Dacia Maraini's Narratives of Survival Tommasina Gabriele, 2015-12-03 Dacia Maraini's Narratives of Survival Re-Constructed focuses on Dacia Maraini's narrative from about 1984 to 2004 and makes substantive use of her interviews and essays While acknowledging the importance and ongoing validity of feminist scholarship of Maraini's work this book seeks to take scholarship on Maraini beyond feminist readings by identifying a critical framework that cuts across gender and genre and thereby invites alternative readings Using a method of close textual analysis the author includes studies of men children animals and imaginary characters in Maraini's narrative analyzes language character motifs and symbols and considers some of Maraini's work in light of declining postmodern and emerging posthuman critical social theory This critical framework identifies the paradigm of reconstruction as narrative center both strategy and theme of many of Maraini's works from this twenty year period and beyond Reconstruction here signifies the strategies by which Maraini's deep investment in survival which has its roots in the life threatening conditions she experienced as a small child in a WWII Japanese concentration camp is enacted in a narrative re building and re constructing of personal memory of various personal social and political histories of motherhood and maternal discourses of crime stories of postmodern fragmentation and even of the process of erasure itself Maraini's narrative is deeply attentive to the mechanisms that threaten survival of the body and not just the woman's body psychological and aesthetic survival the survival in the Italian canon of a woman author's work memory and legacy after her death the survival of a drug addicted and self destructive younger generation and by extension collective and ecological survival Never marked by nihilism or despair Maraini's narratives offer the ethos of reconstruction as a variation on the begin again that marks the end of many of her novels and as we can see in Colomba her own aesthetic process of renewal and regeneration This book focuses primarily on Il treno per Helsinki 1984 Isolina 1985 some of her short stories for children La nave per Kobe Diari giapponesi di mia madre 2001 Buio Strega Literary Prize 1999 and Colomba 2004

Italian cinema which will become a standard resource for academic and non academic purposes alike The Facts on File Companion to the World Novel Michael Sollars, Arbolina Llamas Jennings, 2008 Writing and Performing Female Identity in Italian Culture Virginia Picchiotti, Laura A. Salsini, 2017-01-28 This volume investigates the ways in which Italian women writers filmmakers and performers have represented female identity across genres from the immediate post World War II period to the turn of the twenty first century Considering genres such as prose poetry drama and film these essays examine the vision of female agency and self actualization arising from women artists critique of female identity This dual approach reveals unique interpretations of womanhood in Italy spanning more than fifty years while also providing a deep investigation of the manipulation of canvases historically centered on the male subject With its unique coupling of generic and thematic concerns the volume contributes to the ever expanding female artistic legacy and to our understanding of postwar Italian women s evolving relationship to the narration of history gender roles and these artists use and revision of generic convention to communicate their vision Encyclopedia of Italian Literary Studies Gaetana Marrone, Paolo Puppa, 2006-12-26 The Encyclopedia of Italian Literary Studies is a two volume reference book containing some 600 entries on all aspects of Italian literary culture It includes analytical essays on authors and works from the most important figures of Italian literature to little known authors and works that are influential to the field The Encyclopedia is distinguished by substantial articles on critics themes genres schools historical surveys and other topics related to the overall subject of Italian literary studies The Encyclopedia also includes writers and subjects of contemporary interest such as those relating to journalism film media children s literature food and vernacular literatures Entries consist of an essay on the topic and a bibliographic portion listing works for further reading and in the case of entries on individuals a brief biographical paragraph and list of works by the person It will be useful to people without specialized knowledge of Italian literature as well as to scholars Encyclopedia of the World Novel, 1900 to the Present Michael David Sollars, Arbolina Llamas Jennings, 2015-04-22 Praise for the print edition a useful and engaging reference to the vast world of the novel in world literature Food and Emotions in Italian Women's Writing Patrizia Sambuco, 2024-11-30 Food and Emotions in Italian Women s Writing discusses the relevance of food imagery in the writing of Italian women over a period of one hundred years from the 1920s to the present day while offering new ways to narrate women s history and creativity In this groundbreaking work Patrizia Sambuco shows how food imagery in different historical periods challenge established political discourses by conveying unexpressed alternative or transgressive emotions Through literary analysis archival research and philosophical approaches to the senses emotions and food the book considers a variety of authors from the celebrated to the hardly known Sambuco argues that in different ways throughout the decades the conceptual domain of food has helped express forms of selfhood that push the boundaries of womanhood and interact with cultural and political panoramas at national and international levels Building an alternative history of Italian women and their creativity Sambuco shows how the interplay of the senses and emotions becomes a profitable way to illuminate overlooked aspects of women's subjectivity. Food and Emotions in Italian Women's Writing ultimately reassesses women's writing giving value to the marginality of women's bodies and positions through the conceptual domain of food. The Cambridge Companion to the Italian Novel Peter Bondanella, Andrea Ciccarelli, 2003-07-31 The Cambridge Companion to the Italian Novel provides a broad ranging introduction to the major trends in the development of the Italian novel from its early modern origin to the contemporary era. Contributions cover a wide range of topics including the theory of the novel in Italy the historical novel realism modernism postmodernism neorealism and film and the novel. The contributors are distinguished scholars from the United Kingdom the United States Italy and Australia. Novelists examined include some of the most influential and important of the twentieth century inside and outside Italy Luigi Pirandello Primo Levi Umberto Eco and Italo Calvino. This is a unique examination of the Italian Novel and will prove invaluable to students and specialists alike. Readers will gain a keen sense of the vitality of the Italian novel throughout its history and a clear picture of the debates and criticism that have surrounded its development.

