Regionalization And Security In Southern Africa:

Regionalization and Security in Southern Africa N. Poku, 2001-02-02 Once torn by ideological conflicts and the dominance of command economies Southern Africa is now moving towards economic liberalism and openness In general the ascendancy of market economics is acknowledged by its governments albeit with different degrees of enthusiasm Theoretically rich and empirically engaging this timely book offers a critical insight into the ensuing debate on regionalism and the process of regionalization in southern Africa

Regionalization of Security and the Reconstruction of a Region Gladys Mokhawa, Ian Taylor, University of St. Andrews. School of International Relations, 2011 This thesis central aim is to rethink regional security cooperation in southern Africa by transcending the geopolitics that has been characteristic to the region The constructivist inspired regional security complex theory is thus preferred as an analytic device through which a non statist understanding of security within the region could be conceived Furthermore to understand how the Southern African Development Community SADC is involved in the re construction of the region the region building approach is adopted although the thesis is mindful of the fact that this approach is relevant to regions that have high levels of regionality Comprehension of the regional security cooperation could not be possible without deconstructing the taken for granted understanding of regional security cooperation To this end post modern and post structuralists traditions become sites in which the altered and reformulations of regional security cooperation can be imagined with the hope of re imagining new interpretations of regional security politics Thus linguistically inspired methodology and methods are embraced in order to unmask the taken for granted understandings and transform them into objects of discussion and criticism Therefore SADC s critical and ironic security dynamics are considered within the post modern tradition without necessarily engaging in the aesthetics of this tradition Zimbabwe as a case illuminates the limits of modernistic understanding of regional security cooperation The thesis concludes by proposing regionalist understanding of security alternatives that are based on integrated analysis of security threats and preventative approach to responses

The New Regionalism in Africa Fredrik Söderbaum, 2017-03-02 This edited volume transcends conventional state centric and formalistic notions of regionalism and theorizes conceptualizes and analyzes the complexities and contradictions of regionalization processes in contemporary Africa The collection not only unpacks and theorizes the African state society complex with regard to new regionalism but also explicitly integrates the often neglected discourse of human security and human development In so doing the book moves the discussion of new regionalism forward at the same time as it adds important insights to security and development It is organized into three parts Part I theorizes conceptualizes and analyzes the new regionalism in Africa from the point of view of the region e g West East Central and Southern Africa The national perspectives in Part II focus on the new regionalism in Africa from the point of view of particular countries or specific state society complexes such as Kenya the Democratic Republic of the Congo DRC the enclave of Cabinda Angola and Zambia Part III contains two concluding chapters that tie the main threads of the volume together theoretically and empirically and discuss the contribution of the analytical framework the new regionalism approach NRA to the larger study of regionalism      Security and Development in

Southern Africa Nana Poku,2001-04-30 With the end of white dominated South Africa many observers have argued for a positive transformation of the whole of Southern Africa based upon market integration and increased cooperation among the states of the region Poku and the contributors to this collection re examine this optimistic scenerio and they point to the problems of translating good intentions into actual policies In reality the economic imbalance between South Africa and its neighbors poses severe problems for the region Far from finding a stronger ally in regional reconstruction and development the countries in the region are finding that for many in South Africa they simply do not matter that much The analysis points to greater polarization which may imply greater marginalization of the poorer countries in the region Moreover a major widening of the gap between the richer South Africa and some or all of the weaker economies may lead to increased tensions and breakdown of regional relations even to a situation detrimental to economic development in the region A provocative analysis by some of the leading politico economic thinkers of the region the volume will be of great use to scholars researchers and policy makers involved with Southern African development      Regional Security Rodrigo

Tavares,2009-12-16 This book is the first systematic study of the capacities of the most recognized intergovernmental organizations with a security mandate      South Africa and the Logic of Regional Cooperation James J. Hentz,2005 Examines South Africa s role in regional political economy since its transition to democracy      Region-Building in Southern Africa

The Political Economy of Regionalism F. Söderbaum,2004-10-29 The Political Economy of Regionalism The Case of Southern Africa challenges prevailing wisdom showing how ruling political elites and big business join forces with certain external actors in order to promote market integration and economic globalization boost regimes and to satisfy group specific and even personal interests Only rarely do these forms of regionalism contribute to the poor and disadvantaged who instead opt out and survive through informal economic regionalisms or seek to create regionalisms rooted in civil society

Civil Society Regionalization in Southern Africa Andréas Godsäter, 2016-05-12 This book investigates civil society regionalization in Southern Africa The point of departure is the study of new regionalism which refers to the wave of regional integration globally since the 1980s However whilst the current regionalism studies undoubtedly contributes to a deeper understanding of regional processes important gaps remain in particular the relatively scant emphasis given to civil society This particularly relates to regions in the global South including Southern Africa The overarching aim of this book is therefore to analyse the dynamics of civil society regionalization in Southern Africa both empirically and from a theoretical perspective through analysing the cases of trade and HIV AIDS The study finds that CSOs can be more active in regional governance than has previously been conceptualized and are also highly active in terms of constructing regionalization through framing issues and to a less extent making identities regional Furthermore the book enhances knowledge of the heterogeneous nature of civil society regionalization Lastly it is demonstrated that going regional is only partly an autonomous process and also has to be understood as under the influence of the deeper statist and capitalist social structures marking the regional order in Southern Africa

The New Regionalism and the Future of Security and Development B. integration to be tangibly consolidated and institutionalized direct involvement of the people of Southern Africa the peoples agency is paramount and would lead to what is dubbed in this book as sadcness and sadcnization More specifically democratization and integration are about people citizens the sovereigns and not merely the abstract actors called nation states Using the case studies of Angola Botswana Madagascar Mozambique South Africa and Zimbabwe the contributors have from political and public administration dimensions engaged in this epistemology assessing among other things the peoples of Southern Africa the Southern Africa Development Community integration nexus

Critical Security Studies Keith Krause,Michael C. Williams,2002-09-11 This text takes issue with arguments that security studies is a discipline of limited use in making sense of the post Cold War world It argues that many of the most interesting theoretical issues in international relations can most usefully be studied through a prism labelled security studies The book combines chapters which provide a variety of critical perspectives on the discipline and address a diverse range of theoretical concerns with chapters that examine such substantive issues as weapons proliferation and the changing meaning of security for actors in the erstwhile conflict between East and West shifts provide new challenges and opportunities for transatlantic partners and the world community      Regionalism in Hard Times Mario Telò, 2016-09 Brexit confirms that the EU is not a super state in the making but rather an advanced regional organization This book bridges the gap between EU studies and international relations by providing a student friendly presentation of regional multidimensional cooperation among neighbouring states and societies its four epochs and relevant variations and similarities across five continents its interplay with globalization and the changing post hegemonic and post Cold War international order This text secondly focuses on the question of regionalism in hard times whether the global financial crisis and multipolar power politics are leading to more competitive and political forms of instrumental regionalism and interregionalism in Europe East Asia and the Americas It does this by addressing the political and strategic dimensions of changing regional interregional arrangements and their current and potential impact on global governance notably on trade and security challenges
