History, Historians, and Autobiography Jeremy D. Popkin, 2005-05-09 Though history and autobiography both claim to tell true stories about the past historians have traditionally rejected first person accounts as subjective and therefore unreliable What then asks Jeremy D Popkin in History Historians and Autobiography are we to make of the ever increasing number of professional historians who are publishing stories of their own lives And how is this recent development changing the nature of history writing the historical profession and the genre of autobiography Drawing on the theoretical work of contemporary critics of autobiography and the philosophy of Paul Ricoeur Popkin reads the autobiographical classics of Edward Gibbon and Henry Adams and the memoirs of contemporary historians such as Emmanuel Le Roy Ladurie Peter Gay Jill Ker Conway and many others he reveals the contributions historians life stories make to our understanding of the human experience Historians autobiographies he shows reveal how scholars arrive at their vocations the difficulties of writing about modern professional life and the ways in which personal stories can add to our understanding of historical events such as war political movements and the traumas of the Holocaust An engrossing overview of the way historians view themselves and their profession this work will be of interest to readers concerned with the ways in which we understand the past as well as anyone interested in the art of life writing

Theoretical Perspectives on Historians' Autobiographies Jaume Aurell, 2015-07-24 E H Carr wrote study the historian before you begin to study the facts This book approaches the life work ideas debates and the context of key 20th and 21st century historians through an analysis of their life writing projects viewed as historiographical sources Merging literary studies on autobiography with theories of history it provides a systematic and detailed analysis of the autobiographies of the most outstanding historians from the classic texts by Giambattista Vico Edward Gibbon and Henry Adams to the Annales historians such as Fernand Braudel Philippe Ari s and Georges Duby to Marxist historians such as Eric Hobsbawm and Annie Kriegel to postmodern historians such as Carolyn Steedman Robert A Rosenstone Carlos Eire Luisa Passerini Elisabeth Roudinesco Gerda Lerner and Sheila Fitzpatrick and to interventional historians such as Geoff Eley Jill Ker Conway Natalie Davis and Gabrielle Spiegel Using a comparative approach to these texts this book identifies six historical autobiographical styles humanistic biographic ego historical monographic postmodern and interventional By privileging historians autobiographies this book proposes a renewed history of historiography one that engages the theoretical evolution of the discipline the way history has been interpreted by historians and the currents of thought and ideologies that have dominated and influenced its writing in the 20th and 21st centuries

New Directions in Local History Since Hoskins Christopher Dyer, Andrew Hopper, Evelyn Lord, 2011-10 Utilizing the techniques developed by renowned local historian W G Hoskins in his landmark study published

