Roles Speakers Play:

Teachers' Roles in Second Language Learning Bogum Yoon, Hoe Kyeung Kim, 2012-09-01 This book is designed to provide practical applications of sociocultural theory with regard to teachers' roles in second language education. By providing specific examples of teachers' roles in the classroom, the book aims to help researchers, teacher educators, and classroom teachers make clear connections between practice and theory in second language learning. All the studies in this edited book are conducted in the PreK-16 classroom setting. Each chapter presents rigorous research analysis within the framework of sociocultural theory and provides rich descriptions of teachers' roles. The book is intended to be used in teacher education courses. The primary audience of the book is in-service teachers who work with second language learners (SLLs) in their classrooms, including ESL/Bilingual classrooms or regular classrooms. Since many SLLs receive instructions both in the ESL/Bilingual classrooms and in the regular classrooms, it is important to discuss teachers' roles in both settings. The secondary audience of the book is teacher educators and researchers who work with pre-service and in-service teachers in teacher education. This book will be an excellent resource for book study groups and practitioners working with professional learning communities.

The Speaker and the Budget Daniel J. Palazzolo, 2010-11-23 One of the most important changes in Congress in decades were the extensive congressional reforms of the 1970s which moved the congressional budget process into the focus of congressional policy making and shifted decision making away from committees. This overwhelming attention to the federal budget allowed party leaders to emerge as central decision makers. Palazzolo traces the changing nature of the Speaker of the House's role in the congressional budget process from the passage of the Budget and Impoundment Control Act of 1974 through the 100th Congress in 1988. As the deficit grew and budget politics became more partisan in the 1980s, the Speaker became more involved in policy-related functions such as setting budget priorities and negotiating budget agreements with Senate leaders and the president. Consequently, the Speaker's role as leader of the institution was subordinated to his role as a party leader.

Speech and Computer Alexey Karpov, Oliver Jokisch, Rodmunga Potapova, 2018-09-10 This book constitutes the proceedings of the 20th International Conference on Speech and Computer SPECOM 2018 held in Leipzig, Germany, in September 2018. The 79 papers presented in this volume were carefully reviewed and selected from 132 submissions. The papers present current research in the area of computer speech processing, including recognition, synthesis, understanding, and related domains like signal processing, language, and text processing, computational paralinguistics, multi-modal speech processing, or human-computer interaction.

Translanguaging for Equal Opportunities János Imre Heltai, Eszter Tarsoly, 2023-06-19 This multi-authored monograph, located in the intersection of translanguaging research and Romani studies, offers a state-of-the-art analysis of the ways in which translanguaging supports bilingual Roma students' learning in monolingual school systems. Complete with a video repository of translanguaging classroom moments, this comprehensive study is based on long-term participatory ethnographic research and a pedagogical implementation.

project undertaken in Hungary and Slovakia by a group of primary teachers bilingual Roma participants and researchers Co written by academic and non academic participants the book is an essential reading for researchers pre and in service teachers of Romani speaking students and experts working with collaborators learners informants activists whose home languages are excluded from mainstream education and school curricula The videofiles in the book are available via the following website <http://www.kre.hu/romanitranslanguaging/index.php> video repository Request Strategies Yong-Ju Rue, Grace Qiao Zhang, 2008 This book investigates request strategies in Mandarin Chinese and Korean and is one of the first attempts to address cross cultural strategies employed in the speech act of requests in two non Western languages The data drawn from role plays and naturally recorded conversations complement each other in terms of exhaustiveness and authenticity This study explores the similarities and differences of the request patterns that emerged in the Chinese and Korean data and the intricate relation between request strategies and social factors such as power and distance The findings raise questions about the influence of methodology on data and the applicability of so called universals to East Asian languages They also offer new insights into generally held ideas of directness and requesting behaviours in Chinese and Korean and the problems of cross cultural and cross linguistic communication This research is suggestive for the disciplines of cross cultural pragmatics cross cultural communication contrastive linguistics applied linguistics and discourse analysis
