Regional Partners In Global Markets Limits And Possibilities Of The Euromed Agreements:

Regional Partners in Global Markets Ahmed Galal, Bernard Hoekman, 1997 Development Centre Seminars
Towards Arab and Euro-Med Regional Integration OECD, Economic Research Forum for the Arab Countries, Iran and Turkey, 2001-12-05 This book examines the dynamics of open regionalism the expansion of domestic markets from increased FDI and monetary stability and the optimal mix of regional trade agreements Impact of European Union Association Agreements on Mediterranean Countries Mr. Henri C. Ghesquière, 1998-08-01 By establishing free trade for industrial products in 12 years the European Union's Association Agreements with countries in the Mediterranean region seek to promote accelerated economic growth This paper reviews the literature and evaluates the economic benefits and costs for Tunisia Morocco Lebanon Egypt and Jordan It concludes that the benefits could be substantial but only if accompanied by deep supplementary reforms including extending trade liberalization to services and agriculture and on a multilateral basis improving the environment for foreign direct investment ensuring an adequate fiscal and exchange rate policy response and strengthening European Union assistance Challenges and Reforms of Economic Regulation in MENA Countries Imed Limam, 2003 Focuses on the challenges faced by MENA economies to improve their competitiveness in the world economy The Dimensions of Regional Trade Integration in Southeast Asia Zakir Hafez, 2021-10-01 This is the first comprehensive work on the free trade area of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN Free Trade Area AFTA The author argues that in practice the free trade area of ASEAN is a failure and that unless AFTA leaders take serious measures to improve it it will change from being not that useful into being completely useless Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint Catching Up with the Competition Bernard M. Hoekman, Jamel Zarrouk, 2010-05-18 At a time when countries in the Middle East and North Africa MENA are joining the World Trade Organization the lack of an economically sound analysis of trade policies in the region is especially notable This volume remedies the situation by bringing together a distinguished group of applied trade economists to provide a broad view of the state of trade in and among the region's nations The contributors provide original empirical analyses on key reform issues and their work reflects deep knowledge of government concerns and policies Part 1 sets the scene by comparing the performance of the MENA region with the rest of the world on a large number variables and indicators Part 2 contains a number of CGE model based analyses of trade policy reform options Part 3 focuses on specific policy areas standards as nontariff barriers and red tape trade facilitation an assessment of the impact of protecting intellectual property using partial equilibrium techniques and a review of the existing Euro Med agreements Part 4 discusses how the region could benefit from WTO membership and from changing the existing regional integration schemes into arrangements that help promote a growth enhancing reform agenda The volume will be essential reading for economists and policymakers working in and with the MENA nations as well as officials at the multilateral and regional institutions Contributors are A Halis Akder Benita Cox Dean De Rosa Hana a Kheir El Din Sherine

Dee, 2013 The book shows policy makers how to approach the economics and politics of services trade reform domestically consistent with relevant special features of services trade It shows analysts the full policy implications of those special features including what they mean and how services reform should be treated in the future in national and international forums The External

Economic Dimension of the European Union Gerrit Faber, Pitou van Dijk, 2021-11-22 The External Economic Dimensions of the European Union focuses on the broad range of recent initiatives taken by the EU to reinforce its common external economic policy in a rapidly changing environment The prospects of the EU are increasingly interrelated with the dynamics of the world economy In the multipolar post Cold War economy the EU faces many uncertainties and new challenges The transatlantic link still dominates the EU's external relations but the cohesion of the Euro American relationship has been tested severely Moreover the transition of Central and Eastern Europe and the rise of new growth poles in Asia and Latin America have not only creates new opportunities for trade and investment but intensified international competition at the same time The volume is organised in two parts Part I focuses on the competitiveness of the EU and its position in the world economy as well as on specific aspects of its external economic policies including the restructuring of the Common Agricultural Policy and the enlargement of the EU membership Part II is exclusively devoted to the regional dimension of the external policy of the EU and focuses on the rapidly evolving relationship with the other Triad powers the USA and Japan the neighbouring countries and the emerging markets The book brings together a range of distinguished authors who analyse the wide range of initiatives from the perspective of economics political science and law It is a timely and essential work that will reward the attention of policymakers and interested academics throughout the world The Strategic Dynamics of

