Performative Histories, Foundational Fictions Anu Koivunen, 2003-09-17 Films are integral to national imagination Promotional publicity markets domestic films not only as entertaining exciting or moving but also as topical and relevant in different ways Reviewers assess new films with reference to other films and cultural products as well as social and political issues Through such interpretive framings by contemporaries and later generations popular cinema is embedded both in national imagination and endless intertextual and intermedial frameworks Moreover films themselves become signs to be cited and recycled as illustrations of cultural social and political history as well as national mentality In the age of television old films continue to live as history and memory In Performative Histories Foundational Fictions Anu Koivunen analyzes the historicity as well as the intertextuality and intermediality of film reception by focusing on a cycle of Finnish family melodrama and its key role in thinking about gender sexuality nation and history Close reading posters advertisements publicity stills trailers review journalism and critical commentary she demonstrates how The Women of Niskavuori 1938 and 1958 Loviisa 1946 Heta Niskavuori 1952 Aarne Niskavuori 1954 Niskavuori Fights 1957 and Niskavuori 1984 have operated as sites for imagining our agrarian past our Heimat and heritage as well as the strong Finnish woman or the weak man in crisis Based on extensive empirical research Koivunen argues that the Niskavuori films have mobilized readings in terms of history and memory feminist nationalism and men's movement left wing allegories and right wing morality as well as realism and melodrama Through processes of citation repetition and re cycling the films have acquired not only a heterogeneous and contradictory interpretive legacy but also an affective force

why we need to engage with it The Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation Peter France, 2000 Translation has been a crucial process in world culture over the past two millennia and more In the English speaking cultures many of the most important texts are translations from Homer to Beckett the Bible to Freud Although recent years have seen a boom in translation studies there has been no comprehensive yet convenient guide to this essential element of literature in English Written by eminent scholars from many countries the Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation meets this need and will be essential reading for all students of English and comparative literature It highlights the place of translation in our culture encouraging awareness of the issues raised making the translator more visible Concentrating on major writers and works it covers translations out of many languages from Greek to Korean from Swahili to Russian For some works e g Virgil's Aeneid which have been much translated the discussion is historical and critical showing how translation has evolved over the centuries and bringing out the differences between versions Elsewhere with less familiar literatures the Guide examines the extent to which translation has done justice to the range of work available The Guide is divided into two parts Part I contains substantial essays on theoretical questions a pioneering outline of the history of translation into English and discussions of the problems raised by specific types of text e g poetry oral literature The second much longer part consists of entries grouped by language of origin some are devoted to individual texts e g the Thousand and One Nights or writers e g Ibsen Proust but the majority offer a critical overview of a genre e g Chinese poetry Spanish Golden Age drama or of a national literature e g Hungarian Scottish Gaelic There is a selective bibliography for each entry and an index of authors and translators The World of Theatre Ian Herbert, Nicole Leclercq, 2000 The World of Theatre is an on the spot account of current theatre activity across six continents The year 2000 edition covers the three seasons from 1996/97 to 1998/99 in over sixty countries more than ever before The content of the book is as varied as the theatre scene it describes from magisterial round ups by leading critics in Europe Peter Hepple of The Stage and North America Jim O Quinn of American Theatre to what are sometimes literally war torn countries such as Iran or Sierra Leone National Theatres in a Changing Europe
