Lytton Strachey The New Biography

Michael Holroyd

Lytton Strachey The New Biography:

Lytton Strachey Michael Holroyd, 1995 When Michael Holroyd's life of Strachey appeared in 1967 it changed the course of modern biography setting a new standard for the recounting of literary lives and launching the enduring Bloomsbury revival In the 1960s however many of Strachey's friends and lovers were still alive much could not be said and access to letters and resources was restricted Since then almost all his circle has died and homosexuality in England has been decriminalized In telling Strachey's life anew Holroyd has drawn on a wealth of previously unavailable material bring fresh candor and accuracy to his account of Strachey's friendships with E M Forster Virginia and Leonard Woolf Duncan Grant and Vanessa Bell Ralph and Frances Patridge and his companion Dora Carrington among others In many of Bloomsbury's three cornered relationships Holroyd could lay claim to only two sides of the triangle Now he has all three with which to recount the story of this extraordinary man and his complex world At the center of the drama is the long lasting relationship between Strachey and Carrington and their Triangular Trinity of Happiness with Ralph Partridge In equally elegant and humorous prose Holroyd shows the parts that many men and women played in this comedy of manners as it developed into a tragedy

Lytton Strachey: The New Biography Michael Holroyd, 2005-12-17 A triumphant success His prose is confident clear occasionally perfect Dennis Potter The Times London It is impossible to suppose that this Life will ever be superseded the best literary biography to appear for many years John Rothenstein New York Times Written with vivacity and scrupulousness Michael Holroyd has a great novelist's sense of the obstinate mystery of the human person George Steiner The New Yorker

Lytton Strachey ,1974 Lytton Strachey Michael Holroyd, 1971 Lytton Strachey Michael Holroyd, 1967 Lytton Strachey Michael Holroyd, 2011 A triumphant success His prose is confident clear occasionally perfect Dennis Potter The Times London Lytton Strachey Michael Holroyd, 1967 Lytton Strachey Michael Holroyd, 1968 Lytton Strachey by Himself Lytton Strachey, 1971 Lytton Strachey and the "new Biography" Michael E. Yoss, 1993 High and Low Moderns Maria DiBattista, Lucy McDiarmid, 1996 Publisher description Encyclopedia of the Essay Tracy

Chevalier, 2012-10-12 This groundbreaking new source of international scope defines the essay as nonfictional prose texts of between one and 50 pages in length The more than 500 entries by 275 contributors include entries on nationalities various categories of essays such as generic such as sermons aphorisms individual major works notable writers and periodicals that created a market for essays and particularly famous or significant essays The preface details the historical development of the essay and the alphabetically arranged entries usually include biographical sketch nationality era selected writings list additional readings and anthologies The Biographer and the Subject Rana Tekcan, 2010-03-01 A good biography is a well staged illusion It creates on paper a vivid rounded and immediate sense of lived life In contrast to purely fictional forms biography writing does not allow total freedom to the biographer in the creative act Ideally a biography's backbone is formed by accurate historical facts But its soul lies elsewhere Since the concern is life something more is needed Nothing dry cold or dead but a vibrant impression of life that is left in the air after one turns over the last page But how does a biographer do it The way a biographer creates a subject is largely dictated by the historical distance between them There are three types of distance in biographical writing First where the biographer and the subject personally know one another second where the biographer is a near contemporary of the subject and third where biographer and subject are distinctly separated in some cases by hundreds of years Tekcan explores how some of the most accomplished biographers manage to recreate life across time and space She closely examines Samuel Johnson's Life of Mr Richard Savage James Boswell's Life of Samuel Johnson Lytton Strachey's Eminent Victorians Michael Holroyd's Lytton Strachey Park Honan's Jane Austen and Andrew Motion's Keats

Bloomsbury and France Mary Ann Caws, Sarah Bird Wright, 1999-12-02 Bloomsbury on the Mediterranean is how Vanessa Bell described France in a letter to her sister Virginia Woolf Remarking on the vivifying effect of Cassis Woolf herself said I will take my mind out of its iron cage and let it swim Complete heaven I think it Yet until now there has never been a book that focused on the profound influence of France on the Bloomsbury group In Bloomsbury and France Art and Friends Mary Ann Caws and Sarah Bird Wright reveal the crucial importance of the Bloomsbury group's frequent sojourns to France the artists and writers they met there and the liberating effect of the country itself Drawing upon many previously unpublished letters memoirs and photographs the book illuminates the artistic development of Virginia and Leonard Woolf Clive Bell David Garnett E M Forster Lytton Strachey Dora Carrington and others The authors cover all aspects of the Bloomsbury experience in France from the specific influence of French painting on the work of Roger Fry Duncan Grant and Vanessa Bell to the heady atmosphere of the medieval Cistercian Abbaye de Pontigny the celebrated meeting place of French intellectuals where Lytton Strachey Julian Bell and Charles Maugham mingled with writers and critics to the relationships between the Bloomsbury group and Henri Matisse Pablo Picasso Gertrude Stein Andre Gide Jean Marchand and many others Caws and Wright argue that Bloomsbury would have been very different without France that France was their anti England a culture in which their eccentricities and aesthetic experiments could flower This remarkable study offers a rich new perspective on perhaps the most creative group of artists and friends in the 20th century

