Graafmans,Vappu Taipale,Neil Charness,1998 This publication is concerned with gerontechnology the study of technology and ageing with the aim of improving the functioning of older people in daily life The first part of the book is a compilation of the key note addresses describing the background for and the conditions under which the emerging field of gerontechnology can be developed further The chapters deal with political socio economic ethical demographic issues related to gerontechnology Furthermore methodological approaches in human factors ergonomics and industrial design are described Trends in technological developments and innovations conclude the first volume The second part presents some 80 case studies divided over 9 sections 1 perception and cognition 2 communication technology 3 mobility and transport 4 health and home care technology 5 housing 6 training and education 7 safety and security 8 product design and 9 culture and attitudes   Assistive Technology on the Threshold of the New Millennium Christian Bühler,Harry Knops,1999 The field of assistive technology is influenced by the ongoing and rapid development of mainstream technologies on the one hand and continuing changes to social systems in relation to societal events such as the ageing of the population on the other The articles in this book provide a broad overview of developments in technical support for people with functional restrictions key technologies like telecommunications and IT are addressed while low tech practical solutions are also considered   Health Telematics for Clinical Guidelines and Protocols Colin Gordon,J. P. Christensen,1995 Guidelines for clinical practice sometimes also termed practice policies receive increasing attention from clinicians and health services as means for applying best current knowledge to maximise the quality and efficiency of delivered care Earlier studies confirm the growing and widespread importance of this trend within medicine and the widely recognised potential for healthcare telematics as a means to enable the use of clinical guidelines to deliver fullest benefits to patients This book explores the scope and needs for further work in this area Listed by Biological Abstracts RRM BIOSIS volume 47 issue 4 April 1994 the papers presented are wide ranging such that anyone with an interest in any aspect of guideline development or application is likely to find something worthwhile It is therefore a book to dip into according to the reader s interest Even clinicians with little knowledge of telematics will find several chapters on the principles of clinical guidelines and protocols of interest while those from the field of telematics will find plenty of material regarding the complexities of representation of clinical knowledge L Boydell S E Belfast Health and Social Services Trust Belfast UK Journal of Telemedicine and Telecare volume 2 no 1 1996 p 61 62   ,   Interactive Technology and the New Paradigm for Healthcare Richard M.
