Richard Burton Explorer Of Arabia And Africa:

Paths Without Glory James L. Newman, 2009-12-31 Few people have garnered so much enduring interest as Sir Richard Burton. A true polymath, Burton is best known today for his translations of the Kama Sutra and Arabian Nights. Yet Africa stood at the center of his adult life. The Burton Speke expedition, 1856-59, that put Lake Tanganyika on the map led to years of controversy over the source of the White Nile. From 1861 to 1864, Burton served as British consul in Fernando Po and traveled widely between Ghana and Angola. He wrote prodigiously and contributed some of the first detailed ethnographic accounts of Africa's peoples. In many ways, however, Africa proved to be Burton's undoing. Injuries and sickness sapped his strength; he made enemies in high places; and ironically, even the discovery of Lake Tanganyika worked to his disadvantage. Increasingly frustrated and bitter, he turned to alcohol as a frequent remedy. In this fascinating story of the relationship between a man and a continent, geographer James L. Newman provides an intimate portrait of Burton through careful examination of his journals and biographers' rich analyses. Delving deepest into Burton's later life and travels, Newman pinpoints the thematic mainstays of his career as a diplomat and explorer: namely, his strong advocacy of aggressive imperial policies and his belief that race explained crucial human differences. Historians and scholars of the golden age of empire, as well as armchair adventurers, will not only discover what defined this famously enigmatic figure but venture themselves into the heart of mid-nineteenth-century Africa.

First Footsteps in East Africa Richard Burton, 2011-07-07 A British explorer's 1856 account of the slave trading city of Harar in East Africa, previously unvisited by Europeans.

Explorers DK, 2010-09-20 From the first people to leave Africa to the first to leave the planet, the urge to explore the unknown has driven human progress. Explorers tells the story of humanity's explorations, taking the reader into the lives of some of the most intrepid people ever known. Throughout history, exploration has arisen from a wide range of impulses: from trade and the search for lands to colonize, to scientific curiosity, and missionary zeal. This book tells the story of explorers of every type, from those chasing glory to those seeking enlightenment. In its pages, readers will meet some of history's most famous trail blazers: people whose courage opened frontiers, turned voids into maps, forged nations, connected cultures, and added to humankind's knowledge of the world by leaps and bounds. Each life is captured in context by considering the knowledge of the world in which the explorers lived, the factors that gave rise to their expeditions, and the technology available to them at the time. Their discoveries and the consequences are also considered in depth and highlighted with beautiful maps, photographs, and illustrations. The tales of the explorers' assistants and companions are woven into the overall story, along with an examination of the qualities that made them drop everything in pursuit of discovery.

The Life of Sir Richard Burton Thomas Wright, 2023-09-18 In The Life of Sir Richard Burton by Thomas Wright, readers are invited into the fascinating world of one of the most complex and intriguing figures of the 19th century. Wright presents a detailed account of Burton's life focusing on his pioneering travels, controversial beliefs, and literary achievements. The book's narrative style is engaging and informative, offering a mix of biography, travelogue, and cultural analysis that sheds light on Burton's contributions to exploration and ethnography. Wright's meticulous research and insightful commentary make this biography an essential read for anyone interested in Victorian literature and the history of travel writing. Thomas Wright, a respected biographer and historian, brings a nuanced understanding of Burton's life and legacy to this work. His expertise in the Victorian era and literary figures such as Burton shines through in the rich and detailed account he provides. I highly recommend The Life of Sir Richard Burton to readers who enjoy biographies, travel literature, and 19th-century history. Wright's masterful storytelling and thorough exploration of Burton's life make this book a valuable addition to any library. Africa

Pan-African Chronology II Everett Jenkins, Jr., 2011-02-28 This continuation volume of the Pan African Chronology set covers the most significant events in the African diaspora from the end of the American Civil War through the pre-World War I years. This was a time of great change for black Americans: Reconstruction, the founding of the NAACP, the formation of the separate but equal doctrine, and the migration of blacks from the rural South to Northern cities. The eradication of slavery as a legalized institution was finally realized in the Americas, while the struggle to end it in Asia was also taking place. European colonialism in Africa was accelerated, ironically coinciding with humanitarian efforts to end the slave trade on the African continent. These events and many others are covered here.

Biographical Dictionary of Explorers Alan Wexler, Jon Cunningham, 2019-06-01 An informative, fascinating resource suitable for students, researchers, and general readers, this biographical dictionary is a who was who of world and space explorers, giving readers a sense of the human drama, the achievements, and the challenges that those who go where few or none have gone before must face. The explorers covered include Jacques Cousteau, Sir Vivian Fuchs, John Glenn Jr., Aleksei Leonov, Annie Peck, Valentina Tereshkova, and many more.

Black Jews in Africa and the Americas Tudor Parfitt, 2013-02-04 Parfitt explains how many African peoples came to think of themselves as descendants of the ancient tribes of Israel. Pursuing medieval and modern race narratives over a millennium in which Jews were cast as black and black Africans were cast as Jews, he reveals a complex interaction between religious and racial labels and their political uses.

The Last Blank Spaces Dane Kennedy, 2013-03-01 The challenge of opening Africa and Australia to British imperial influence fell to a coterie of proto-professional explorers who sought knowledge, adventure, and fame but often experienced confusion, fear, and failure. Kennedy follows the arc of these explorations from idea to practice, intention to outcome, myth to reality.

