

THE LURE

When you are knackered and cheap food cramps up your guts with pain, you'll hear the faeries through the glass,
beyond the mizzling rain.

They sing: you deserve more than this — more than the toil and blame.
Somewhere that's light and glittering.
Escape, child, to Elfame.

They lured me barefoot from my bed through night to the wild hill.
I watched it split like a dark skull to show a wondrous hall

with violins and green cupcakes, rubies and perfumed oils,
and cocktails of nightingales' tears,
all framed by crystal walls, and the Erl-Queen in pure gold robes — whose hand I dipped to kiss — said: if you look, child, but don't eat, you can aspire to this.

And so each dusk that Faerie Land called me across the vale.
I'd dance the night with comely men,
and leave there drained and pale.

At home I became listless, cold.
I would abruptly snap.
I spat their soup out, called them bores
and all their décor crap.

They said: there's beauty here as well in hedge and bloom and day.
There's us... I laughed out loud at that.
My whole life passed this way.

I knew I deserved more than them,
More than the hard and plain.
Somewhere that's light and glittering.
I belonged in Elfame.

Then, one night, thought: what if I ate

 Written almost exclusively in traditional modified and nonce forms the poems in Lures renegotiate grief trauma southern masculinities and fatherhood with unflinching resolve This new collection by Adam Vines draws much of its subject matter and imagery from fishing revealing how close observations of species spawning cycles predation and feeding patterns underwater topographies water clarity and lure choice reflect larger themes of what it means to be lured through memories

 Orient dawn had found me Kneeling at the house of fame Fame found Madge Morris Wagner in the blazing Colorado desert her fingers on the pulse of Nature Or at least thither sent Lippincotts of Philadelphia to find her and persuade her to speak through them to the world And this is what she said like all who are truly great teachers making a text of the place and the time To The Colorado Desert Thou brown bare breasted voiceless mystery Hot sphinx of nature cactus crowned what hast thou done Unclothed and mute as when the groans of chaos turned Thy naked burning bosom to the sun The mountain silences have speech the rivers sing Thou answerest never unto anything Pink throated lizards pant in thy slim shade The horned toad runs rustling in the heat The shadowy gray coyote born afraid Steals to some brackish spring and laps and prowls Away and howls and howls and howls and howls Until the solitude is shaken with an added loneliness Thy sharp mescal shoots up a giant stalk Its century of yearning to the sunburnt skies And drips rare honey from the lips Of yellow waxen flowers and dies Some lengthwise sun dried shapes with feet and hands And thirsty mouths pressed on the sweltering sands Mark here and there a gruesome graveless spot Where some one drank thy scorching hotness and is not God must have made thee in his anger and forgot Not since I can remember have I heard a voice so true as this It is like the sublime and solemn bass of St John It is even John the Baptist crying in the wilderness Indeed I doubt if you will find anything more terribly truthful and fearfully sublime this side of Job than this one lone lorn cry from the desert About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