Queering the Moderns NA, 2016-04-30 In Queering the Moderns Anne Herrmann revisits the narrative of literary modernism and the historical uses of the term queer to explore the emergence of identities specific to modernism Queer in the modernist period 1910-1945 means strange odd out of sorts and although it begins to refer to those who are queer sexually it does not yet police a heterosexual divide It means crossing boundaries in unexpected directions across the Atlantic across the color line across literary conventions that dictate autobiographies can't be written by someone else Six memoirs that rely on cross gender and cross racial identifications are discussed within their specific cultural contexts so that female aviators Amelia Earhart and Beryl Markham lesbian auto biographers Virginia Woolf and Gertrude Stein and male auto ethnographers James Weldon Johnson and Earl Lind Ralph Werther begin to queer the traditional spaces of modernism

Unpublished Works of Lytton

Strachey Todd Avery, 2017-09-29 A core member of the Bloomsbury Group Lytton Strachey 1880 1932 is recognized for his radical influence on the new school of psychological biography This volume collects for the first time Strachey's previously unpublished essays dialogues and stories The Cambridge History of Twentieth-Century English Literature Laura Marcus, Peter Nicholls, 2004 Publisher Description Biofiction and Writers' Afterlives Bethany Layne, 2020-06-25 The twelve essays collected in this work explore the afterlives of nineteenth and twentieth century writers in biographical fiction or biofiction and its sister genre the biopic The essays situate these genres in relation to their generic cultural and ideological contexts and are organised into four groups The first locates the origins of biofiction in the historical novel and in Modernist experiments in life writing while the second consists of case studies of biofiction about writers from the long nineteenth century Charlotte Brontë Henry James Constance Fenimore Woolson and Rupert Brooke A guest essay by novelist Maggie Gee opens the third group which analyses the fertile sub genre of biographical novels about Woolf while the fourth and final part of the book concerns the related genre of the biopic The volume is comprised entirely of original commissions whose authors include postgraduate students practitioners and specialists in biographical writing It will appeal to undergraduates and postgraduates on life writing and contemporary literature modules as well as fans of the featured biographical novelists and their subjects The Oxford English Literary History: Volume 10: 1910-1940: The Modern Movement Chris Baldick, 2005-11-10 This exciting new volume provides a freshly inclusive account of literature in England in the period before during and after the First World War Chris Baldick places the modernist achievements of Virginia Woolf T S Eliot and James Joyce within the rich context of non modernist writings across all major genres allowing high literary art to be read against the background of low entertainment Looking well beyond the modernist vanguard Baldick highlights the survival and renewal of realist traditions in these decades of post Victorian disillusionment Ranging widely across psychological novels war poems detective stories satires and children's books The Modern Movement provides a unique survey of the literature of this turbulent time Whose Lives Are They Anyway? Dennis Bingham, 2010-03-04 The biopic presents a profound paradox its own conventions and historical stages of development disintegration investigation parody and revival have not gained respect in the world of film studies That is until now Whose Lives Are They Anyway boldly proves a critical point The biopic is a genuine dynamic genre and an important one it narrates exhibits and celebrates a subject's life and demonstrates investigates or questions his or her importance in the world it illuminates the finer points of a personality and ultimately it provides a medium for both artist and spectator to discover what it would be like to be that person or a certain type of person Through detailed analyses and critiques of nearly twenty biopics Dennis Bingham explores what is at their core the urge to dramatize real life and find a version of the truth within it The genre's charge which dates back to the salad days of the Hollywood studio era is to introduce the biographical subject into the pantheon of cultural mythology and above all to show that he or she belongs there It means to discover what we learn about our culture from the heroes who rise and the leaders who emerge from cinematic representations Bingham also zooms in on distinctions between cinematic portrayals of men and women Films about men have evolved from celebratory warts and all to investigatory to postmodern and parodic At the same time women in biopics have been burdened by myths of suffering victimization and failure from which they are only now being liberated To explore the evolution and lifecycle changes of the biopic and develop an appreciation for subgenres contained within it there is no better source than Whose Lives Are They Anyway