50 years ago Local History in England this book demonstrates how local history has evolved as a discipline over the last half century Fifteen historians write about a variety of local history subjects that are significant in their own right but which also point to current trends in the field They show how local historians use their sources systematically from the nonverbal evidence of buildings to various types of electronic sources All periods between the middle ages and the early twenty first century are explored covering many parts of England from Skye to the Kent coast and discussing topics that include social economic religious legal intellectual and cultural history The Age of Asa M. Taylor,2014-11-25 Asa Briggs has been a prominent figure in post war cultural life as a pioneering historian a far sighted educational reformer and a sensitive chronicler of the way in which broadcasting and communication more generally have shaped modern society He has also been a devoted servant of the public good involved in many inquiries boards and trusts Yet few accounts of public life in Britain since the Second World War include a discussion or appreciation of his influential role This collection of essays provides the first critical assessment of Asa Briggs career using fresh research and new perspectives to analyse his contribution and impact on scholarship the expansion of higher education at home and overseas and his support and leadership for the arts and media more generally The online bibliography of Asa Briggs publications which accompanies the book is available on the The Institute of Historical Research website here Behavior, Technology, and Organizational Development Richard Trahair,2017-09-08 Eric Trist was a psychologist social scientist and a leading figure in the field of organizational development He was a founding member of the Tavistock Institute of Human Relations in London and spent many years in United States academia This book delves into Trist s life to examine the evolution of his work and how he applied social science theory knowledge and methods to the organization of working life and its management Richard Trahair outlines Trist s socio technical theory of organization and how it applies to the turbulent environment that modern managers face Trahair begins with Trist s educational career in England and his attitude toward American and English education He also describes Trist s work to improve the United Kingdom s Army s method of selecting men for officer training in wartime and his role in the establishment of the Civil Resettlement Units in England In place of the traditional technology driven bureaucracy of industry Trist recommended that social science researchers help reorganize industries on socio technical lines Trist provided convincing evidence that organizations dominated by traditional attitudes were inefficient and unsatisfactory He made it clear that seeing workers as little more than costly extensions of machines and the industrial environment as nothing but a set of competitive market forces seriously limited potential for growth The Story of Leicester Siobhan Begley,2013-11-01 The Story of Leicester traces the evolution of this remarkable city When the Romans arrived they developed an existing settlement into Ratae an administrative capital During the Tudor Stuart and Georgian periods the town lost status but remained an important market town Industrialisation and population growth radically changed Leicester during Victorian times and it became prosperous its economy underpinned by the hosiery boot and shoe and engineering industries the basis of modern Leicester This popular history brings the story of the city up to date and provides new insights that will delight both residents and visitors Developing Narrative Theory Ivor Goodson, 2013 We live in an age of narrative life stories are a crucial ingredient in what makes us human and in turn what kind of human they make us In recent years narrative analysis has grown and is used across many areas of research Interest in this rapidly developing approach now requires the firm theoretical underpinning that would allow researchers to both approach such research in a reliably structured way and to interpret the results more effectively Developing Narrative Theory looks at the contemporary need to study life narratives considers the emergence and salience of life narratives in contemporary culture and discusses different forms of narrativity It shows in detail how life story interviews are conducted and demonstrates how the process often begins with relatively unstructured life story collection but moves to a more collaborative exchange where sociological themes and historical patterns are scrutinised and mutually explored At the core of this book the author shows that far from there being a singular form of narrative or an infinite range of unique and idiosyncratic narratives there are in fact clusters of narrativity and particular types of narrative style These can be grouped into four main areas Focussed Elaborators Scripted Describers Armchair Elaborators and Focussed Describers Drawing on data from several large scale studies from countries across the world Professor Goodson details how theories of narrativity and life story analysis can combine to inform learning potential Timely and innovative this book will be of use to all of those employing narrative and life history methods in their research It will also be of interest to those working in lifelong learning and with professional and self development practices Only in the Common People Paul Long, 2008-12-18 corrupt and moronic though the common people are seemingly becoming only in the common people can the true work be rooted the true tradition rediscovered and re informed Charles Parker BBC Radio Producer 1959 In 1958 in his best selling book Culture and Society Raymond Williams identified working class culture as a key issue in our own time Why this happened and how this subject was thought about and acted upon is the focus of this book Paul Long investigates a variety of projects and practices that were designed to describe validate reclaim rejuvenate or generate authentic working class culture as part of the re imagining of Britishness in the context of the post war settlement Detailed case studies cover the wartime cultural activities of CEMA the forerunner of the Arts Council the Folk Revival the impact of Richard Hoggart s The Uses of Literacy broadcasting and the radio work of Charles Parker Ewan MacColl and Peggy Seeger the roots of modern arts festivals in Arnold Wesker s Centre 42 project as well as the impact of progressive education on children s writing and the politics of the English language Only in the Common People The Aesthetics of Class in Post War Britain examines the assumptions idealism and prejudices behind these projects and the terms of class as the preoccupation of a generation This approach offers a historicisation of the broader ideas and debates that informed the development of the New Left and British social history and cultural theory offering an understanding of the rise of respect for the common man Bearing Witness Doug Munro, Jack Corbett, 2017-07-13 Brij V

Lal is a singular scholar His work has spanned disciplines from history to politics and genres from conventional monograph history to participant history political commentary encyclopaedia biography and faction Brij is without doubt the most eminent scholar Fiji has ever produced He also remains the most significant public intellectual of his country despite having been banned from entering it in 2009 He is also one of the leading Pacific historians of his generation and an internationally recognised authority on the Indian diaspora This Festschrift volume celebrates reflects upon and extends the life and work of this colourful scholar The essays whose contributors are drawn from across the globe do more than review Brij s work they also probe his contribution to both scholarly and political life This book will therefore serve as an invaluable guide for readers from all walks of life seeking to better situate and understand the impact of Brij s scholarly activism on Fiji and beyond Clive Moore University of Queensland It is a pleasure to commend this collection of very different essays that celebrate reflect upon and extend the life and work of a remarkable scholar Although I have had at times a close association with Brij Lal s life and work I have learned much from reading this book It provokes further thought about the course of democracy in Fiji and the very sorry state and future of Pacific history and the humanities in academia Here is a timely assertion of the significance and major contribution that courageous scholars such as Brij have made to the study and public awareness of these areas of concern Jacqueline Leckie University of Otago

Fighting for Britain David Killingray,2012 Based mainly on oral evidence and soldiers letters tells the story of over half a million African troops who served with the British Army in campaigns in the Horn of Africa the Middle East Italy and Burma Looks at the impact of army life and travel on the men and their families and the role of ex servicemen in post war nationalist politics

