Mister The Training Of An Aviation Cadet In World War II:

Mister Eugene Fletcher, 1992-01-01 without a casualty Fletcher's Gang provided an unforgettable portrait of daily life at the height of aerial war in Europe Mister explains with the same humor and humanity how the Army trained the crews capable of such feats Central Coast Aviators in World War II Jim Gregory, 2014-10-21 A tribute to the heroism shown by military pilots and aircrew from rural California towns who risked their lives and made their mark on American history During World War II thousands of volunteer combat aviators trained at places like Cal Poly in San Luis Obispo and Hancock Field in Santa Maria Some air cadets and WASPs young women pilots lost their lives in training accidents The graduates would go on to fight in both the Pacific and European theaters They faced flak bursts and collisions that resulted in horrifying explosions and were sent on strafing runs that made them targets in a lethal shooting gallery Downed airmen encountered both unexpected kindness and cruel deprivation as prisoners of war Through interviews and official records Jim Gregory tells the stories of heroic Central Coast veterans who fought a war that stretched from New Guinea to North Africa Training to Fly - Military Flight Training 1907-1945 Cameron, Rebecca Hancock, 2018-09-30 Air Force book is an institutional history of flight training by the predecessor organizations of the United States Air Force The U S Army purchased its first airplane built and successfully flown by Orville and Wilbur Wright in 1909 and placed both lighter and heavier than air aeronautics in the Division of Military Aeronautics of the Signal Corps As pilots and observers in the Air Service of the American Expeditionary Forces Americans flew combat missions in France during the Great War In the first postwar decade airmen achieved a measure of recognition with the establishment of the Air Corps and during World War II the Army Air Forces attained equal status with the Army Ground Forces During this first era of military aviation as described by Rebecca Cameron in Training to Fly the groundwork was laid for the independent United States Air Force Those were Flying with the Fifteenth Air Force Tom Faulkner, 2018-11-15 In 1944 and 1945 Tom Faulkner was a B 24 pilot flying out of San Giovanni airfield in Italy as a member of the 15th Air Force of the U S Army Air Forces Only 19 years old when he completed his 28th and last mission Tom was one of the youngest bomber pilots to serve in the U S Army Air Forces during World War II Between September 1944 and the end of February 1945 he flew against targets in Hungary Germany Italy Austria and Yugoslavia On Tom's last mission against the marshalling yards at Augsburg Germany his plane was severely damaged and he had to fly to Switzerland where he and his crew were interned The 15th Air Force generally has been overshadowed by works on the 8th Air Force based in England Faulkner's memoir helps fill an important void by providing a first hand account of a pilot and his crew during the waning months of the war as well as a description of his experiences before his military service David L Snead has edited the memoir and provided annotations and corroboration for the various missions

Military Flight Training -Training to Fly Cameron, Rebecca Hancock, 2018-09-30 The volume at hand Training to Fly Military Flight Training 1907 1945 is an institutional history of flight training by the predecessor organizations of the United States Air Force The U S Army purchased its first airplane built and successfully flown by Orville and Wilbur Wright in 1909 and placed both lighter and heavier than air aeronautics in the Division of Military Aeronautics of the Signal Corps As pilots and observers in the Air Service of the American Expeditionary Forces Americans flew combat missions in France during the Great War In the first postwar decade airmen achieved a measure of recognition with the establishment of the Air Corps and during World War II the Army Air Forces attained equal status with the Army Ground Forces

From the Pilot Factory, 1942 William Mitchell, 2005 Mitchell's experiences were similar to those of thousands of young men Because his mother kept his wartime letters readers of this book can catch glimpses of a world long vanished and an era that now seems innocent and naive Mitchell worried about washing out but he eventually learned to do nighttime blitz landings without lights to loop and roll and recover from a spin to identify an aircraft from its silhouette and to navigate cross country Like many of his peers he wanted to be a pursuit pilot but he was assigned to C 47s a disappointment to which he resigned himself As a member of the 73d Squadron of the 434th Troop Carrier Group he delivered glider infantry at Normandy dropped airborne troops during Operation Market Garden and supplied the 101st Airborne Division during the Battle of the Bulge
