Jane Campion Hilary Radner, Alistair Fox, Irène Bessière, 2009 An innovative collection of original essays on Jane Campion renowned female auteur filmmaker In Jane Campion Cinema Nation Identity a diverse group of contributors challenge the view that Campion's body of work lacks coherence or unity to instead examine the important characteristics and themes that underlie it Editors Hilary Radner Alistair Fox and Irène Bessière have compiled rich original scholarship on Campion's oeuvre to probe issues previously neglected by scholars like her debt to New Zealand sources and her personal views of family dynamics and those that benefit from additional insight such as her place in the feminist filmmaking tradition This volume also investigates Campion s distinct cinematic style in light of these issues to examine the source of her enduring cross cultural and international appeal Contributors in the first section explore the creation of subjectivity and identity in Campion s films which include well known works like The Piano and Holy Smoke to trace the unique perspectives of Campion s characters and Campion herself as director In the second section essays analyze Campion s close relationship with literature and argue that the singular vision in her literary adaptations stems from her New Zealand background and her personal mythology Contributors in the third section argue that while Campion devotes considerable attention to the evocation of feminine internal space she also uses the symbolic potential of her external physical locations to register what is taking place in the inner life of her characters and reflect their search for personal fulfillment A final group of essays presents a variety of responses to Campion s films demonstrating that Campion is a highly personal and idiosyncratic director who nonetheless manages to fascinate viewers across a broad cultural spectrum Taken together contributors in Jane Campion Cinema Nation Identity present a compelling analysis of Campion s status as a leading female filmmaker with close attention to her distinctive cinematic style and particular mise en scene The collective nature of this volume will appeal to students and teachers of film literature and gender studies as well as fans of Campion s work

Inclusive Screenwriting for Film and Television Jess King,2022-05-16 Breaking down the traditional structures of screenplays in an innovative and progressive way while also investigating the ways in which screenplays have been traditionally told this book interrogates how screenplays can be written to reflect the diverse life experiences of real people Author Jess King explores how existing paradigms of screenplays often exclude the very people watching films and TV today

Taking aspects such as characterization screenplay structure and world building King offers ways to ensure your screenplays are inclusive and allow for every person's story to be heard. In addition to examples ranging from Sorry to Bother You to Portrait of a Lady on Fire, four case studies on Killing Eve, Sense8, I May Destroy You, and Vida ground the theoretical work in practical application. The book highlights the ways in which screenplays can authentically represent and uplift the lived experiences of those so often left out of the narrative such as the LGBTQIA community, women, and people of color. The book addresses a current demand for more inclusive and progressive representation in film and TV and equips screenwriters with the tools to ensure their screenplays tell authentic stories, offering innovative ways to reimagine current screenwriting practice towards radical equity and inclusion. This is a timely and necessary book that brings the critical lenses of gender studies, queer theory, and critical race studies to bear on the practice of screenwriting, ideal for students of screenwriting, aspiring screenwriters, and industry professionals alike.