The Contradictions of Culture Elizabeth Wilson,2001-03-08 In this book one of the most accomplished and thoughtful cultural commentators of the day considers the contradictory nature of cultural relations Elizabeth Wilson explores these themes through an examination of fashion feminism consumer culture representation and postmodernism Debates within feminism on the nature and effects of pornography are used to illustrate a particular kind of cultural contradiction Wilson recognizes that postmodernism permitted the reappropriation of subjects that were not previously considered worthy of attention or opposed to the idea of emancipation chief among these was fashion She shows that the association of an interest in this culturally significant subject with a revisionist project raises doubt

British Working-Class Writing for Children Haru Takiuchi,2017-08-21 This book explores how working class writers in the 1960s and 1970s significantly reshaped British children s literature through their representations of working class life and culture Aidan Chambers Alan Garner and Robert Westall were examples of what Richard Hoggart termed scholarship boys working class individuals who were educated out of their class through grammar school education This book highlights the role these writers played in changing the publishing and reviewing practices of the British children s literature industry while offering new readings of their novels featuring scholarship boys As well as drawing on the work of Raymond Williams and Pierre Bourdieu and referring to studies of scholarship boys in the fields of social science and education this book also explores personal interviews and previously unseen archival materials

Yielding significant insights on British children's literature of the period this book will be of particular interest to scholars and students in the fields of children's and working class literature and of British popular culture Distant Drums Ashley Jackson, 2009-12-03 Reveals how colonies were central to the defence of the British Empire and the command of the oceans that underpinned it This title blends overviews of the nature of imperial defence with grass roots explanations of how individual colonies were mobilised for war Poetry for historians Carolyn Steedman, 2018-04-13 This is a book about the conflict between history and poetry and historians and poets in Atlantic World society from the end of the seventeenth century to the present day Blending historiography and theory it proceeds by asking what is the point of poetry as far as historians are concerned The focus is on W H Auden's Cold War era history poems but the book also looks at other poets from the seventeenth century onwards providing original accounts of their poetic and historical educations An important resource for those teaching undergraduate and postgraduate courses in historiography and history and theory Poetry for historians will also be of relevance to courses on literature in society and the history of education General readers will relate it to Steedman's Landscape for a Good Woman 1987 and Dust 2001 on account of its biographical and autobiographical insights into the way history operates in modern society Labour History Review, 1995 The Routledge Companion to Children's Literature and Culture Claudia Nelson, Elisabeth Wesseling, Andrea Mei-Ying Wu, 2023-11-30 Focusing on significant and cutting edge preoccupations within children's literature scholarship The Routledge Companion to Children's Literature and Culture presents a comprehensive overview of print digital and electronic texts for children aged zero to thirteen as forms of world literature participating in a panoply of identity formations Offering five distinct sections this volume Familiarizes students and beginning scholars with key concepts and methodological resources guiding contemporary inquiry into children's literature Describes the major media formats and genres for texts expressly addressing children Considers the production distribution and valuing of children's books from an assortment of historical and contemporary perspectives highlighting context as a driver of content Maps how children's texts have historically presumed and prescribed certain identities on the part of their readers sometimes addressing readers who share some part of the author's identity sometimes seeking to educate the reader about a presumed other and in recent decades increasingly foregrounding identities once lacking visibility and voice Explores the historical evolutions and trans regional contacts and inter connections in the long process of the formation of global children's literature highlighting issues such as retranslation transnationalism transculturality and new digital formats for considering cultural crossings and renegotiations in the production of children's literature Methodically presented and contextualized this volume is an engaging introduction to this expanding and multifaceted field British Fiction of the 1990s Nick Bentley, 2007-05-07 Presenting a fresh perspective on the diverse writings that appeared in British fiction during the 1990s this book brings together leading academics in the field

Horrifying Children Lauren Stephenson, Robert Edgar, John Marland, 2024-03-07 Horrifying Children examines weird and eerie children's television and literature via critical analysis, memoir, and autoethnography. There has been an explosion of interest in the impact of children's television and literature of the late twentieth century. In particular, the 1970s, 80s, and 90s are seen as decades that shaped a great deal of the contemporary cultural landscape. Television of this period dominated the world of childhood entertainment, drawing freely upon literature and popular culture like the Garbage Pail Kids and Stranger Things, and much of it continues to resonate powerfully with the generation of cultural producers: fiction writers, screenwriters, directors, musicians, and artists that grew up watching the weird, the eerie, and the horrific—the essence of 21st-century Hauntology. In these terms, this book is not about children's television as it exists now but rather as it features as a facet of memory in the 21st century. As such, it is the legacy of these television programmes that is at the core of Horrifying Children. The haunting of adults by what we have seen on the screen is crucial to the study. This collection directly addresses that which scared us in the past, inasmuch as there is a correlation between individual and collective cultural memory, with some chapters providing an opportunity for situating existing explorations and understandings of Gothic and Horror TV within a hauntological and experiential framework.
