Introduction to Classical Legal Rhetoric Michael H. Frost, 2017-03-02 Lawyers law students and their teachers all too frequently overlook the most comprehensive adaptable and practical analysis of legal discourse ever devised the classical art of rhetoric Classical analysis of legal reasoning methods and strategy is the foundation and source for most modern theories on the topic Beginning with Aristotle's Rhetoric and culminating with Cicero's De Oratore and Quintilian's Institutio Oratoria Greek and Roman rhetoricians created a clear experience based theoretical framework for analyzing legal discourse This book is the first to systematically examine the connections between classical rhetoric and modern legal discourse It traces the history of legal rhetoric from the classical period to the present day and shows how modern theorists have unknowingly benefited from the classical works It also applies classical rhetorical principles to modern appellate briefs and judicial opinions to demonstrate how a greater familiarity with the classical sources can deepen our understanding of legal reasoning

A Short History of Writing Instruction James Jerome Murphy, 2012 A Short History of Writing Instruction preserves the legacy of writing instruction from antiquity to contemporary times with a unique focus on the material educational and institutional context of the Western rhetorical tradition Rethinking Post-Communist Rhetoric Kirk St. Amant,, Pavel Zemliansky, 2016-04-08 This collection examines the forces and factors affecting rhetoric writing and communication expectations in the nations of the former Soviet Union and the Eastern Bloc The entries in this collection focus on four interconnected topics or contexts influencing rhetorical expectations and writing practices in these countries The four contexts are 1 the dynamics of the educational settings in which students learn about the relationships between rhetoric and writing 2 the professional environments in which students will apply their knowledge of rhetoric and writing upon completing their formal studies 3 the greater global context that affects the teaching of rhetoric and writing as connected to educational institutions becoming part of a larger and more integrated global community and 4 the factors and perceptions that affect how students apply and or expand their foundations in rhetoric and writing to communicate effectively across different forms of media By approaching ideas of rhetoric writing and communication from the perspective of these four areas this collection provides readers with a broad foundation for understanding the various overarching and interlocking contexts that affect perceptions of and practices involving communication practices and expectations in the former Eastern Bloc Additionally this approach provides researchers teachers and students with ideas and approaches that can be used to more effectively engage both with this topic area and with individuals from these nations The Little Brown Workbook Donna Gorrell, 2003-06

Developing International EFL/ESL Scholarly Writers Donna Bain Butler, 2015-03-30 This study had a research purpose and a pedagogical purpose Research disclosed the dynamic changing nature of learner internal and learner external variables that influence strategic competence for developing EFL ESL writers This competence was found necessary for international graduate students to move from writer centered learning to reader centered communication The research instruments proved to be practical tools for guiding learners processes of learning and writing a scholarly paper or article and avoiding plagiarism The implication for teachers and program administrators is a systematic approach for developing self regulation control in EFL ESL writing The first part of the book reports on the mixed methods quantitative and qualitative research The second part gives an in depth report of the 6 cases used in the research The third part presents tools for systematically developing self regulation in scholarly and academic writing with a student and teacher checklists for formative assessment that are valid and reliable and b a model syllabus for teachers that can be adapted across disciplines and genres These tools deal with learning strategies and their applications to writing and writing instruction Resources in Education , 1998 Rethinking Multilingual Writers in Higher Education Qianqian Zhang-Wu, Mya Poe, Cherice

Escobar Jones, Cara Marta Messina, Neal Lerner, 2025-05-30 Rethinking Multilingual Writers in Higher Education An Institutional Case Study explores the complexities of multilingual students as language users and learners emphasizing the distinctive assets that they bring to their education and the ways in which institutions of higher education can better meet their needs Teachers university administrators advisors and other support staff will gain an understanding of the resources challenges and successes of this growing student population and become better equipped to provide them with the best possible educational opportunities Through mixed methods case studies focusing on the Northeastern University Writing Program and Writing Center the authors unpack the complexity of multilingual students identities and languaging to challenge deficit and homogenizing narratives that overlook their linguistic assets and diverse educational experiences Working within and against university categories for collecting information about students and assessing their writing authors point out the limits of terms such as international and the problems with dichotomous L1 L2 and native nonnative speaker labels Finally the book offers lessons learned about the importance of conducting program self study to inform research and pedagogy for higher education institutions around the world This book will appeal to writing studies and linguistics scholars with interests in multilingualism assessment and mobility as well as institutional stakeholders and researchers of higher education and multicultural education

Feeling Our Way Wendy Bishop, Deborah Coxwell Teague, 2004-03 This provocative and sometimes humorous collection of essays written by college writing teachers for college writing teachers explores seldom discussed issues to help TAs develop confidence in overcoming classroom challenges Teachers both seasoned and new to the profession create a dialogue by sharing their rich and varied experiences and responses to classroom and department situations Each Part presents 4 to 7 short essays by Adjuncts and TAs focusing on their experiences and lessons learned At the end of each Part more experienced teachers respond to the ideas generated in the preceding essays and add their own advice concerns and solutions Part 1 Approaching the Classroom centers on entering a new writing program and succeeding as a foreign born writing teacher Part 2 Inside Out focuses on gaining confidence as a teacher and managing sexual politics and power struggles in the classroom Part 3 Beyond the Classroom helps readers question the teaching profession and offers advice on surviving department politics An Appendix provides a useful listing of composition texts that offer further helpful advice

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1997 Rhetorical Listening Krista Ratcliffe, 2005 Long ignored within rhetoric and composition studies listening has returned to the disciplinary radar Rhetorical Listening Identification Gender Whiteness argues that rhetorical listening facilitates conscious identifications needed for cross cultural communication

Literacy Across Languages and Cultures Bernardo M. Ferdman, Rose-Marie Weber, Arnulfo G. Ramirez, 1994-03-08 This book examines the linkage between literacy and linguistic diversity embedding them in their social and cultural contexts It illustrates that a more complete understanding of literacy among diverse populations and in multicultural societies requires attention to issues of literacy per se as well as to improving an educational process that has relevance beyond members of majority cultures and linguistic groups The focus of the book is on the social and cultural contexts in which literacy develops and is enacted with an emphasis on the North American situation Educators and researchers are discovering that cognitive approaches while very valuable are insufficient by themselves to answer important questions about literacy in heterogeneous societies By considering the implications of family school culture society and nation for literary processes the book answers the following questions In a multi ethnic context what does it mean to be literate What are the processes involved in becoming and being literate in a second language In what ways is literacy in a second language similar and in what ways is it different from mother tongue literacy What factors must be understood to better describe and facilitate literacy acquisition among members of ethnic and linguistic minorities What are some current approaches that are being used to accomplish this These are vital questions for researchers and educators in a world that has a large number of immigrants a variety of multi ethnic and multi lingual societies and an increasing degree of multinational activity Beyond addressing applied concerns attending to these questions can provide new insights into basic aspects of literacy
