Making Our High Schools Better How Parents And Teachers Can Work Together:

Making Our High Schools Better Anne Wescott Dodd, Jean L. Konzal, 2000-09-02 Calling on teachers and parents to work together two noted educators examine how teachers and parents can better understand their varying perspectives and negotiate their differences to improve high schools Resources in Education, 1998 How Communities Build

Stronger Schools A. Dodd, J. Konzal, 2016-03-05 If it takes a village to raise a child Anne Wescott Dodd and Jean L. Konzal feel that it takes a community to make a school Not content with the idea of a school being contained within four walls and existing only for a few hours every day Dodd and Konzal know that a school which looks after the complete child exists far beyond its four walls and for the whole 24 hours in each day They present a radical democratic vision of the public school where everyone not just students teachers and parents plays a part in shaping our children and consequently our future

Engaging All Families Steven M. Constantino, 2003-10-22 Families are a child's first and best teachers A significant amount of research exists that strongly links the engagement of families in the educational lives of their children as a strong foundation to the successful achievement of all students Educators cannot expect total engagement and high standards from students if both families and schools cannot form powerful alliances to guide those students to academic and lifelong success Putting research into practice remains one of the most significant barriers to engaging families with schools School leaders already stretched thin struggle to carve out the time and energy necessary to pour through research and create programs to promote family engagement within their school and community As principal of a large comprehensive and diverse high school Constantino solves this dilemma by providing a step by step process for practitioners to create family engagement programs at all levels Engaging All Families provides a summary of research that acts as a foundation upon which the practitioner's tools are crafted Readers are given the resources necessary to assess their present level of family engagement and the ideas strategies suggestions programs practices policies and procedures to implement a wide variety of customized family engagement programs Numerous resources and references are also included As a successful school administrator and nationally known expert in the field of family and community engagement Steven Constantino builds the bridge from research to practice with Engaging All Families and provides the information that allows all schools to become family friendly

Learning to Teach Natalie G. Adams, Christine Mary Shea, Delores D. Liston, Bryan Deever, 2006-08-15 This text is designed to assist preservice and inservice teachers in creating a critical and reflective dialogue with themselves their assigned classroom cultures and the larger school environment It engages readers in a series of classroom and school based activities observations and exercises that can be used in any teacher education course with a field component Different from other field experience guides this text aims to disrupt traditional conceptions of teacher education and field experiences by emphasizing the problematic nature and dynamics of public schooling and encouraging readers to seek a greater awareness of their own attitudes toward and connections with these educational processes Learning to Teach A Critical Approach to the Field Experience Second Edition dramatically reconceptualizes the field experience by asking preservice and inservice teachers to be active and critical researchers of classroom practices and processes provides a coherent framework for analyzing both structural and cultural aspects of schooling provides specific exercises to help preservice and inservice teachers evaluate and understand the intersections of race class gender and culture in real life school settings and grounds the observations of everyday school life within critical feminist and poststructuralist discourses New in the Second Edition A new section No Child Left Untested has been added to help preservice teachers explore the implications of a very changed post September 11 world in which xenophobia violence patriotism citizenship and democracy have taken on new meanings The introduction to the book as a whole the section introductions the retained activities in existing sections and the references have been thoroughly updated Preparing for College William G. Tierney, Zoe B. Corwin, Julia E.

Colyar, 2005-01-01 Analyzes and defines the parameters of effective college outreach programs Could It Be Otherwise? Lois André-Bechely, 2013-10-11 Parents who wish to choose schools for their children must have more than a desire for different or better they need detailed knowledge of the processes and practices that will give them access to schools of choice This book vividly contrasts the experiences of a diverse group of urban parents choosing their children's schools with school choice policies from voluntary integration mandates to the No Child Left Behind Act Lois Andr Bechely carefully uncovers the race and class based inequities these policies sustain documenting the way parents themselves become complicit in the historical inequalities of schooling This book exposes how educational institutions are making this so and provokes new thinking about how public school choice could be implemented in more equitable and democratic ways