Anna Banti and the (Im)possibility of Love Wissia Fiorucci, 2010-07-12 This book looks into Banti's stance on Italian feminism with a specific focus on her interpretation of the concept of equality as well as of sexual difference. An analysis of a novel A Piercing Cry 1981 and two short stories The Women Are Dying 1951 and Je vous cris d un pays lointain 1971 explores the aforementioned issues. The book also deals to some extent with the most famous of Banti's works the magnum opus Artemisia 1947. Because A Piercing Cry is a source of autobiographical elements which therefore are particularly significant the conclusions drawn from this novel are later applied to The Women Are Dying and Je vous cris d un pays lointain. Certainly A Piercing Cry expresses Banti's faith in difference as being that which can preserve woman's identity. By declaring I am a woman writer she distances herself from a feminism of equality that not without oscillations she had supported throughout Artemisia. In so doing she embraces a feminism of difference by adopting this concept herself. Drawing on these considerations the book argues that in both The Women Are Dying and in Je vous cris d un pays lointain Banti intended to support a personally elaborated and ante litteram feminism of difference. Resistance, Heroism, Loss Thomas Cragin, Laura A. Salsini, 2018-02-20 In no other country in Europe has national identity been so closely bound to memories of the war. Italy's Republic was born of World War II its constitution defined by anti Fascism its parties self identified with national Resistance. Because of their importance to the nation's identity the nature and meaning of the war have been the focus of great contention from 1943 to the present day. In recent years Italy has taken on a national evaluation of the more troubling and contested aspects of its role in the war including its support of Fascism and collaboration after 1943 its treatment of Jews and other minorities deep national divisions that created a civil war between 1943 and 1945 and the centrality of war myth to lingering postwar problems. Scholars of Italian history literature and cinema play a fundamental role in this appraisal and this volume of essays attests to the importance of film and literature to the ways in which changing political social and cultural imperatives have altered the war's memory. These articles expand our understanding of the shifting phases in national memory by highlighting significant features of each era's portrayal of the war. Contributions come from eight scholars who capture the full variety of disciplinary and sub-disciplinary approaches that are current today including film genre studies, cultural history, gender studies, Holocaust studies, and the very new fields of emotion studies, shame theory, and environmental studies. Their innovative application of questions and methods that speak to important new subfields in Italian Studies make this volume an invaluable tool for scholars and their students.

Rewriting the Journey in Contemporary Italian

Literature Cinzia Sartini Blum, 2008-09-06 The mobility of women is a central issue in feminist analysis of literary works and historical periods. Rewriting the Journey in Contemporary Italian Literature explores the concept of the journey from feminist psychoanalytic and postcolonial perspectives in order to offer an alternative understanding of moving. Cinzia Sartini Blum examines the new literature of migration in Italian and journeys in the works of Biancamaria Frabotta, Dacia Maraini, Toni Maraini, and Maria Pace Ottieri to demonstrate that women writers and migrant authors in contemporary Italy present journeys as events that are beyond heroic modern exploration and postmodern fragmentation. Using the mythical figure of Gradiva, Blum shows how contemporary Italian women writers have reinvented Gradiva to reveal subjectivities that challenge and overcome the postmodern melancholia and nihilism prevalent in contemporary male writers and thinkers. She also considers the connection between metaphorical and literal mobility, the role of the intellectual as cultural intermediary, the roles of women in cultural encounters within mass migrations, and how migrancy is a way of being in the postcolonial world. An impeccable piece of original scholarship, Rewriting the Journey in Contemporary Italian Literature will be of interest to feminist literary and postcolonial scholars.

A Multitude of Women Stefania Lucamante, 2008-09-15 A Multitude of Women looks at the ways in which both Italian literary tradition and external influences have assisted Italian women writers in rethinking the theoretical and aesthetic ties between author, text, and readership in the construction of the novel. Stefania Lucamante discusses the valuable contributions that Italian women writers have made to the contemporary novel and illustrates the relevance of the novelistic examples set by their predecessors. She addresses various discursive communities, reading works by Di Lascia, Ferrante, Vinci, and others with reference to intertextuality and the theories of Elsa Morante and Simone de Beauvoir. This study identifies a positive deviation from literary and ideological orthodoxy, a deviation that helps give meaning to the Italian novel and to transform the traditional notion of the canon in Italian literature. Lucamante argues that this is partly due to the merits of women writers and their ability to eschew obsolete patterns in narrative while favouring forms that are more attuned to the ever-changing needs of society. She shows that contemporary novels by women authors mirror a shift from previous trends in which the need for female emancipation interfered with the actual literary and aesthetic significance of the novel. A Multitude of Women offers a new epistemology of the novel and will appeal to those interested in women's writing, readership, Italian studies, and literary studies in general.

Gendering Commitment Alex Standen,2015-10-05 Notions of engagement commitment and impegno continue to provoke debate amongst academics researching contemporary Italian culture and yet be it by accident or by more conscious selection critical work has tended to posit these concepts as a predominantly male and often heteronormative domain This collection of essays challenges this assumption and analyses more closely the fluid and fragmented nature of commitment and the work of Italian intellectuals and cultural practitioners associated with it The volume s contributors engage with those who have typically been excluded from such debates not only female writers and artists but also males whose work has been denied the designation of impegnato The chapters all focus on individuals who insist on the need to question interrogate and denounce social realities Employing a range of theoretical perspectives and bringing into dialogue individuals not typically associated with terms such as engagement and commitment this volume offers an original and distinctive contribution to a discussion that persists in Italian studies Italian studies in Southern
