The Preservation Management Handbook Ross Harvey,Martha R. Mahard,2014-04-10 Cultural heritage professionals museum curators museum professionals archivists and librarians work with their specialized knowledge to prioritize the needs of their collections Preservation managers draw on experts in climate control fire safety pest management and more in developing the large overview of a collection and its needs And all the special materials within the collections have their experts too Here in one volume is a wide range of topic specific expertise that comprises both an enduring text for preservation students as well as an essential one stop reference for cultural heritage professionals particularly those in small to medium sized organizations where resources are limited and professional help is not always at hand The editors introduce the reader to the essential tools and principles of a preservation management program in the twenty first century addressing the realities of diverse collections and materials and embracing the challenges of working with both analog and digital collections The sections on planning and managing a preservation program contain the basic starting point for any kind of collection regardless of size and content Written with the small collection in mind the principles are nevertheless scalable and widely applicable

Preservation Management for Libraries, Archives and Museums G. E. Gorman, Sydney J. Shep, 2006 Memory institutions such as libraries archives galleries and museums all share pressing concerns about preserving heritage whether in the form of material and documentary cultural artefacts in collections or in the form of new digitally born material Recent incidents of natural disaster and cultural genocide together with the global turn to digitization have forced librarians archivists and curators to rethink and restructure their primary modes of operation Preservation management now sits at the top of the agenda for heritage institutions around the world as collection development policies and practices are negotiated between libraries museums archives funding agencies and governments Historically separate cultural institutions are now converging to share limited resources develop compatible ideologies and co ordinate distributed collections This forward looking collection charts the diversity of preservation management in the contemporary information landscape and offers guidance on preservation methods for the sustainability of collections from a range of international experts The authors are connected to a wide international network of professional associations and NGOs and have been selected not only for their specific expertise but for the contribution they are making to the future of preservation management The chapters cover managing the documentary heritage issues for the present and future preservation policy and planning intangible heritage museums and preservation surrogacy and the artefact moving with the times in search of permanence a valuation model for paper conservation research preservation of audiovisual media traditional to interactive formats challenges of managing the digitally born artefact preserving cultural heritage in times of conflict access and the social contract in memory institutions redefining the collection in the 21st century Readership There is urgent need for heritage management initiatives and robust disaster planning that will safeguard our cultural heritage and recognize the right of the end user to ownership of it This is an informed and essential guide to managing collection and preservation strategies for anyone working in the library archive museum or broader cultural heritage sectors
