Loss and Found Gary Young, Kathy Young, 2002-01 An uplifting must read in the most neglected area of self help for the seven million young widows and widowers in this country their families friends counselors clergy and more Young widowhood is maddening sad funny confusing enlightening liberating surprising frustrating supernatural sexless sexy Honest and detailed from both the male and female perspective Not a sitcom Its real Heres real help How to Survive the Loss of a Child Catherine Sanders, 1998-03-18 Thank you Catherine Sanders for giving us a book that few others could have written Every page speaks both the depth of your compassion and the breadth of your knowledge This book will be a wise companion on the difficult journey from loss to recovery Robert Kastenbaum Ph D author of The Psychology of Death How to Survive the Loss of a Child is a godsend to those in the field as well as to those of us in need of such a resource for our own mourning Eugene Knott Ph D University of Rhode Island Dr Sanders insights are profound and poignant Patricia Geiger M D pediatrician Boone North Carolina Thank you so much for all that you do for bereaved parents but especially for writing How to Survive the Loss of a Child I know that it has changed lives It changed mine Nancy Ulmer bereaved parent Kindermourn Charlotte North Carolina It is only through experiencing grief that bereaved parents ultimately heal Moving through the phases of grief the bereaved person works toward restoration Understanding these phases knowing what to expect and learning what they can do to help themselves give parents greater assurance and comfort In How to Survive the Loss of a Child Dr Sanders a bereaved parent herself offers grieving parents practical help and emotional support This book also helps family members friends and caregivers relate to grieving parents and aids them too in understanding the process of healing through grief Loss, Survive, Thrive Meryl Hershey Beck, 2019-11-22 No one is prepared for the loss of a child No one It feels completely unnatural for children to predecease their parents Although it is not widely known each year there are over 135 000 under 40 year old deaths in the U S alone And according to one study 19% of parents outlive their children often carrying the weight of horrendous grief to their own graves Isolated and alone is how parents often describe the grief process Well meaning friends and family members usually rush to their side in the beginning Once the floral arrangements have wilted and the dinners from caring friends diminish there isn t really much that can be said to bring comfort to a suffering parent especially if those friends haven t experienced it themselves Unfortunately when these caring friends do bring up the loss quite often they say the wrong things Loss Survive Thrive offers a lifeline of hope Each chapter is an inspirational story written by a parent who also experienced the agony of losing a child reclaimed his her vitality and is now living a fulfilling life Every story is authentic and heartfelt designed to uplift and inspire The collective authors reach out through the pages to virtually hold hands with those who are suffering We the contributors have all been there We know their pain and we know about survival And now through our stories we offer comfort and support in helping them get through the toughest time of their lives Bereaved parents share an unspeakable bond And Loss Survive Thrive imparts

Public Health Reports ,1941 Coping With Loss Susan Nolen-Hoeksema,Judith Larson,Judith M. Larson,2013-01-11 Coping With Loss describes the many ways in which people cope with the death of someone they love Most earlier books on bereavement have fallen into two categories distillations of the clinical experience of individual therapists or collections of chapters reporting the results of empirical studies Each category is valuable but has tended to serve a narrow group of readers practitioners with particular theoretical orientations or researchers in quest of the latest findings Coauthored by a leading research psychologist and an experienced therapist who specializes in bereavement education and intervention this book is different The authors weave together the strands of theory research and clinical wisdom into a seamless and readable narrative While they discuss previous work they also present new data never before published from one of the largest studies of bereaved people ever conducted the Bereavement Coping Project Unlike most studies to date which focused on only one type of bereaved group usually widows or widowers the Bereavement Coping Project examined the experiences of several different groups during the first 18 months after the death The groups included those who had lost a spouse a parent an adult sibling or a child and those who had lost their significant other to cancer or cardiovascular disease on one hand as opposed to the stigmatized disease of AIDS on the other The book begins with a critical overview of theories of bereavement succeeding chapters explore in depth the impact of specific types of loss the impact of particular coping strategies on recovery the impact of social supports and religion and the special cases of children and of people who seem to grow and change for the better after a loss A final chapter considers implications for intervention with bereaved people Each chapter is richly illuminated with real life examples throughout and ends with a section called Voices in which bereaved people describe their various attempts to cope in their own words Insightful and informative every life changing event from death to health concerns to dislocation to relationship breakdown to betrayal to natural disaster to faith issues Yet while we know about particular events of loss independently we know very little about a psychology of loss that draws many adversities together This universal experience of loss as a concept in its own right sheds light on so much of the work we do in the care of others This book develops a new overarching framework to understand loss and grief taking into account both pathological and wellbeing approaches to the subject Drawing on international and cross disciplinary research Judith Murray highlights nine common themes of loss helping us to understand how it is experienced These themes are then used to develop a practice framework for structuring assessment and intervention systematically Throughout the book this generic approach is highlighted through discussing its use in different loss events such as bereavement trauma chronic illness and with children or older people Having been used in areas as diverse as child protection palliative care and refugee care the framework can be tailored to a range of needs and levels of care Caring for people experiencing loss is an integral part of the work of helping professions whether it is explicitly part of their work such as in counselling or implicit as in social work nursing teaching medicine and community work This text is an important guide for anyone working in these areas The Myth of Lost Marc Oromaner,2008 Explores how the television show Lost by deciphering some of the mysteries of the show can reveal the answer to our own mysteries of life and introduce us to a new way of thinking
