Conversations with Cinematographers David A. Ellis, 2012 In Conversations with Cinematographers David A. Ellis has assembled interviews with some of the most influential and highly regarded cameramen of the last half century and more. While their names may not be known by the general public, these men and their work have left indelible marks on cinema. Lawrence of Arabia Steven C. Caton, 2023-04-28 Combining ethnography, film criticism, and his extensive knowledge of the Middle East, Steven C. Caton presents an innovative and fascinating examination of the classic film Lawrence of Arabia. Caton is interested in why this epic film has been so compelling for so many people for more than three decades. In seeking an answer, he draws from situations in his own life, biographies of the film's key participants, and analyses of issues relating to class, gender, colonialism, and cultural differences. The result is a many-prismed book that poses important questions of ethnographic representation and the discourse of power. Caton's approach is dialectical, and his readings of the film are situated within different historical periods from the early 1960s to the present. Among the subjects he highlights are travel and colonialism in fieldwork and filmmaking, orientalism in the representation of the Other, and the film's ambiguous handling of masculinity and homosexuality. Caton looks at his own reactions to the film at various stages in his life and offers a thought-provoking account of the film's reception by today's high school and college students. This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program, which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice, reach, and impact. Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893, Voices Revived makes high-quality, peer-reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print-on-demand technology. This title was originally published in 1999. Combining ethnography, film criticism, and his extensive knowledge of the Middle East, Steven C. Caton presents an innovative and fascinating examination of the classic film Lawrence of Arabia. Caton is interested in why this epic film has been so compelling for so many people for more than three decades. Brill's Companion to Ancient Greek and Roman Warfare on Film, 2023-12-18 Brill's Companion to Ancient Greek and Roman Warfare on Film is the first volume exclusively dedicated to the study of a theme that informs virtually every reimagining of the classical world on the big screen: armed conflict. Through a vast array of case studies from the silent era to recent years, the collection traces cinema's enduring fascination with battles and violence in antiquity and explores the reasons both synchronic and diachronic for the central place that war occupies in celluloid Greece and Rome. Situating films in their artistic, economic, and sociopolitical context, the essays cast light on the industrial mechanisms through which the ancient battlefield is refashioned in cinema and investigate why the medium adopts a revisionist approach to textual and visual sources. British Crime Cinema Steve Chibnall, Robert Murphy, 2005-07-27 This is the first substantial study of British cinema's most neglected genre Bringing together original work from some of the leading writers on British popular film this book includes interviews with key directors Mike Hodges Get Carter and Donald Cammell Performance It discusses an abundance of films including acclaimed recent crime films such as Shallow Grave Shopping and Face early classics like They Made Me A Fugitive acknowledged classics such as Brighton Rock and The Long Good Friday 50s seminal works including The Lavender Hill Mob and The Ladykillers Eccentric Britain Benedict Le Vay, 2005 A delightful romp around the British Isles searching out the mad marquess the eccentric earl the barmy baron and the daft duke and gathering a fair collection of crackpot inventors weird adventurers and fascinatingly and not to mention insanely curious customs along the way All of which make this rainy little island home to that remarkable breed of individual the British eccentric This expanded book still doesn't tell you where Stonehenge is but it does tell you where ten spookier stone circles are where there will be no crowds no admission charges and no parking problems This is a book for the intelligent humorous curious tourist who doesn't go with the crowd It is also a great armchair read that has been known to have readers weeping with mirth at the weird ways of the British
