Mutlow, 2005 This book explores the modern architecture the modern architecture of Mexico with an emphasis from the early 1980s to the present day It is particularly appropriate now given a renewed interest in the recent modern architecture of Mexico and as the w Lifestyles, Nature and Architecture, 2001 Mexicans have a real passion for life A unique flair that is expressed in their customs interpersonal relations and lifestyles Lifestyles Nature Architecture offers an intimate glimpse into this culture through the signature solutions some of its leading architects have achieved in integrating space light color and local building materials and decorative elements all anchored in traditional design features into a oneness with a resplendent natural setting renowned for its recreational activities water sports and powers for renewal Lake Valle de Bravo We hope you enjoy the weekend homes illustrated in this book We are certain that you will find many design ideas worthy of being incorporated into your own living space Book jacket The Architecture of Ricardo Legorreta John V. Mutlow, 1997 Ricardo Legorreta is the most renowned architect working in Mexico today and his signature use of brilliant saturated reds purples and yellows thick textured walls of stucco and plaster and mysterious light filled spaces has earned him a devoted following and a distinguished international reputation This handsome long awaited monograph on Legorreta the only one available in English showcases 25 of the architect's most recent and celebrated projects in Mexico Texas and California with stunning colour photography throughout and extensive coverage of nine private houses most of which have never been published before Large format photographs and beautiful layouts highlight Legorreta's highly personal aesthetic a combination of abstracted traditional Mexican architectural elements and a thoroughly modern sense of design The Effects of the Nation Carl Good, John V. Waldron, 2009 What is the effect of a nation In this age of globalization is it dead dying or only dormant The essays in this groundbreaking volume use the arts in Mexico to move beyond the national and the global to look at the activity of a community continually re-creating itself within and beyond its own borders Mexico is a particularly apt focus partly because of the vitality of its culture partly because of its changing political identity and partly because of the impact of borders and borderlessness on its national character The ten essays collected here look at a wide range of aesthetic productions especially literature and the visual arts that give context to how art and society interact Steering a careful course between the nostalgia of nationalism and the insensitivity of globalism these essays examine modernism and postmodernism in the Mexican setting Individually they explore the incorporation of historical icons of vanguardism and of international influence From Diego Rivera to Elena Garro from the Tlateloco massacre to the Chiapas rebellion from mass market fiction to the film Aliens the contributors view the many sides of Mexican life as relevant to the creation of a constantly shifting national culture Taken together the essays look both backward and forward at the evolving effect of the Mexican nation

Ricardo Legorreta, Architects Ricardo Legorreta Vilchis, Ricardo Legoretta, Legorreta Arquitectos, 1997 With his signature use of brilliant color thick textured walls and light filled spaces the illustrious Mexican architect Richardo Legorreta has earned a distinguished reputation both in his own country and in the U S This long awaited monograph presents 25 of the architect's recent and most well known projects in Mexico Texas and California 250 illus 200 in color

The Making of Mexican Modernist Architecture Celia Esther Arredondo Zambrano, 2023-05-03 This book presents the making of Mexican Modernist architecture through five power structures academic social status economic political gender and postcolonial and by interviews and analysis of 13 key Mexican architects These include Luis Barragán Jos Villagrán Garcá Juan O Gorman Pedro Ramírez Vázquez Agustín Hernández Abraham Zabludovsky Carlos Mijares Ricardo Legorreta Juan José Díaz Infante Enrique Norten Alberto Kalach Javier Sordo Madaleno and Clara de Buen Although the five power structures framed what was built the testimony of these Mexican architects helps us to recognize and discover subtleties and nuances Their views thereby shed light on what contributed to making Mexican Modernist architecture so distinctive globally Even if these architects were not always aware of the power structures their projects nonetheless supported discrimination marginalization and subjugation In that sense the book also reveals the extent to which these power structures are still present today The Making of Mexican Modernist Architecture's uniqueness lies in uncovering the remarkable buildings that arose amid the five power structures while at the same time questioning their validity It also voices the urgent need today for a new kind of architecture outside these boundaries The book is essential reading for anyone studying Mexican and Latin American architecture

The Architecture of Ricardo Legorreta Ricardo Legorreta Vilchis, Wayne Attoe, Sydney H. Brisker, Hal Box, 1990 Introduces a contemporary Mexican architect who has brought traditional Mexican architecture into the modern world

Angeles Mastretta Jane Elizabeth Lavery, 2005 The first major study on the works of the Mexican novelist Angeles Mastretta demonstrating the rich complexity and range of the author's fiction and essays The Mexican novelist Angeles Mastretta b 1949 has only recently received serious critical attention largely because her work has been seen as popular and therefore inappropriate for academic study This first major work to be published on Mastretta seeks to demonstrate the rich complexity and range of the author's fiction and essays In the tradition of Post Boom Latin American women's writing Mastretta's texts are motivated by a desire to speak primarily of the silenced experiences and voices of women Two of her novels referential and testimonial in style can be placed within the Mexican Revolutionary Novel tradition and explore the Revolutionary period and its consequences in the light of female experiences and perspectives The hitherto unexplored themes of female sexuality and bodily erotics in Mastretta's texts are also considered in this volume Her feminist works avoid facile simplifications heterogeneous and dialogical they interweave the historical and the fictional the everyday and the fantastic The originality of Mastretta s writing lies in its elusive postmodern ambiguities shimmering surfaces are often interrupted by unexpected depths and proliferating meanings cannot be fully circumscribed by critical analysis Jane Elizabeth Lavery lectures in Latin American Studies at the University of Kent
