Rhapsody In Red:

Rhapsody in Red Sheila Melvin, Jindong Cai, 2004 Western classical music has become as Chinese as Peking Opera and it has woven its way into the hearts and lives of ordinary Chinese people This lucidly written account traces the biographies of the bold visionaries who carried out this musical merger Rhapsody in Red is a history of classical music in China that revolves around a common theme how Western classical music entered China and how it became Chinese China's oldest orchestra was founded in 1879 two years before the Boston Symphony Since then classical music has woven its way into the lives of ordinary Chinese people Millions of Chinese children take piano and violin lessons every week Yet despite the importance of classical music in China and of Chinese classical musicians and composers to the world next to nothing has been written on this fascinating subject The authors capture the events with the voice of an insider and the perspective of a Westerner presenting new information original research and insights into a topic that has barely been broached elsewhere Every chapter is as exiting as it is revealing The book is thoroughly researched with superb bibliography I am ecstatic my students will be electrified Clive M Marks Chairman The London College of Music Trestee Trinity College of Music and The London Philharmonic Orchestra The Halberd at Red Cliff Xiaofei Tian, 2020-10-26 The turn of the third century CE known as the Jian'an era or Three Kingdoms period holds double significance for the Chinese cultural tradition Its writings laid the foundation of classical poetry and literary criticism Its historical personages and events have also inspired works of poetry fiction drama film and art throughout Chinese history including Internet fantasy literature today There is a vast body of secondary literature on these two subjects individually but very little on their interface The image of the Jian'an era with its feasting drinking heroism and literary panache as well as intense male friendship was to return time and again in the romanticized narrative of the Three Kingdoms How did Jian'an bifurcate into two distinct nostalgias one of which was the first paradigmatic embodiment of wen literary graces cultural patterning and the other of wu heroic martial virtue How did these largely segregated nostalgias negotiate with one another And how is the predominantly male world of the Three Kingdoms appropriated by young women in contemporary China The Halberd at Red Cliff investigates how these associations were closely related in their complex origins and then came to be divergent in their later metamorphoses Word, Image, and Deed in the Life of Su Shi Ronald Egan, 2020-10-26 Remembered today primarily as a poet calligrapher and critic the protean Su Shi was an outspoken player in the contentious politics and intellectual debates of the Northern Song dynasty In this comprehensive study Ronald C Egan analyzes Su's literary and artistic work against the background of eleventh century developments within Buddhist and Confucian thought and Su's dogged disagreement with the New Policies of Wang Anshi Egan explicates Su's views on governance the classics and Buddhism and he describes Su's social welfare initiatives arrest for disloyalty and exiles Finding a key to the richness of Su's artistic activities in his vacillation on the significance of aesthetic pursuits Egan explores Su's shi and ci poetry and Su's promotion of painting and calligraphy looking specially at the problem of subjectivity In a concluding chapter he reconsiders Su's role as a founder of the wenren literati and challenges the conventional understanding of both Su and the Northern Song wenren generally

Musicians from a Different Shore Mari Yoshihara, 2008-05-02 Musicians of Asian descent enjoy unprecedented prominence in concert halls conservatories and classical music performance competitions In the first book on the subject Mari Yoshihara looks into the reasons for this phenomenon starting with her own experience of learning to play piano in Japan at the age of three Yoshihara shows how a confluence of culture politics and commerce after the war made classical music a staple in middle class households established Yamaha as the world's largest producer of pianos and gave the Suzuki method of music training an international clientele Soon talented musicians from Japan China and South Korea were flocking to the United States to study and establish careers and Asian American families were enrolling toddlers in music classes Against this historical backdrop Yoshihara interviews Asian and Asian American musicians such as Cho Liang Lin Margaret Leng Tan Kent Nagano who have taken various routes into classical music careers They offer their views about the connections of race and culture and discuss whether the music is really as universal as many claim it to be Their personal histories and Yoshihara's observations present a snapshot of today's dynamic and revived classical music scene
