articles assess the place of traditional elements in the work of major scientific innovators such as Galileo or Harvey others make available new sources of documentation and show the significance of writings others had not deigned to look at Charles Schmitt's insistence that Renaissance thought should be reconstructed in terms faithful to the value systems of the period also led to an increasing interest in the socio economic context of philosophical speculation reflected here in the studies on the University of Pisa in the 16th century Antiquarian Horology and the Proceedings of the Antiquarian Horological Society, 1974 The Culture of Medieval English Monasticism James G. Clark, 2007

Examinations of the culture artistic material musical of English monasteries in the six centuries between the Conquest and the Dissolution The cultural remains of England s abbeys and priories have always attracted scholarly attention but too often they have been studied in isolation appreciated only for their artistic codicological or intellectual features and not for the insights they offer into the patterns of life and thought the underlying norms values and mentalit of the communities of men and women which made them Indeed the distinguished monastic historian David Knowles doubted there would ever be sufficient evidence to recover the mentality of the ordinary cloister monk These twelve essays challenge this view They exploit newly catalogued and newly discovered evidence manuscript books wall paintings and even the traces of original monastic music to recover the cultural dynamics of a cross section of male and female communities It is often claimed that over time the cultural traditions of the monasteries were suffocated by secular trends but here it is suggested that many houses remained a major cultural force even on the verge of the Reformation James G Clark is Professor of History at the University of Exeter Contributors DAVID BELL ROGER BOWERS JAMES CLARK BARRIE COLLETT MARY ERLER G R EVANS MIRIAM GILL JOAN GREATER JULIAN HASELDINE J D NORTH ALAN PIPER AND R M THOMSON The History of Mathematics from Antiquity to the Present Joseph W.
