Roger Fenton Pasha Bayadere:

Roger Fenton Gordon Baldwin, 1996-09-26 Roger Fenton's photograph Pasha and Bayadere is a fascinating image in its own right and is an expression of a more general Orientalist craze that grew steadily stronger during the nineteenth century in Europe. In his rich and detailed study Baldwin explains how this image of a seated man and a dancing woman embodies themes and motifs that can be found in the work of nineteenth-century artists from Eugène Delacroix to John Frederick Lewis to Alfred Lord Tennyson. He has also brought to light significant new information about the life and career of Fenton, the important Victorian photographer best known for his photographs of the Crimean War.

Encyclopedia of Nineteenth-Century Photography John Hannavy, 2013-12-16 The Encyclopedia of Nineteenth-Century Photography is the first comprehensive encyclopedia of world photography up to the beginning of the twentieth century. It sets out to be the standard definitive reference work on the subject for years to come. Its coverage is global, an important first in that authorities from all over the world have contributed their expertise and scholarship towards making this a truly comprehensive publication. The Encyclopedia presents new and ground-breaking research alongside accounts of the major established figures in the nineteenth-century arena. Coverage includes all the key people, processes, equipment, movements, styles, debates, and groupings which helped photography develop from being a solution in search of a problem when first invented to the essential communication tool, creative medium, and recorder of everyday life which it had become by the dawn of the twentieth century. The sheer breadth of coverage in the 1200 essays makes the Encyclopedia of Nineteenth-Century Photography an essential reference source for academics, students, researchers, and libraries worldwide.

Orientalism and Representations of Music in the Nineteenth-Century British Popular Arts Claire Mabilat, 2017-07-05 Representations of music were employed to create a wider Orient on the pages, stages, and walls of nineteenth-century Britain. This book explores issues of orientalism, otherness, gender, and sexuality that arise in artistic British representations of non-European musicians during this time by utilizing recent theories of orientalism and the subsidiary, particularly aesthetic and literary theories, both on which these theories were based and on which they have been influential. The author uses this theoretical framework of orientalism as a form of othering in order to analyse primary source materials and in conjunction with musicological, literary, and art theories thus explores ways in which ideas of the Other were transformed over time and between different genres and artists. Part I: The Musical Stage discusses elements of the libretti of popular musical stage works in this period and the occasionally contradictory ways in which racial Others were represented through text and music; a particular focus is the depiction of Oriental women and ideas of sexuality. Through examination of this collection of libretti, the ways in which the writers of these works filter and romanticize the changing intellectual ideas of this era are explored. Part II: Works of Fiction is a close study of the works of Sir Henry Rider Haggard using other examples.

of popular fiction by his contemporary writers as contextualizing material with the primary concern being to investigate how music is utilized in popular fiction to represent Other non Europeans and in the creation of orientalised gender constructions

Part III Visual Culture is an analysis of images of music and the Orient in examples of British high art illustration and photography investigating how the musical Other was visualized Harem Histories Marilyn Booth, 2010 An interdisciplinary collection of essays exploring the harem as it was imagined represented and experienced in Middle Eastern and North African societies and by visitors to those societies All the Mighty World Gordon Baldwin, Malcolm R.
