Revolution And Chinese Foreign Policy:

Revolution and Chinese Foreign Policy Peter Van Ness,1973 Revolutionary Diplomacy J. D.

Armstrong,2024-06-21 From the Introduction The principal question that is posed in this study is what has been the influence of Mao s united front doctrine on China s foreign policy A related but secondary question is also considered In what ways if any has China s participation in the international system caused Peking to revise its conception of a united front in world politics Insofar as Mao s thoughts about united fronts are part of the total array of theories and operational principles that make up the Chinese communist ideology this essay considers one aspect of the relationship between ideology and foreign policy Since this question has long been the subject of a mostly inconclusive and often circular academic debate Armstrong states his reasons for returning to it here The first is that the problem is no less important because it admits of no easy solution Indeed with the breakdown in the twentieth century of even the limited consensus over norms and values that permitted a great power concert to exist for part of the nineteenth the question is clearly one of major significance in contemporary international relations Since China has become in many ways a symbol of the postwar ideological challenge to the established order in world politics the question is particularly relevant in a study of China s foreign policy Finally by combining a strictly limited focus of enquiry with a systematic approach to the problem it may be possible to overcome some of the analytical difficulties that surround the larger issue of the relation of ideas to social practice This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1977 Chinese Foreign Policy Thomas W. Robinson,David L. Shambaugh,1995 This study of Chinese foreign policy is intended for academics and graduates of Chinese studies and of international relations international economics and those interested in decision making theory Chinese Foreign Policy Barbara Barnouin,Yu Changgen,2013-10-28 First published in 1998 In this study what is proposed here is first of all to examine the effect it had on the very functioning of the Chinese Ministry of Foreign Affairs and how the turmoil of the Cultural Revolution of which the country had become a victim spilled over to this highly elitist and prestigious Ministry In summary it focuses on the chaos that engulfed the institution

Chinese Foreign Policy Robert G. Sutter,2019-03-20 Chinese foreign policy has changed radically since the Cultural Revolution of 1966 1969 This book focuses on turning points in China s policy and looks at the influence of foreign pressures on China It assesses the impact of internal political struggles on the conduct of Chinese foreign affairs Development of Modern Chinese Foreign Policy Thought Ivica Bakota,Zvonimir Stopić,Mato Njavro,2024-11-15 This book presents a comprehensive exploration of China s foreign policy evolution from the early twentieth century to the contemporary era The intricate interplay between the People s Republic of China the Chinese Communist Party CCP and the global stage is meticulously traced offering a nuanced understanding of China's dynamic engagement with the world. With a detailed analysis spanning eight chapters, the book delves into the contextual factors that influenced CCP's initial foreign policy ideas prior to the establishment of the People's Republic. It systematically unravels the gradual development of these ideas during the Cold War era and unveils the fundamental and adaptive trajectories that have shaped China's foreign policy landscape over the past three decades. Utilizing primary sources and academic texts, the book incorporates both Chinese and global perspectives to shed new light on the evolution of Chinese foreign policy thought, making it an invaluable contribution to the study of China's global interactions. The authors uniquely bridge the gap between different stages of China's foreign policy development across a centennial timeframe, offering an organic perspective on its growth and their comprehensive analysis of China's foreign policy toolset adds a distinctive dimension to existing knowledge. By steering clear of preconceived notions, the book delivers a well-rounded analysis of China's foreign policy evolution.

The Genesis of Chinese Communist Foreign Policy Michael H. Hunt, 1996. Is the Confucian tradition compatible with the Western understanding of human rights? Are there fundamental human values regardless of cultural differences common to all peoples of all nations? At this critical point in Communist China's history, eighteen distinguished scholars address the role of Confucianism in dealing with questions of universal human rights.

Power and Responsibility in Chinese Foreign Policy Yongjin Zhang, Greg Austin, 2014-01-10. The People's Republic of China is now over fifty years old. Long considered an outsider or a club of one in international relations, China has recently become more active in international institutions. Is China becoming a responsible power in global and regional international relations? How accurate is the traditional perception of China? What factors may be motivating the changes in China's approach to international institutions and its perceptions of its own role in the world? There is no certainty that China is becoming a more responsible power; recent developments may be just another manifestation of realpolitik. Power and Responsibility in Chinese Foreign Policy provides a vital insight into these issues, analysing the critical issues in China's international relations: China's regional and global diplomatic and security problems, the changing role of the People's Liberation Army, human rights, religious and democratic movements, and the concept of responsibility. Power and Responsibility in Chinese Foreign Policy is an insightful and vital introduction to all sides of the current debate over China's international relations.

