National Union Catalog ,1973 Includes entries for maps and atlases DNA-based markers in plants R.L. Phillips,Indra K. Vasil,2012-12-06 The double helix architecture of DNA was elucidated in 1953 Twenty years later in 1973 the discovery of restriction enzymes helped to create recombinant DNA molecules in vitro The implications of these powerful and novel methods of molecular biology and their potential in the genetic manipulation and improvement of microbes plants and animals became increasingly evident and led to the birth of modern biotechnology The first transgenic plants in which a bacterial gene had been stably integrated were produced in 1983 and by 1993 transgenic plants had been produced in all major crop species including the cereals and the legumes. These remarkable achievements have resulted in the production of crops that are resistant to potent but environmentally safe herbicides or to viral pathogens and insect pests. In other instances genes have been introduced that delay fruit ripening or increase starch content or cause male sterility. Most of these manipulations are based on the introduction of a single gene generally of bacterial origin that regulates an important monogenic trait into the crop of choice. Many of the engineered crops are now under field trials and are expected to be commercially produced within the next few years. The early successes in plant biotechnology led to the realization that further molecular improvement of plants will require a thorough understanding of the molecular basis of plant development and the identification and characterization of genes that regulate agronomically important multi-genic traits.

Politics in Manitoba Christopher Adams, 2008-09-15 Politics in Manitoba is the first comprehensive review of the Manitoba party system that combines history and contemporary public opinion data to reveal the political and voter trends that have shaped the province of Manitoba over the past 130 years. The book details the histories of the Progressive Conservatives, the Liberals and the New Democratic Party from 1870 to 2007. Adams looks in particular at the enduring influence of political geography and political culture as well as the impact of leadership, campaign strategies, organizational resources and the media on voter preferences. Adams also presents here for the first time public opinion data based on more than 25 000 interviews with Manitobans conducted between 1999 and 2007. He analyzes voter age, gender, income, education and geographic location to determine how Manitobans vote. In the process, Adams dispels some commonly held beliefs about party supporters and identifies recurring themes in voter behaviour.
