

A promotional image for the TV show 'Lost in Space'. In the center, a young boy with brown hair, wearing a blue and orange space suit with a large orange backpack, looks back over his shoulder with a concerned expression. He is standing in a dark, cavernous space with stalactites hanging from the ceiling. In the background, several other characters in space suits are visible, standing in a line. The overall lighting is dim and blue-toned.

1999: A Space Odyssey John K Balor,2018-08-03 Part of the premise of the online discussion transcribed in this book is how Gerry Anderson's television series Space 1999 can be understood in relation to Stanley Kubrick's 2001 A Space Odyssey by looking at both narratives through the perspective of systems theory As a result of doing so an engaged debate concerned with the political and philosophical subtext of both stories developed This book gives a full account of the debate with summaries of ideas and insights The book has been developed on an idealistic basis It is sold at the lowest price the publisher was willing to accept A free e book version can be downloaded at www.lulu.com Antarctica and the Secret Space Program David Childress,2020-05-20 David Childress popular author and star of the History Channel show Ancient Aliens brings us the incredible tale of Nazi submarines and secret weapons in Antarctica and elsewhere He looks into the strange life and death of Rudolf Hess as well as the mystery of James Forrestal and the secret group called MJ 12 He examines Operation Highjump led by Admiral Richard Byrd in 1947 and the battle that he apparently had in Antarctica with flying saucers Through Operation Paperclip the Nazis infiltrated aerospace companies banking media and the US government including NASA and the CIA after WWII He reveals that the Nazis had built secret bases in a variety of places during WWII including Greenland the Canary Islands Tibet and Antarctica Childress discusses the secret U boat fleet that patrolled the Atlantic and Antarctic Oceans for decades after the war He looks into the secret German space program and its flying disks and tubular aircraft the secret technology involved including anti gravity propulsion technology underground and under ice bases strange things happening in South America and secret bases on the Moon and Mars Childress looks at the possible merger of Nazi assets in Antarctic with the Americans and the use of Antarctica as a space base for traffic to secret space stations in orbit and below the surface of the Moon The author looks at military space programs such as Solar Warden Lunex and Project Horizon Does the US Space Force have a secret space program that maintains huge ships in orbit around the Earth and employs hundreds of astronauts as crew for these vehicles Includes a 16 page color section Lost and Found in Translation Martha J. Cutter,2006-05-18 Starting with Salman Rushdie's assertion that even though something is always lost in translation something can always be gained Martha Cutter examines the trope of translation in twenty English language novels and autobiographies by contemporary ethnic American writers She argues that these works advocate a politics of language diversity a literary and social agenda that validates the multiplicity of ethnic cultures and tongues in the United States Cutter studies works by Asian American Native American African American and Mexican American authors She argues that translation between cultures languages and dialects creates a new language that in its diversity constitutes the true heritage of the United States Through the metaphor of translation Cutter demonstrates writers such as Maxine Hong

Kingston Sherman Alexie Toni Morrison and Richard Rodriguez establish a place within American society for the many languages spoken by multiethnic and multicultural individuals Cutter concludes with an analysis of contemporary debates over language policy such as English only legislation the recognition of Ebonics and the growing acceptance of bilingualism The focus on translation by so many multiethnic writers she contends offers hope in our postmodern culture for a new condition in which creatively fused languages renovate the communications of the dominant society and create new kinds of identity for multicultural individuals
