and of faculty peers engagement and collaboration with colleagues within the same teacher community across teaching and supervision communities and across institutional boundaries It also discusses the significance of trust in these peer group mentoring settings summarises the implications of the reported findings and addresses the role this peer based approach might play in developing supportive collegiality in higher education as a working environment Pearson's Magazine ,1911 Vol 49 no 9 Sept 1922 accompanied by a separately paged section entitled ERA electronic reactions of Abrams
