Adaptation Networks Kate Newell, 2017-05-22 This book addresses print based modes of adaptation that have not conventionally been theorized as adaptations such as novelization illustration literary maps pop up books and ekphrasis It discusses a broad range of image and word based adaptations of popular literary works among them The Wizard of Oz Alice in Wonderland Daisy Miller The Strange Case of Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde Moby Dick and Adventures of Huckleberry Finn The study reveals that commercial and franchise works and ephemera play a key role in establishing a work's iconography Newell argues that the cultural knowledge and memory of a work is constructed through reiterative processes and proposes a network based model of adaptation to explain this Whereas most adaptation studies prioritize film and television this book's focus on print invites new entry points for the study of adaptation

Playing with the Book Hannah Field, 2019-07-02 A beautifully illustrated exploration of how Victorian novelty picture books reshape the ways children read and interact with texts The Victorian era saw an explosion of novelty picture books with flaps to lift and tabs to pull pages that could fold out pop up scenes and even mechanical toys mounted on pages Analyzing books for young children published between 1835 and 1914 Playing with the Book studies how these elaborately designed works raise questions not just about what books should look like but also about what reading is particularly in relation to children's literature and child readers Novelty books promised or threatened to make reading a physical as well as intellectual activity requiring the child to pull a tab or lift a flap to continue the story These books changed the relationship between pictures words and format in both productive and troubling ways Hannah Field considers these aspects of children's reading through case studies of different formats of novelty and movable books and intensive examination of editions that have survived from the nineteenth century She discovers that children ripped tore and colored in their novelty books despite these books explicit instructions against such behaviors Richly illustrated with images of these ingenious constructions Playing with the Book argues that novelty books construct a process of reading that involves touch as well as sight thus reconfiguring our understanding of the phenomenology of reading

Beyond the Book Bridget Carrington, 2014-01-06 November 2012 saw the joint annual conference of the British branch of the International Board on Books for Young People IBBY UK and the MA course at the National Centre for Research in Children's Literature NCRCL at Roehampton University The theme of the conference was the investigation of aspects of literature for children that were Beyond the Book From woodcuts to e books children's literature has always lent itself to reinterpretation and expansion In its early days this was achieved through different forms of retelling through illustration and interactive illustration pop ups and flaps and then through music film television and stage adaptation The contributors to the 2012 conference explored the variety of means by which we transform literature intended for children and celebrated the vibrant world of creativity that has sought and continues to seek different ways in which to engage young readers Bridget Carrington and Jennifer Harding have previously collaborated as the editors of earlier IBBY UK NCRCL MA conference proceedings Going Graphic Comics and Graphic Novels for Young People Conflicts and Controversies Challenging Children's Literature and It Doesn't Have to Rhyme Children and Poetry Pied Piper Publishing 2010 2011 2012
