Population Studies In New Zealand:

New Zealand Journal of Agricultural Research ,1980 Sociologies of New Zealand Charles Crothers,2018-04-13 This book provides the first comprehensive analysis of the various sociologies of New Zealand from the late 19th century to the present day Opening with previously undocumented insights into the history of proto sociology in New Zealand the book then explores the parallel stories of the discipline both as a mainstream subject in Sociology departments and as a more diffuse sociology within other university units The rise and fall of departments specialties and research networks is plotted and the ways in which external and internal factors have shaped these is explained Different generations of sociologists including many immigrants are each shown to have left their unique mark on New Zealand sociology The author demonstrates that the rising interest in topics specific to New Zealand has been accompanied by increasing capacities to contribute to world sociology This book will have inter disciplinary appeal across the social sciences and provides a valuable study of the development of sociology in a semi peripheral country New Zealand Journal of Agricultural Research ,1981

superseded by those of some more powerful force whether an imperial power or a modern day agency which has ingrained ideas about objectives and strategies for development Finally it explores how health and development interact The Maori experience of contact and colonization lasting from 1769 to circa 1900 narrated here is an all too familiar story for many other territories and populations Natives and former colonists This book provides a case study with wider ramifications for theory in colonial history development studies demography anthropology and other fields New Zealand Journal of Agricultural Research ,1975-11 New Zealand Journal of Agricultural Research ,1967-02 Sport in the Pacific CRichard King,2017-07-05 Sport in the Pacific is a comparative consideration of the modern movement of Pacific peoples and their physical pursuits across national and cultural boundaries It covers Australia Japan and the United States Its contributors ensure a deeper understanding of the indigenous peoples of the Pacific particularly their social identities and cultural responses in the wake of the arrival of modern sport Sport in the Pacific comprises eight original contributions which analyze Polynesian and Aboriginal athletes and athletics in colonial and post colonial contexts Their analyses stress the importance of adaptation and appropriation reinvention and revivalism as well as diaspora and globalization The volume will have three overlapping themes change and continuity cultural and transcultural power and the complexity of race gender and national identity Sport in the Pacific in short compares the significance of modern sport in a largely ignored setting the indigenous societies of the Pacific This book was previously published as a special issue of International Journal of the History of Sport Contemporary Chinese Diasporas Min Zhou,2017-09-15 This book focuses on International migration among the Chinese long before European colonists set foot on the Asian continent Long before European colonists set foot on the Asian continent the Chinese moved across sea and land seasonally or permanently to other parts of Asia and the rest of the world to pursue economic opportunities and alternative means of livelihood This volume addresses the new Chinese diasporas around the world offering a snapshot of the cosmopolitan and shifting nature of Chinese population dynamics from the perspectives of anthropologists sociologists and scholars of international studies Chinese Transnational Migration in the Age of Global Modernity Liangni Sally Liu,2018-01-17 The term circulatory transnational migration best describes the unconventional migratory route of many contemporary Chinese migrants that is an unfinished set of circulatory movements that these migrants engage in between the homeland and various host countries Return migration step migration to a third destination and the astronauting strategy are all included within this circulatory migration movement wherein returning to the country of origin does not always mean to settle back to the homeland permanently while step migration also does not necessarily mean to re migrate to a third destination country for a permanent purpose Liu takes a longitudinal perspective to study Chinese migrants transnational movements and looks at their transnational migratory movements as a family matter and progressive and dynamic process using New Zealand as a primary case study She examines Chinese migrants initial motives for immigrating to New Zealand the driving forces behind their adoption of a transnational lifestyle which includes leaving New Zealand to return to China moving to a third country typically Australia or commuting across borders family related considerations inter generational dynamics in transnational migration as well as their future movement intentions Liu also discusses Chinese migrants conceptualisation of home citizenship identity and sense of belonging to provide a deeper understanding of their transnational migratory experiences Frontiers in Mental Health and the Environment Marco Helbich,2018-12-12 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue Frontiers in Mental Health and the Environment that was published in IJERPH Population Studies in New Zealand Graeme Aitken,Bill Gavin,1989