The Dynamics Of Foreign-policy Decisionmaking In China Ning Lu, 2018-02-19. Lu Ning, former assistant to a vice foreign minister of China, draws on archival materials, interviews, and personal experiences to provide unique insights into the formal and informal structures, processes, mechanisms, and dynamics of and key players in foreign policy decisionmaking in Beijing. Lu Ning sheds light on controversial decisions that were made, such as China's entering the Korean War, selling DF-3 missiles to Saudi Arabia in 1986, and cooperating with the Israeli defense establishment. Lu Ning divulges the inner workings of Beijing's foreign ministry, introduces new Chinese language sources, and presents a series of case studies that challenge existing Western theoretical analysis of Chinese policymaking Based on his examination of the past forty years Lu Ning makes predictions about likely changes in Beijing's leadership and in its foreign policy decisionmaking process This accessibly written incisive book will be invaluable to anyone interested in Sinology Chinese foreign policy comparative foreign policy and contemporary international relations of East Asia This second edition contains a fully revised Introduction and it has been updated through President Clinton's recent visit to China The new edition also contains new material on the Clinton Administration's varying policy positions toward China Chinese Foreign Policy Barbara Barnouin, Yu Changgen, 2013-10-28 First published in 1998 In this study what is proposed here is first of all to examine the effect it had on the very functioning of the Chinese Ministry of Foreign Affairs and how the turmoil of the Cultural Revolution of which the country had become a victim spilled over to this highly elitist and prestigious Ministry In summary it focuses on the chaos that engulfed the institution The Dynamics of China's Foreign Relations Association for Asian Studies, 1970 Preliminary Material Jerome Alan Cohen The Dynamics of the Sino Soviet Territorial Dispute The Case of the River Islands George Ginsburgs Diplomatic Triangle China's Policies Toward India and Pakistan in the 1960s Arthur A Stahnke The Role of Trade in China's Diplomacy with Japan Gene T Hsiao China's Attitude Toward Trade with the United States Jerome Alan Cohen China's Competitive Diplomacy in Africa George T Yu China's Relations with Latin America Revolutionary Theory in a Distant Milieu Daniel Tretiak Notes Jerome Alan Cohen Index Jerome Alan Cohen Harvard East Asian Monographs Jerome Alan Cohen Interpreting Chinese Foreign Policy Quansheng Zhao, 1996 This work applies the micro macro linkage approach to Chinese foreign policy It analyzes the effect of the international environment and domestic constraints exploring the key trends of modernization nationalism and regionalism reviewing literature on The Third Revolution Elizabeth Economy, 2018 In The Third Revolution Elizabeth Economy one of America's leading China scholars provides an authoritative overview of contemporary China that makes sense of all of the seeming inconsistencies and ambiguities in its policies and actions China's Foreign Policy Toward the Third World Lillian Craig Harris, 1985

Foreign Relations of the PRC Robert G. Sutter, 2018-07-12 Now in a fully updated edition this cogent but comprehensive book examines the international relations of the People's Republic of China since its founding in 1949 Noted scholar Robert G Sutter provides a balanced assessment of the country's recent successes and advances as well as the important legacies and constraints that hamper it especially in nearby Asia long the focus of China's foreign policy attention Sutter demonstrates how Beijing has carefully created an image of a China that follows consistent policies based on morally correct principles but its record shows repeated episodes of sometime surprising change and frequent use of violence intimidation and coercion China's leaders he argues still fail to manage the desire for productive foreign relations with their aspirations to build Chinese security and sovereignty interests Image building efforts condition Chinese public and elite opinion to be extraordinarily sensitive self righteous and often alarmist in dealing with the many disputes China has with its

Asian neighbors and the United States Advances that the PRC has made in other parts of the world focus mainly on commercial interests limiting its actual impact on world affairs Sutter shows readers how to use China's rise in nearby Asia as a reliable barometer of how important and effective the country will actually become internationally Revolutionary States, Leaders, and Foreign Relations Houman A. Sadri, 1997-04-16 This book compares and contrasts the foreign relations strategies of China, Cuba, and Iran in the first decade of their post revolutionary periods Among a variety of explanatory variables leadership particularly the type of revolutionary leaders played a significant role in explaining the outcome of the policymaking process in each case Three distinct patterns of foreign relations strategies are evident among all three revolutionary regimes in the ten year period Two Track Conflictual and Conciliatory This book is a valuable source for both experts and non experts alike in providing insight into the foreign relations of revolutionary regimes in developing countries and in helping U.S. policymakers anticipate behaviors of future revolutionary leaders A focal point of this book is the examination of the nonalignment strategies of these prominent developing countries during the infancy of their regimes Each state's particular strategy is described and explained in detail and then contrasted and compared Although there are differences among their foreign policies considering their geographic locations size wealth military capabilities leadership characteristics and political institutions there are significant similarities regarding their foreign policy goals and trends in their foreign relations with the Great Powers Among explanatory factors leadership played a significant role in the policy making process although the foreign relations strategies of these revolutionary regimes were fed by a combination of national and international variables In all three states the tone of foreign policy was set by revolutionary leaders who were either idealists or realists Idealists tended to take a more active and conflictual approach toward one or both of the superpowers while Realists were more cautious and less willing to resort to a conflictual posture This book also investigates the gap between the theoretical and practical nonalignment stance of each state This cross regional study provides policy analysts with clues about the foreign policies of other revolutionary developing countries in similar situations Finally it makes suggestions about how a Great Power may relate to a developing country during its first post revolution decade The Making Of Foreign Policy In China A. Doak Barnett, A Doak Barnett, 2019-07-11 Until recently Westerners have not adequately understood the structure of the PRC's policymaking process in the post Mao period Dr Barnett's pathbreaking study provides comprehensive information on how China's foreign policy decisions are made The author draws not only on his past research but also on intensive interviews conducted during 1984 with a wide range of Chinese officials including Premier Zhao Ziyang academics and journalists to describe a major shift in top level decision making from the Politburo and Standing Committee to the Party Secretariat and State Council He analyzes the foreign policy roles of various specialized party and government organizations as well as the roles of key government ministries and the military establishment and discusses not only the institutions and individuals involved in the policy process but also the sources of information and analyses on which their decisions are based including major press organizations research institutions and universities Taking advantage of the new openness of both leaders and working level specialists in the PRC Dr Barnett has written the most detailed and up to date study available One of the most distinguished China experts of our time A Doak Barnett was professor of government at Columbia University and a senior fellow of the Brookings Institution He is now professor of Chinese Studies at the School of Advanced International Studies at The Johns Hopkins University
