Twilight of the Bombs Richard Rhodes, 2011-09-06 The final volume in Richard Rhodes's prizewinning history of nuclear weapons offers the first comprehensive narrative of the challenges faced in the post Cold War age The past twenty years have transformed our relationship with nuclear weapons drastically With extraordinary depth of knowledge and understanding Richard Rhodes makes clear how the five original nuclear powers Russia Great Britain France China and especially the United States have struggled with new realities He reveals the real reasons George W Bush chose to fight a second war in Iraq assesses the emerging threat of nuclear terrorism and offers advice on how our complicated relationships with North Korea and South Asia should evolve Finally he imagines what a post nuclear world might look like as only he can

National Security in International and Domestic Investment Law Yuwen Li,Feng Lin,Cheng Bian,2023-10-20 This book offers a dynamic introduction to the new developments on national security review of foreign direct investment FDI from the perspectives of both domestic law and international investment law COVID 19 and the Russian invasion of Ukraine have intensified FDI screening to an unprecedented scale yet its purposes scope and potential impact remain ambiguous and controversial The book first attests the legitimacy of FDI screening by using the theory of National Security Constitution Part I explicates the national security public order and public health exceptions clauses in international investment law and the novel EU Regulation on FDI screening Part II provides an in depth analysis of FDI screening in China France Germany Italy the Netherlands Poland and the UK which have either witnessed momentous changes in domestic law recently or have adopted new laws to cope with the growing security concerns The book illustrates how States and the EU are using legal instruments to tackle exigent and emerging challenges and the complexity of national security emanated from foreign investment in the context of evolving disruptive digital technologies and the structural change of the global economy The volume will be of great value to a wide range of audiences including academics in investment and trade law legal practitioners in house counsels policymakers business professionals and law and business students at the graduate level

National Security Issues in Science, Law, and Technology Thomas A. Johnson,2007-04-16 Using the best scientific decision making practices this book introduces the concept of risk management and its application in the structure of national security decisions It examines the acquisition and utilization of all source intelligence and addresses reaction and prevention strategies applicable to chemical biological and nuclear weapons agricultural terrorism cyberterrorism and other potential threats to our critical infrastructure It discusses legal issues and illustrates the dispassionate analysis of our intelligence law enforcement and military operations and actions The book also considers the redirection of our national research and laboratory system to investigate weapons we have yet to confront

Parameters ,1995 The Impact of the Media on National Security Policy Decision Making Douglas V. Johnson II,1994 The author considers history and current research on the media public opinion and communications technology to provide both a view of the present and some suggestions for the future He examines current claims that CNN like mass appeal television broadcasting can dictate the march to war and provides counter evidence that calls the direct connection of the media and policy decision making into question The author seeks to identify the roles of the principal players and considers the effect of the growing capabilities of the public to be led by the media in national security policy issues He raises additional questions that suggest considerable further research is required into this very important relationship Media First Amendment National security Public opinion Media public opinion interaction Information age

Risk Taking and Decision Making ,1998-02 Risks are an integral part of complex high stakes decisions and decisionmakers are faced with the unavoidable tasks of assessing risks and forming risk preferences This is true for all decision domains including financial environmental and foreign policy domains among others How well decisionmakers deal with risk affects to a considerable extent the quality of their decisions This book provides the most comprehensive analysis available of the elements that influence risk judgments and preferences The book has two dimensions theoretical and comparative historical The study of risk taking behavior has been dominated by the rational choice approach Instead the author adopts a socio cognitive approach involving a multivariate theory integrating contextual cognitive motivational and personality factors that affect an individual decisionmaker s judgment and preferences the social interaction and structural effects of the decisionmaking group and its organizational setting and the role of cultural societal values and norms that sanction or discourage risk taking behavior The book s theoretical approach is applied and tested in five historical case studies of foreign military interventions The richly detailed empirical data on the case studies make them metaphorically speaking an ideal laboratory for applying a process tracing approach in studying judgment and decision processes at varying risk levels The case studies analyzed are U S interventions in Grenada in 1983 and Panama in 1989 both low risk Soviet intervention in Czechoslovakia in 1968 moderate risk U S intervention in Vietnam in 1964 68 high risk and Israel s intervention in Lebanon in 1982 83 high risk

The new Europe : challenges for U.S. policy ,1991 The First War on Terrorism David C. Wills,2004-10-26 The events of September 11 2001 brought terrorism to the forefront but Al Qaeda is not the first group to try using political violence against the United States to make Washington change its policies In the 1980s terrorism was rampant from Latin America to Europe and the Middle East a host of groups demanded changes in American foreign policy and were willing to bomb assassinate kidnap and hijack to pressure the government to act The First War on Terrorism examines the response of the Reagan Administration to the political violence it confronted during the 1980s David Wills takes the reader inside the negotiations over how to respond to terrorist acts and shows how the Reagan Administration s decision making process was a crucial obstacle to formulating a consistent and effective terrorism policy Compelling and enlightening The First War on Terrorism serves as a powerful guide to what should be emulated and avoided from America s previous battles with shady foes Special Bibliography Series ,1957 NATO -- the 1990s ,1993 Pakistan's Arms Procurement and Military Buildup, 1979-99 A. Siddiqi-Agha,2001-03-20 The strategic imperative is held as the primary explanation for Pakistan s military buildup This book presents a fundamental departure in presenting an analysis of the internal dynamics of defence management and decisionmaking in Pakistan a new nuclear weapon state This is an in depth study of Pakistan s security link with its arms suppliers and defence industrial capacity and the influence of Pakistan s Army on conventional and non conventional defence decisions The analysis is backed with numerous case studies of defence decisions carried out from 1979 99 Special Bibliography Series United States Air Force Academy.
