Life Jerome Boyd Maunsell, 2018-01-05 What happens when novelists write about their own lives directly in memoirs and autobiographies rather than in novels How do they present themselves and what do their self portraits reveal In a series of biographical case studies Portraits from Life examines how seven canonical Modernist writers Joseph Conrad Ford Madox Ford Henry James Wyndham Lewis Gertrude Stein H G Wells and Edith Wharton depicted themselves in their memoirs and autobiographies during the first half of the twentieth century Drawing on a range of life writing sources in this innovative group portrait Jerome Boyd Maunsell reconstructs the periods during which these authors worked on their memoirs often towards the end of their lives and shows how memoirs and autobiographies are just as artful as novels The seven portraits in the book also create a rich network of encounters as many of these writers knew each other and wrote about each other in their reminiscences Portraits from Life investigates the difficulties and possibilities of autobiography the relation of fact and fiction biography and autobiography the ethical issues of dealing with real people the thin generic lines between novels and

autobiographies and the deceptive workings of memory and how all these writers dealt with these concerns as they looked back on their lives An act of portraiture and biography as well as an act of criticism moving from London to Paris and through two world wars it also pieces together a fresh and constantly inter connecting narrative of the Modernist era in England and France Portraits by Ingres Jean-Auguste-Dominique Ingres,National Gallery (Great Britain),1999 Om portrætter af den franske maler Jean Auguste Dominique Ingres 1780 1867 Catalogue of the Valuable Collection of Manuscripts, Autographs, Books Portraits and Other Interesting Material Mainly Relating to Napoleon Bonaparte and the French Revolution Warren Cady Crane,1913 British and Irish Paintings in Public Collections Christopher Wright,Catherine May Gordon,2006-01-01 This book sets a new standard as a work of reference It covers British and Irish art in public collections from the beginning of the sixteenth century to the end of the nineteenth and it encompasses nearly 9 000 painters and 90 000 paintings in more than 1 700 separate collections The book includes as well pictures that are now lost some as a consequence of the Second World War and others because of de accessioning mostly from 1950 to about 1975 when Victorian art was out of fashion By listing many tens of thousands of previously unpublished works including around 13 000 which do not yet have any form of attribution this book becomes a unique and indispensable work of reference one that will transform the study of British and Irish painting

York, N.Y.), Katharine Baetjer, 2009 Covering the period between the late 16th century through to the third quarter of the 19th century this book features paintings by English Scottish Welsh and Irish artists which are part of the collection of the Metropolitan Museum of Art Portraits, Painters, and Publics in Provincial England 1540-1640 Robert Tittler, 2013-09-05 In this the first comprehensive study of post Reformation provincial English portraiture Robert Tittler investigates the growing affinity for secular portraiture in Tudor and early Stuart England a cultural and social phenomenon which can be said to have produced a public for that genre He breaks new ground in placing portrait patronage and production in this era in the broad social and cultural context of post Reformation England and in distinguishing between native English provincial portraiture which was often highly vernacular and foreign influenced portraiture of the court and metropolis which tended towards the formal and polite Tittler describes the burgeoning public for portraiture of this era as more than the familiar court and London based presence but rather as a phenomenon which was surprisingly widespread both socially and geographically throughout the realm He suggests that provincial portraiture differed from the mainstream cosmopolitan portraiture of the day in its workmanship materials inspirations and even vocabulary showing how its native English roots continued to guide its production Innovative chapters consider the aims and vocabulary of English provincial portraiture the relationship of portraiture and heraldry the painter's occupation in provincial as opposed to metropolitan England and the contrasting availability of materials and training in both provincial and metropolitan areas The work as a whole contributes to both art history and social history it speaks to admirers and collectors of painting as well as to curators and academics
