Matthew Oware author of I Got Something to Say: Gender, Race, and Social Consciousness in Rap Music School Desegregation George W. Noblit, 2015-03-17 This book is written for the Millennial Generation to educate them about what school desegregation was actually about the struggle over white domination in the United States The textbooks they read as high school students describe the heroic efforts of African Americans to achieve civil rights but do not describe who was denying them these rights white Americans The oral histories in this book reveal how individuals navigated efforts to achieve educational equity amidst efforts to reassert white domination These accounts counter the textbook history the Millennial Generation read which omits the massive white resistance to school desegregation the various ways whites used subterfuge to slow down and redirect school desegregation in what would more benefit whites and the concerted white political backlash that has been ensconced in educational policy and reform beginning with A Nation at Risk and continuing in No Child Left Behind That is educational policy as we know it is all about asserting white domination and not about educating children and thus the Millennial Generation is faced with undoing what their parents and grandparents have done The Big Payback Lenny Henry, Marcus Ryder, 2025-10-07 At the abolition of the slave trade two centuries ago the British government paid huge amounts of compensation to slave owners Only in 2015 did British taxpayers stop paying off this debt How is it that slave owners were paid compensation from our taxes yet the enslaved and their families were not Why should the descendants of former slaveowners still benefit from inherited wealth while the successors of the victims of slavery receive nothing and may have even paid towards the debt of compensation through their taxes Beginning with these simple but startling questions Lenny Henry and Marcus Ryder explore the burning issue of how best can we resolve the inequality resulting from 400 years of the enslavement of African people and the ongoing racism still suffered by millions across the world Talking to reparation experts economists politicians and anti-racism campaigners including Bell Rebeiro Addy Robert Beckford Kenneth Mohammed and Kehinde Andrews they investigate how reparations can work and how we can help to make them happen The Double Tax Anna Gifty Opoku-Agyeman, Chelsea Clinton, 2025-09-16 Why is it so expensive to be a woman in America From a rising star in economics comes the first comprehensive look at the costs women face and why the bill runs especially high for women of color with a foreword by Chelsea Clinton The pink tax has gained widespread recognition in recent years but what happens when you look at the costs that define a woman's entire life especially across racial lines In The Double Tax Harvard researcher Anna Gifty Opoku-Agyeman summarizes the disparities that women face as they navigate life's biggest moments Not only do the numbers reveal that women incur higher costs than men but also that Black and white women lead vastly different lives marked by dramatic gaps in job opportunities salaries housing costs childcare access and generational wealth She coins this gap as the double tax the compounded cost of racism and sexism

Through rigorous research and interviews with women across the country Opoku Agyeman calculates the extra money time and effort that women are expected and forced to pay at every stage of their life While the evidence may be discouraging The Double Tax offers actionable solutions for how everyday people local communities and global leaders alike can help relieve women of these costs for good Only by understanding where the gaps are and where the double tax arises can we begin to even the playing field for all