A Military History of Africa Timothy J. Stapleton, 2013-10-21 A detailed and thorough chronological overview of the history of warfare and military structures in Africa, covering ancient times to the present day. A Military History of Africa achieves a daunting task: it synthesizes decades of specialized academic research and literature, including the most recent material, to offer an accessible survey of Africa's military history from the earliest times to the present day. The first volume examines the precolonial period.

beginning with warfare in ancient North Africa including ancient Egypt and Carthage and continues through the cavalry based Muslim empires of the trans Sahara trade and the wars of the slave trade in West and East Africa The second volume focuses on the wars of European colonial conquest and African resistance during the late 19th century African participation in both world wars and the early violent struggles for independence from the 1950s and early 1960s The third volume explores warfare in postcolonial Africa including coverage of the impact of the global Cold War conflicts in Southern Africa from the 1960s to 1980s the development of postcolonial African armed forces and civil wars sparked by the discovery of precious resources such as diamonds in Sierra Leone Readers of this three volume work will understand how warfare and military structures have been consistently central to the development of African societies Ethnic Identity and Development S. Beckerleg,2010-06-07 This book presents data on Ugandan khat within the context of international debates on the drug and the proposed ban in 2009 By telling of the story of khat the book will serve as a vehicle for the analysis of social change development priorities and shifting ethnic identities in Uganda over the last 80 years The Life of Captain Sir Richd. F. Burton Lady Isabel Burton,1893 Heart of Darkness - Ed. Peters Joseph Conrad,2018-12-27 Heart of Darkness is based upon Joseph Conrad s own experience in the Congo it is as he remarks in his 1916 author s note to Youth A Narrative and Two Other Stories experience pushed a little and only very little beyond the actual facts Unlike many other editions this new edition of Conrad s most famous tale focuses on the time in which Conrad was himself in the Congo while also exploring the differences between his reported experiences and their reshaping in fiction This edition includes an extensive selection of Conrad s correspondence and autobiographical writing as well as contemporary accounts of the Congo from other writers Contemporary reviews situate Heart of Darkness in its literary contexts Victorian Attitudes to Race Christine Bolt,2013-10-28 During the nineteenth century there emerged in England an increasingly hostile view of ethnic minorities Dr Bolt traces from about 1850 the changing attitudes of Victorians to inferior races especially on black Africans

THE CRIMEAN WAR Ruben Ygua,2025-04-09 Traditional methods of studying the past have always given greater importance to nationalist religious and moral interests which subordinated the historical fact to the System point of view The time has come to simplify and show respect for our ancestors striving to know what really happened in the past and not just what they want to inform us about After so many years of studying History I came to the conclusion that the best study system is through an impartial objective Chronology that just put each event in its exact place in time revealing History without manipulation This Chronology contains not only purely political facts such as the foundation of cities the birth of kingdoms and empires scientific and geographical discoveries natural disasters and epidemics it also includes information on the most different fields of human activity chemistry astronomy geography mathematics and so on In parallel the chronology is complemented by data that do not belong to a specific date but to an entire epoch they are each society generalities curiosities customs the religion of each civilization inventions or discoveries that cannot be placed in an exact date etc The result of all this set is one of the most complete chronologies within its reach periodically updated with the latest archaeological and scientific discoveries and that transforms the reader into an eyewitness of the past understanding the relation of geographically distant facts to each other but closely connected in time and influencing unexpected consequences This is something that traditional history has generally ignored when it was not usable A work of this magnitude could not be published in a single book so I have divided it into several collections and the Spanish originals are being translated into French English Italian and Portuguese The chronology goes from prehistory to the present day year by year as far as possible For those who prefer a deeper and more detailed study I have prepared a second chronology day by day which for now covers from 1789 to 1946 divided into five collections German in the World Benedict Schofield, James R. Hodkinson, 2020 Weighs the value of Germanophone culture and its study in an age of globalization transnationalism and academic change

Africa and the World Lewis H. Gann, Peter Duignan, 1999 First published in 1972 Africa and the World places the African past within the wider context of world events while providing a wealth of geographical and ethnographic information about the continent The book specifically focuses on the pre colonial and early colonial history of sub Saharan Africa Designed for those interested in the impact of Europe on the non Western world the volume provides an account of the major economic and social factors that have shaped African history Information from studies in anthropology archaeology history and art are included as well Africa and the World is an essential and accessible resource for those interested in world history or African studies

Ordinary Sudan, 1504-2019 Elena Vezzadini, Iris Seri-Hersch, Lucie Revilla, Anael Poussier, Mahassin Abdul Jalil, 2023-07-24 This book starts from the premise that the study of exceptionally normal women and men as conceived by microhistory has radical implications for understanding history and politics and applies this notion to Sudan Against a historiography dominated by elite actors and international agents it examines both how ordinary people have brought about the most important political shifts in the country's history including the recent revolution in 2019 and how they have played a role in maintaining authoritarian regimes It also explores how men and women have led their daily lives through a web of ordinary worries desires and passions The book includes contributions by historians anthropologists and political scientists who often have a dual commitment to Middle Eastern and African studies While focusing on the complexity and nuances of Sudanese local lives in both the past and the present it also connects Sudan and South Sudan with broader regional global and imperial trends The book is divided into two volumes and six parts ordered thematically The first part tackles the entanglement between archives social history and power The second focuses on women's agency in history and politics from the Funj era to the recent 2018 2019 revolution Part 3 includes contributions on the history and global connections of the Sudanese armed forces In the second volume part 4 intersects the themes of urban life leisure and colonial attitudes with queerness In part 5 labour identities practices and institutions are discussed both in urban milieus and against the background of war and expropriation in rural areas Finally part 6 studies the construction of social consent under various self styled Islamic regimes as well as the emergence of alternative imaginaries and acts of citizenship in times of political openness The Exploration of Africa Jean de La Guérivière, 2003 A beautifully designed lavishly illustrated large format book that documents the daring and merciless history of exploration on the continent of Africa Though the mouth of the Congo river was discovered by Portuguese explorers in 1483 much of the African continent remained terra incognita until the eighteenth century when
