Smith and Hogan's Criminal Law David Ormerod, Karl Laird, John Cyril Smith, Brian Hogan, 2015 Criminal Law is written with the needs of the student foremost in mind to provide more than ever as modern and as comprehensive an exposition of the criminal law as he or she could possibly require

Dishonesty, Liability and the Law Sotirios Santatzoglou, Martin Wasik, Anthony Wrigley, 2025-07-31 In 2017 in Ivey v Genting Casinos the Supreme Court judged that the dishonesty test is objective and should be the single one in use for any area of law The judgment sparked some criticism regarding the inflexibility of an objective test The subsequent 2020 Court of Appeal judgment in R v Barton confirmed the objective test in Ivey However little dedicated discussion and analysis of the dishonesty test has subsequently taken place leaving a growing concern that the one currently in use may not be suitable for determining dishonesty in all contexts This interdisciplinary collection challenges the idea of the single objective test by considering the issue of context in defining dishonesty The volume is divided into three parts The first focuses on the analysis of the concept of dishonesty and the dishonesty test both in relation to context and its impact in determining whether or not liability arises In the second part the focus is on contexts of public and private dealings where dishonesty can be the reason to place liability or where its implications should be modified in order to limit liability Finally in the third part the focus is on the context of healthcare practice and its interface with the conceptual dichotomy of honesty dishonesty The conclusion draws together shared themes notably the issues of fairness and justice that arise from the work to demonstrate the definitional vacuum in the law on dishonesty The book will be of interest to academics researchers policy makers and regulators working in law ethics or areas of professional regulation and misconduct especially medicine nursing student academic misconduct and politics Similarly there will be appeal to those working in relevant professional regulatory areas such as law healthcare and sports governance

The Legitimacy of EU Criminal Law Irene Wiecezorek, 2020-07-09 This book traces the history of the EU competence EU policy discourse and EU legislation in the field of criminalisation from Maastricht until the present day It asks Why EU Criminal Law looking at what rationales the Treaty policy document and legislation put forth when deciding whether a certain behaviour should be a criminal offence To interpret the EU approach to criminalisation it relies on both modern and post modern theoretical frameworks on the legitimacy of criminal law read jointly with the theories on the functions of EU harmonisation of national law The book demonstrates that while EU constitutional law leans towards an effectiveness based enforcement driven understanding of criminal law the EU has in fact in more than one instance adopted symbolic EU criminal law ie criminal law aimed at highlighting what values are important to the EU but which is not fit to actually deter individuals from harming such values The book then questions whether this approach is consistent or in contradiction with the values based constitutional identity the EU has set for itself

Overcriminalization Douglas Husak, 2008-01-08 The United States today suffers from too much criminal law and too much punishment Husak describes the phenomena in some detail and explores their relation and why these trends produce massive injustice His primary goal is to defend a set of constraints that limit the authority of states to enact and enforce penal offenses The book urges the weight and relevance of this topic in the real world and notes that most Anglo American legal philosophers have neglected it Husak s secondary goal is to situate this endeavor in criminal theory as traditionally construed He argues that many of the resources to reduce the size and scope of the criminal law can be derived from within the criminal law itself even though these resources have not been used explicitly for this purpose Additional constraints emerge from a political view about the conditions under which important rights such as the right implicated by punishment may be infringed When conjoined these constraints produce what Husak calls a minimalist theory of criminal liability Husak applies these constraints to a handful of examples most notably to the justifiability of drug proscriptions

Confessions of a Dying Thief Darrell J. Steffensmeier,2017-07-12 Recipient of the American Society of Criminology s 2006 Michael J Hindelang Award for a book published within the past three calendar years that is the most outstanding contribution to research in criminology Nominated for the 2007 Outstanding Book Award of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences Sam Goodman was a long time thief fence and quasi legitimate businessman He had a criminal career that spanned fifty years beginning in his mid teens and ending with his death when he was in his mid sixties Confessions of a Dying Thief is an in depth ethnographic study of Sam and his world based on continuous contact with him for many years on multiple interviews with his network of associates in crime and business and on a series of interviews with him shortly before he died The book updates and greatly expands the case study of Sam Goodman s fencing activity found in Steffensmeier s award winning 1986 book The Fence In the Shadow of Two Worlds It combines Sam s colorful narrative accounts with substantive commentary by the authors to provide a more nuanced portrayal of criminal careers illegal enterprise and the broad landscape comprising the entity called crime To more fully understand pathways into and out of crime as well as the social organization of illegal enterprise the authors propose an integrative learning opportunity commitment framework that combines differential association social learning theory and an extended conceptualization of criminal opportunity with a three fold theory of commitment to crime This framework offers an integrated and more complete way of understanding mechanisms that underlie criminal offending and criminal careers It also recognizes the complexity and scope of the criminal landscape and its embeddedness in the fabric of the larger society including its criminal justice system Sam s illness and death are a sobering backdrop th

Confessions of A Dying Thief Sam Goodman Darrell J. Steffensmeier Jeffery T. Ulmer, Doing Time on the Outside Donald Braman,2007-08-06 Stigma shame and hardship this is the lot shared by families whose young men have been swept into prison Braman reveals the devastating toll mass incarceration takes on the parents partners and children left behind Katherine S Newman Doing Time on the Outside brings to life in a compelling way the human drama and tragedy of our incarceration policies Donald Braman documents the profound economic and social consequences of the American policy of massive imprisonment of young African American males He shows us the link between the broad scale policy changes of recent decades and the isolation and stigma that these bring to family members who have a loved one in prison If we want to understand fully the impact of current criminal justice policies this book should be required reading Mark Mauer Assistant Director The Sentencing Project Through compelling stories and thoughtful analysis this book describes how our nation s punishment policies have caused incalculable damage to the fabric of family and community life Anyone concerned about the future of urban America should read this book Jeremy Travis The Urban Institute In the tradition of Elijah Anderson's Code of the Street and Katherine Newman's No Shame in My Game this startling new ethnography by Donald Braman uncovers the other side of the incarceration saga the little told story of the effects of imprisonment on the prisoners families Since 1970 the incarceration rate in the United States has more than tripled and in many cities urban centers such as Washington D C it has increased over five fold Today one out of every ten adult black men in the District is in prison and three out of every four can expect to spend some time behind bars But the numbers don't reveal what it's like for the children wives and parents of prisoners or the subtle and not so subtle effects mass incarceration is having on life in the inner city Author Donald Braman shows that those doing time on the inside are having a ripple effect on the outside reaching deep into the family and community life of urban America Braman gives us the personal stories of what happens to the families and communities that prisoners are taken from and return to Carefully documenting the effects of incarceration on the material and emotional lives of families this groundbreaking ethnography reveals how criminal justice policies are furthering rather than abating the problem of social disorder Braman also delivers a number of genuinely new arguments Among these is the compelling assertion that incarceration is holding offenders unaccountable to victims communities and families The author gives the first detailed account of incarceration's corrosive effect on social capital in the inner city and describes in poignant detail how the stigma of prison pits family and community members against one another Drawing on a series of powerful family portraits supported by extensive empirical data Braman shines a light on the darker side of a system that is failing the very families and communities it seeks to protect
