Cultural Robotics: Social Robots and Their Emergent Cultural Ecologies Belinda J. Dunstan, Jeffrey T. K. V. Koh, Deborah Turnbull Tillman, Scott Andrew Brown, 2023-05-11 This edited collection approaches the field of social robotics from the perspective of a cultural ecology, fostering a deeper examination of the reach of robotic technology into the lived experience of diverse human populations as well as the impact of human cultures on the development and design of these social agents. To address the broad topic of Cultural Robotics, the book is sectioned into three focus areas: Human Futures, Assistive Technologies, and Creative Platforms and their Communities. The Human Futures section includes chapters on the histories and future of social robot morphology, design, sensory and sonic interaction with robots, technology ethics, material explorations of embodiment, and robotic performed sentience. The Assistive Technologies section presents chapters from community-led teams and researchers working to adopt a strengths-based approach to designing assistive technologies for those with disability or neurodivergence. Importantly, this section contains work written by authors belonging to those communities. Creative Platforms and their Communities looks to the creative cross-disciplinary researchers adopting robotics within their art practices, those contributing creatively to more traditional robotics research, and the testing of robotics in non-traditional platforms such as museum and gallery spaces. Cultural Robotics: Social Robots and their Emergent Cultural Ecologies makes a case for the development of social robotics to be increasingly informed by community-led transdisciplinary research to be decentralised and democratised, shaped by teams with a diversity of backgrounds informed by both experts and non experts and tested in both traditional and non traditional platforms In this way the field of cultural robotics as an ecological approach to encompassing the widest possible spectrum of human experience in the development of social robotics can be advanced

Intelligent Systems: Safety, Reliability and Maintainability Issues Okyay Kaynak, Ger Honderd, Edward Grant, 2012-12-06 This book is a collection of some of the papers that were presented during a NATO Advanced Research Workshop ARW on Intelligent Systems Safety Reliability and Maintainability Issues that was held in Kusadasi Turkey during August 24-28 1992 Attendance at this workshop was mainly by invitation only drawing people internationally representing industry government and the academic community Many of the participants were internationally recognized leaders in the topic of the workshop The purpose of the ARW was to bring together a highly distinguished group of people with the express purpose of debating where the issues of safety reliability and maintainability place direct and tangible constraints on the development of intelligent systems As a consequence one of the major debating points in the ARW was the definition of intelligence intelligent behaviour and their relation to complex dynamic systems Two major conclusions evolved from the ARW are 1 A continued need exists to develop formal theoretical frameworks for the architecture of such systems together with a reflection on the concept of intelligence 2 There is a need to focus greater attention to the role that the human play in controlling intelligent systems The workshop began by considering the typical features of an intelligent system The complexity associated with multi resolutional architectures was then discussed leading to the identification of a necessity for the use of a combinatorial synthesis approach This was followed by a session on human interface issues

Construction robots for project tracking Charles Nehme, The construction industry is undergoing a remarkable transformation For decades project tracking relied heavily on manual inspections spreadsheets and subjective reporting methods that while reliable often led to inefficiencies delays and budget overruns But today the rise of construction robotics is redefining how we manage monitor and optimize complex building projects This book Construction Robots for Project Tracking Revolutionizing Site Management explores how cutting edge robotic technologies are reshaping the construction landscape From autonomous rovers scanning job sites with precision to drones capturing real time progress from above these machines are more than just tools they are becoming indispensable partners in delivering safer faster and more efficient projects As someone deeply passionate about engineering innovation I believe understanding these advancements is crucial not only for large scale contractors but also for small and mid sized firms looking to stay competitive in a rapidly evolving market Through this book I aim to provide readers with practical insights into how construction robots work their applications for real time project tracking and the broader implications for quality assurance safety and cost efficiency Throughout these pages we ll examine the technologies behind construction robotics discuss real world case studies and look ahead to what the future holds Whether you are a project manager site engineer or technology enthusiast my hope is that this book serves as a valuable guide for embracing innovation and driving progress in your projects Thank you for joining me on this journey into the future of construction management Let s build smarter together Charles Nehme
