Population Trends Of Breeding Birds In Ohio:

Population Trends of Breeding Birds in Ohio Susan Leigh Earnst, Brad Alan Andres, 1996 Population Trends of Blackbirds and Starlings in North America, 1966-76 Richard A. Dolbeer, Robert A. Stehn, 1978 We used the North American Breeding Bird Survey to estimate trends of red winged blackbirds Agelaius phoeniceus common grackles Quiscalus quiscula brown headed cowbirds Molothrus ater and starlings Sturnus vulgaris for 1966-76 in the United States and Canada Extended to a continental scale the survey indicated significant increases in the mean number of redwings cowbirds and starlings observed per route Starlings had the greatest increase 4.96 birds per route or a 19.4% increase The starlings greatest regional increases occurred in the western United States Populations of redwings increased most in the St Lawrence Valley and parts of the Midwest and Lower Plains regions Cowbirds increased the most in the plains from Iowa to Saskatchewan and decreased over parts of the eastern and midwestern United States Grackle populations indicated no change on a continental scale but did show strong increases in the Midwest and Lower Plains regions and declines in Appalachia This knowledge of blackbird and starling population trends in specific areas should improve our ability to understand increasing bird man conflicts to evaluate proposed bird damage control strategies and to develop more effective long term solutions than are available at present Special Scientific Report--wildlife, 1979 Monitoring Bird Populations by Point Counts, 1995 The Technical Literature on the American Woodcock, 1927-1978 Thomas J. Dwyer, Richard A. Coon, Paul H. Geissler, 1979 Ecology and Management of Neotropical Migratory Birds Deborah M. Finch, Thomas E. Martin, 1995 The apparent decline in numbers among many species of migratory songbirds is a timely subject in conservation biology particularly for ornithologists ecologists and wildlife managers This book presents a full discussion of the problem Status and Trends of the Nation's Biological Resources, 1998 Status and Trends of the Nations's Biological Resources Catherine E. Puckett Haecker, Paul A. Opler, Peter D. Doran, 1998 Assesses the health of the United States plants animals and ecosystems Status of the Henslow's Sparrow in the Northcentral United States Helen M. Hands, Ronald D. Drobney, Mark R. Ryan, 1989 Effects of Agricultural Conservation Practices on Fish and Wildlife, 2008 The bibliography is a guide to recent scientific literature covering effects of agricultural conservation practices on fish and wildlife The citations listed here provide information on how conservation programs and practices designed to improve fish and wildlife habitat as well as those intended for other purposes e.g. water quality improvement affect various aquatic and terrestrial fauna Abstract Special Reference Briefs, 1983 Status of the Red-shouldered Hawk in the Northcentral United States Helen M. Hands, 1989 Resource Publication - United States, Fish and Wildlife Service, 1975 Our Living Resources, 1995 Report provides information on distribution abundance and health of birds mammals reptiles and amphibians fishes invertebrates plants terrestrial ecosystems aquatic ecosystems coastal and marine ecosystems riparian ecosystems the Great Plains Interior West Alaska and Hawaii It also discusses special issues global climate change human influences non native species and habitat assessments Publications of the Denver Wildlife Research Center on Birds and Bird Damage Control, 1980 Ecology and Management of Cowbirds and Their Hosts James N. M. Smith, Terry L. Cook, Stephen I. Rothstein, Scott K. Robinson, Spencer G. Sealy, 2014-09-05 In the past two centuries cowbirds have increased in numbers and extended their range across North America while many of the native songbird species whose nests they parasitize to raise their young have declined This timely book collects forty essays by most of the principal authorities on the biology and management of cowbirds The book s goals are to explore the biology of cowbirds the threats they pose to host species and populations and the management programs that are being undertaken to minimize these threats The book is organized into five sections each with an extended editors introduction that places the contributions in a broad up to date setting The sections cover The changing abundance of cowbirds and the ways in which their numbers can be estimated Host choice by cowbirds the negative effects of cowbirds on particular host species and the daily patterns of cowbird behavior Behavioral interactions between cowbirds and specific host species Patterns of cowbird abundance and host use across varying landscapes Management programs designed to control cowbirds and protect threatened songbirds The Zoological Record, 1997

Monitoring Bird Populations by Point Counts C. John Ralph, John R. Sauer, Sam Droege, 1998-05 Point counts of birds are the most widely used quantitative method and involve an observer recording birds from a single point for a standardized time period In response to the need for standardization of methods to monitor bird populations by census researchers met to present data from various investigations working under a wide variety of conditions and to examine various aspects of point count methodology Statistical aspects of sampling and analysis were discussed and applied to the objectives of point counts The final chapter presents these standards and their applications to point count methodology General Technical Report PSW., 1978 Recovery Plan for the Interior Population of the Least Tern (Sterna Antillarum) John G. Sidle, 1990
