The Lost Soul of American Protestantism D. G. Hart, 2002 In The Lost Soul of American Protestantism D G Hart examines the historical origins of the idea that faith must be socially useful in order to be valuable Through specific episodes in Presbyterian Lutheran and Reformed history Hart presents a neglected form of Protestantism confessionalism as an alternative to prevailing religious theory He explains that unlike evangelical and mainline Protestants who emphasize faith's role in solving social and personal problems confessional Protestants locate Christianity's significance in the creeds ministry and rituals of the church Although critics have accused confessionalism of encouraging social apathy Hart deftly argues that this form of Protestantism has much to contribute to current discussions on the role of religion in American public life since confessionalism refuses to confuse the well being of the nation with that of the church The history of confessional Protestantism suggests that contrary to the legacy of revivalism faith may be most vital and influential when less directly relevant to everyday problems whether personal or social Clear and engaging D G Hart's groundbreaking study is essential reading for everyone exploring the intersection of religion and daily life dealing with enormous challenges from government interference war religious disputes and as Luther declared The rage of the devil The solution was not brilliant arguments or best practices The solution to a Christian s guilty conscience or lukewarm faith was not trying harder or doing good works Rather it was to confess failure to eliminate self dependence and to cry out to the Holy Spirit who alone is totally sufficient in every situation Theologians pastors missionaries Sunday school teachers workers and retirees moms and dads students and kids everyone is powerless to accomplish anything in the kingdom of God Only the Holy Spirit is able to change hearts and meet needs He graciously responds to all who call Yes the work of the Holy Spirit and his power is Lutheran for Luther in the sixteenth century and for Lutherans today Being Lutheran Today Carsten J. Stories from Global Lutheranism Martin J. Lohrmann, 2021-01-12 In an engaging and accessible style Martin J Lohrmann introduces readers to fascinating glimpses of faith courage and love in action within the global Lutheran community that now numbers over 70 million members in churches worldwide He shows how Lutheranism is a much more diverse and global expression of the Christian tradition than most realize This matches the expansive view of the church universal that the Reformers held when they presented the Augsburg Confession in 1530 As Philipp Melancthon put it the church consists of people scattered throughout the entire world who agree on the gospel and have the same Christ the same Holy Spirit and the same sacraments whether or not they have the same human traditions Although Lutheranism first grew and spread in central and northern Europe some of the most vibrant Lutheran communities are now in Africa and Asia There are more Lutherans in Tanzania than in Sweden and more Lutherans in Indonesia than in Norway The single largest Lutheran church body in the world is the Ethiopian Evangelical Church Mekane Yesus with over 8 million members and a focus on caring for the whole person Outside of Europe Namibia is the only country with a majority Lutheran population Lutheran members of the global body of Christ have much to learn from and share with one another The book largely follows the subjects listed in the Timeline of Global Lutheranism that Lohrmann created for Lutheran Quarterly Journal to commemorate the 500 year anniversary of the Protestant Reformation
