since the Renaissance Surface finishes of sculptural representations may allude to the sensory world of colour without even having pigment applied to them What makes polychromy so special is that it functions as an overlay of another dimension that sometimes carries further encoded meaning In nature the colour is integral to the given object What the present survey suggests is that the relationship between colour and sculpture is a matter of intentional expression even where the colour is intrinsic as in the sculptor s materials Art Talk Eileen Potter Kopelman,2005 The Artist's Manual Rob