Latin American Trade Vinod K. Aggarwal, Ralph H. Espach, Joseph S. Tulchin, 2004 This volume analyzes trade agreements in Latin America since the mid 1980s and provides a theoretical framework that highlights the political economic tradeoffs entailed in different trade strategies formulated and pursued by different countries in the region It contains detailed empirically grounded studies of Argentina Brazil Chile Mexico and the Mercosur block as a whole Multilateralism and Regionalism in the Post-Uruguay Round Era Olga Memedovic, A. Kuyvenhoven, Willem T.M. Molle, 2012-12-06 The Post Uruguay Round era has seen a proliferation of regional preferential trade agreements PTAs as well as progressive multilateral trade liberalization initiatives This has stimulated theoretical discussion on whether the policy of pursuing PTAs will have a malign or a benign impact on multilateralism In the former case proliferation of PTAs may increase protection in global trade due to trade diversion effects thereby creating impediments to multilateral freeing of global trade In the latter case the expansion of PTA membership could ultimately lead to non discriminatory global free trade At the core of this discussion is the question of how to explain the preference for PTA membership While some economists view the expansion of PTA membership as exogenously determined participants of the Fourth Annual Workshop of the Network EU LDC Trade and Capital Relations also considered endogenous factors explaining increased PTA membership This book offers a closer look at the motives of policy makers in both developed and developing countries to still adhere to PTAs notwithstanding the theoretical superiority of multilateralism and addresses the question of how to bring order into the world trading system These issues are dealt with in 9 chapters by scholars from both the EU and LDCs Each paper is discussed in terms of its policy relevance by a policy maker as well as by an academic specialized in the field

Trade Liberalization and Poverty in the Middle East and North Africa Nicholas Minot, 2009 Agricultural trade liberalization has been resisted by many developing country policymakers including those in the Middle East and North Africa for fear it could hurt domestic farmers and exacerbate poverty The authors of Trade Liberalization and Poverty in the Middle East and North Africa argue however that this concern about liberalization might be misplaced Drawing on case studies from Egypt Morocco Syria and Tunisia the study uses household survey data and computable general equilibrium models to simulate the effects of various liberalization scenarios on different types of households in these countries especially poor households The results indicate that agricultural trade barriers are not an effective means of protecting the poor and that the benefits from many forms of agricultural trade liberalization to the region's consumers outweigh the costs to producers If complemented with other domestic programs including agricultural research and extension information services disease control and social safety nets the reforms have the potential to reduce poverty in these nations The study findings are a valuable resource for policymakers and development specialists evaluating the role trade liberalization can play in economic development and poverty reduction

The European Union's Mediterranean Policy: Model or Muddle? K. Knio, 2013-11-15 By analysing case studies through the lens of new constructivist Institutional perspective this book sheds new light on the failure of EU policies in the Mediterranean It suggests that these failures are the result of problems at the very heart of EU policy making which clearly privilege economic concerns over social concerns

WTO Negotiations and Agricultural Trade Liberalization Eugenio Díaz-Bonilla, Søren Elkjær Frandsen, Sherman Robinson, 2006-01-01 Based on original research by the Food and Resource Economic Institute in Denmark and the International Food Policy Research Institute in Washington DC this book addresses the controversial issue of the effects of developed countries agricultural policies on developing countries Written from the perspective of developing countries it addresses the main issues raised by developing countries governments politicians farmers organizations NGO's trade specialists and development specialists It focuses on the key issues of food security poverty regional agreements multifunctionality in agriculture and the trade of genetically modified products as an input to policy reform within the World Trade Organization trade negotiations

Institutional Reform & Economic Development in Egypt Noha

El-Mikawy, Heba Ahmad Handoussa, 2002 This pioneering volume addresses the key issue of the relationship between politics and economics with special reference to Egypt in the 1990s Drawing on the expertise of both political scientists and economists it assembles an impressive array of data including detailed opinion surveys to demonstrate conclusively that political and economic reform need to proceed in tandem In an insightful analysis of the Egyptian legislature the authors draw attention to a fundamental aspect of institutional reform namely the informational and knowledge base of legislation as well as the organizational infrastructure of policy formulation As regards Egypt's economic performance since the early 1990s they focus in particular on impediments to improved export performance and offer solid recommendations as to how such obstacles might be overcome This stimulating study makes a timely contribution to political economic analysis which may at the same time prove helpful in the formulation of new policies Economic Policy and Performance in the Arab World Paul Rivlin, 2001 An exploration of the domestic and international pressures that affect economic policy and performance in the Arab states Paul Rivlin finds that during the last decade of the 20th century these pressures combined to simultaneously foster change and limit available policy options Anchoring Reform with a US-Egypt Free Trade Agreement, Considers the economic and political characteristics of Egypt as a potential FTA partner This book examines the benefits and challenges in pursuing bilateral negotiations with Egypt examines the Bush proposal for a regional arrangement and assesses the impact of a prospective FTA on other trading partners and on the multilateral trading system Agricultural Trade and Rural Development in the Middle East and North Africa Dean A.
