marriage and parenting is being lost in today's society. Do you worry about the damage that weakened familial bonds are causing for our children and our future? If so, Reclaiming Matrimonium is for you. In this thought-provoking and eye-opening book, author Conrad Riker delves into the historical importance of matrimonium, uncovering how it has been replaced with a simulacrum of ersatz relationships. With precision and clarity, Riker dismantles the destructive consequences of progressive applications of the Hegelian dialectic on the family unit and exposes the feminist abolition of father leadership. By exploring the evolutionary biology that shaped human desire for lifelong partnerships, Riker champions the importance of matrimonium as a sacred institution in religious traditions, a foundation of social stability, and a bulwark against cultural Marxism. While also examining the rise of simulacrum of ersatz marriage, Riker demonstrates the importance of matrimonium as a counterpoint to radical feminism and a means of cultivating emotional intelligence, spiritual growth, and social harmony. If you want to revitalize the traditional family and reclaim matrimonium, then buy this book today and join the fight against cultural revolution. Discover the crucial role that fathers play in providing guidance, protection, and financial support for their families, and learn how traditional matrimonial roles empower women by recognizing their unique contributions as mothers and wives. With a focus on the importance of cultural continuity, matrimonial unions, and economic prosperity, Reclaiming Matrimonium offers a comprehensive examination of the issues facing traditional families and provides a roadmap for preserving our society's most precious resource: the family itself.

Italian Gothic Horror Films, 1970-1979 Roberto Curti, 2017-09-11 Italian Gothic horror films of the 1970s were influenced by the violent giallo movies and adults-only comics of the era, resulting in a graphic approach to the genre. Stories often featured over-the-top violence and nudity and pushed the limits of what could be shown on the screen. The decade marked the return of specialist directors like Mario Bava, Riccardo Freda, and Antonio Margheriti, and the emergence of new talents such as Pupi Avati. The House with the Laughing Windows and Francesco Barilli's The Perfume of the Lady in Black. The author examines the Italian Gothic horror of the period, providing previously unpublished details and production data taken from official papers, original scripts, and interviews with filmmakers, scriptwriters, and actors. Entries include complete cast and crew lists, plot summaries, production history, and analysis. An appendix covers Italian made-for-TV films and mini-series.

Italian Horror Films of the 1960s Lawrence McCallum, 2024-10-14 Until I vampiri (The Vampires) in 1956, Italian filmmakers generally eschewed horror in favor of fantasy films and big-screen spectacles. In the 1960s, the subjects became as varied as the filmmakers, ranging from the comic-strip flavor of The Wild Wild Planet (1966) to the surrealistic mixture of horror and social commentary of Fellini's Toby Dammit segment of Spirits of the Dead (1969). Arranged by English title, each entry includes Italian title, studio, running time, year of release, work the film is based on, when appropriate, and cast and credits. These data are followed by a lengthy essay blending a plot synopsis with critical commentary and behind-the-scenes information.
