History and the Contemporary Novel David Cowart, 1989 Cowart presents a study of international historical fiction since World War II with reflections on the affinities between historical and fictional narrative analysis of the basic modes of historical fiction and readings of a number of historical novels including John Barth's The Sot-Weed Factor Marguerite Yourcenar's Memoirs of Hadrian Russell Hoban's Riddley Walker Margaret Atwood's The Handmaid's Tale Giuseppe Tomasi di Lampedusa's The Leopard D.M. Thomas's The White Hotel William Faulkner's Go Down Moses and Umberto Eco's The Name of the Rose He proposes recognizing four modes of the historical novel the past as a distant mirror of the present fictions whose authors seek to pinpoint the precise historical moment when the modern age or some prominent feature of it came into existence fictions whose authors aspire purely or largely to historical verisimilitude and fictions whose authors reverse history to contemplate utopia and dystopia in the future Thus historical fiction can be organized under the rubrics The Distant Mirror The Turning Point The Way It Was and The Way It Will Be This fourfold schema and his focus on postwar novels set Cowart's work apart from previous studies which have not devoted adequate space to the contemporary historical novel Cowart argues that postwar historical fiction merits more extensive treatment because it is the product of an age unique in the annals of history an age in which history itself may end Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, 1982-06 The discourse has become alien to the secular and skeptical western societies of the twentieth century There is real discomfort when religious discourse appears either in the popular press or in society But even in a secular society there is still a psychological need one might even use the stronger word will if not to believe then at least to hope Dr Filmer states this need is met in the literature of fantasy      Routledge Revivals: The Violence of Language (1990) Jean-Jacques

Lecerle,2016-09-19 First published in 1990 this book argues that any theory of language constructs its object by separating relevant from irrelevant phenomena excluding the latter This leaves a remainder which consists of the untidy creative part of how language is used the essence of poetry and metaphor Although this remainder can never be completely formalised it must be fully recognised by any true account of language and thus this book attempts the first theory of the remainder As such whether it is language or the speaker who speaks is dealt with leading to an analysis of how all speakers are violently constrained in their use of language by social and psychological realities      Russell Hoban/Forty Years Alida

Allison,2014-04-08 This edited volume reviews the long career of Russell Hoban an American writer residing in England who writes for children and adults The Forty Years in the title refers to the length of Hoban s career to date Hoban s contribution specifically to children s literature is commemorated in this volume of essays by international scholars      The Language of

Shuddering Dawn Ira Chernus,Edward T. Linenthal,1989-08-17 Exploring the symbolic meanings of the Bomb this book excavates the depth dimension of the nuclear age Rather than adding to the many ethical commentaries asking whether or not there should be nuclear weapons the authors ask why there are nuclear weapons and a continuing arms race They also address the kinds of symbolic changes that must occur in order to reverse the build up of nuclear weapons The authors approach these questions from the perspective of academic research not from particular faith commitments asking the reader to envision different human responses to this technology human stances that can be illuminated by the creative insight of religious studies      Science Fiction Authors Maura Heaphy,2008-11-30 For students scholars readers advisors

Rumors of War and Infernal Machines Charles E. Gannon, 2005-08-04 This provocative and unique work reveals the remarkably influential role of futuristic literature on contemporary political power in America Tracing this phenomenon from its roots in Victorian Britain Gannon convincingly demonstrates that military fiction anticipated and even

The Contemporary Post-Apocalyptic Novel Diletta De Cristofaro, 2019-12-26 Traditional apocalyptic texts concern the advent of a better world at the end of history that will make sense of everything that happened before But what is at stake in the contemporary shift to apocalyptic narratives in which the utopian end of time is removed The Contemporary Post Apocalyptic Novel offers an innovative critical model for our cultural obsession with the end by focussing on the significance of time in the 21st century post apocalyptic novel and challenging traditional apocalyptic logic Once confined to the genre of science fiction the increasing popularity of end of the world narratives has caused apocalyptic writing to feature in the work of some of contemporary literature's most well known fiction writers. Considering novels by Will Self, Cormac McCarthy, David Mitchell, Emily St John Mandel, Jeanette Winterson and others, Diletta De Cristofaro frames the contemporary apocalyptic imagination as a critique of modernity's apocalyptic conception of time and history. Interdisciplinary in scope, the book historicises apocalyptic beliefs by exploring how relentlessly they have shaped the modern world. The English Novel in History, 1950 to the Present Professor Steven Connor, Steven Connor, 2008-03-07 Steven Connor provides in-depth analyses of the novel and its relationship with its own form with contemporary culture and with history. He incorporates an extensive and varied range of writers in his discussions such as George Orwell, William Golding, Angela Carter, Doris Lessing, Timothy Mo, Hanif Kureishi, Marina Warner, Maggie Gee. Written by a foremost scholar of contemporary culture and theory, The English Novel in History 1950 to the Present offers not only a survey but also a historical and cultural context to British literature produced in the second half of this century. In a Wayward Mood Daniel Noel, 2004-12 In A Wayward Mood gathers together the most important work of this visionary teacher and cultural observer. It is the essential Daniel C Noel. For more than forty years, Daniel C Noel wrote and taught at the nexus of religion, literature and cultural studies, working in the tradition of C. G. Jung, Joseph Campbell and James Hillman. His books include Seeing Castaneda Approaching Earth: A Search for the Mythic Significance of the Space Age, Paths to the Power of Myth and The Soul of Shamanism. Noel passed away in August 2002. B-Side Books John Plotz, 2021-06-01 There are the acknowledged classics of world literature, the canonical works assigned in schools, topping every must-read list, and then there are the B-Sides. These are the books that slipped through the cracks, went unread, missed their rightful appointment with posterity. They were ahead of their times or behind their times or on a whole different schedule than the rest of the universe. What do you do when a book that you love has been neglected or dismissed by everyone else? In B-Side Books, leading writers, critics and scholars show why their favorite forgotten books deserve a new audience. From dusty westerns and far-out science fiction to obscure Czech novelists and romance novel precursors, the contributors advocate for the unsung virtues of overlooked books. They write about unheralded novels, poetry collections, memoirs and more with understanding, respect, passion and love. In these thoughtful, often personal essays, contributors including Stephanie Burt, Caleb Crain, Merve Emre, Ursula K. Le Guin, Carlo Rotella and Namwali Serpell read books by writers such as Helen DeWitt, Shirley Jackson, Stanislaw Lem, Dambudzo Marechera, Paule Marshall and Charles Portis. Inarticulacy in Creative Writing Practice and Translation Judy Kendall, 2025-03-20 An investigation into the powerful effects occurring at the threshold between articulation and inarticulation in original and translated works, this book models how creative writing research practice processes products and theories can further academic thought. At the threshold of inarticulacy, language can be said to thicken and obscure the usual conditions of legibility or lexical meaning, becoming unfamiliar, flexible, incomplete, even absent. These thickening moments alter and enrich literary processes and texts to initiate a paradigm shift in composition.

translation and reading experiences Interrogating this shift from the viewpoints of writers translators and readers Judy Kendall draws on translation studies literary theory anthropology philosophy and physics and more to examine the practices of Semantic Poetry Translation code switching made up English visual text vital materiality and the material discursive Breaking new ground with her enactment of the ways in which creative writing can take an active and productive lead in research enquiries Kendall looks at works including Old English riddles Nigerian novels J R R Tolkien s and Ursula K Le Guin s narratives Caroline Bergvall s hybrid works Caryl Churchill s The Skriker Patrick Chamoiseau s novels Zong and several other visual texts
