Regional Development and Spatial Planning in an Enlarged European Union Neil Adams, 2016-04-01 The expansion of the European Union in 2004 has had significant consequences for both existing and new members of the Union New member states are assimilating into a new institutional and policy framework while the changing geography of Europe provides a different context for policy development in pre 2004 member states One of the more important fields in which these changes are impacting is regional development The admission of the new countries changes patterns of economic and social disparities across the territory of the European Union which in turn demands that existing approaches to regional development are reconsidered An approach which has proved to be one of the most innovative is spatial planning This book brings together a team of academics and policy makers from across the new Europe involved in regional development and spatial planning Providing insights into different approaches it offers a valuable opportunity to compare experiences across European borders

Impacts of European Territorial Policies in the Baltic States Garri Raagmaa, Dominic Stead, 2017-10-02 Urban and regional development in the Baltic States and other Central and Eastern European countries has experienced rapid changes since their re independence at the beginning of the 1990s Meanwhile urban and regional planning institutions and organizational cultures in the Baltic States have only changed rather incrementally despite various national and European pressures for reform As a consequence the effects of European cohesion and structural policy measures have been quite modest and the ability of the planning systems in the Baltic states to manage contemporary trends in urban and regional development has become increasingly limited This book focuses on these issues and tensions of spatial planning and development in the Baltic States and their distinctiveness compared to other European countries It provides an overview of the historical and cultural context of spatial development a discussion of the processes of Europeanization of spatial planning in the specific context of the Baltic States and an analysis of whether these processes may be leading to policy convergence in the region This book was published as a special issue of European Planning Studies Spatial Planning Systems and Practices in Europe Mario Reimer,Panagiotis Getimis,Hans Blotevogel,2014-02-05 Ideal for students and practitioners working in spatial planning the Europeanization of planning agendas and regional policy in general Spatial Planning Systems and Practices in Europe develops a systematic methodological framework to analyze changes in planning systems throughout Europe The main aim of the book is to delineate the coexistence of continuity and change and of convergence and divergence with regard to planning practices across Europe Based on the work of experts on spatial planning from twelve European countries the authors underline the specific and context dependent variety and disparateness of planning transformation focusing on the main objectives of the changes the driving forces behind them and the main phases and turning points the main agenda setting actors and the different planning modes and tools reflected in the different policy and planning styles Along with a methodological framework the book includes twelve country case studies and the comparative conclusions covering a variety of planning systems of EU member states According to the four ideal types of planning systems identified in the EU Compendium at least two countries have been selected from each of the four different planning traditions regional economic France Germany Urbanism Greece Italy comprehensive integrated Denmark Finland Netherlands Germany land use planning UK Czech Republic Belgium Flanders along with two additional case studies focusing on the recent developments in eastern European countries by looking at Poland and in southern Europe looking at Turkey Les défis pour la société européenne à l'aube de l'an 2000 Conseil de l'Europe Colloque Vienne, European Conference of Ministers Responsible for Regional Planning, Council of Europe, Conférence Européenne des Ministres Responsables de l'aménagement du Territoire Colloque Vienne,1993 Regional Planning and Development in Europe David Shaw,Peter Roberts,2017-11-30 This title was first published in 2000 Providing a review and assessment of a number of the major features evident in regional planning and development in Europe this volume contains a series of regional case studies drawn from current research in various European countries These illustrate a broad range of theoretical views which offer perspectives on the operation of the EU Structural Funds and regional restructuring development and key concerns evident in spatial planning an environmental management and lessons from past experience The editors collate views to arrive at challenging conclusions and suggestions for future policy priorities European Regional Planning Strategy Nicolas Momper,Council of Europe,European Conference of Ministers Responsible for Regional Planning,1992-01-01 1 folded map col in back plastic pocket Bulgaria and Europe Stefanos Katsikas,2011-10-01 Bulgaria and Europe Shifting Identities offers a unique analysis of Bulgaria s relationship with the European continent Katsikas examines how Bulgarian historiography and literature over the centuries have created differing conceptions of Europe and in the process shaped the country's own shifting identity Through his analysis he provides the broader cultural context and historical perspective required in order to understand the country's EU accession process as well as its aftermath This work ultimately addresses what has arguably been the key question facing Bulgaria in the post Cold War period Are we European

Cohesion, Coherence, Cooperation: European Spatial Planning Coming of Age? Andreas Faludi, 2010-10-18 Since its foundation the European Union has gradually developed policies that are aimed at achieving increased economic and social cohesion This book examines the coming of age of the most recent of these the concept of territorial cohesion With this book Andreas Faludi brings together years of research and expertise into a definitive single volume on spatial planning at the European level

Sustainable Development for Central and Eastern Europe Ulrich Graute, 2012-12-06 Central and Eastern European Countries are undergoing a difficult transition process with consequences for spatial development Europe needs a more balanced polycentric system of cities a new urban rural relationship parity of access to infrastructure and knowledge as well as prudent management and development of the natural and cultural heritage Dealing with these complex challenges and the need for sustainable development politicians requires qualified advice from experts To this end the German Ministry for Regional Planning Construction and Urban Development initiated the Network of Spatial Research Institutes in Central and Eastern Europe CEE Net in 1992 Exchange of knowledge and an open dialogue at all levels are pre conditions for the cooperative development of visions and strategies serving spatial development in Europe The annual conferences of the network have been a first steps towards closer cooperation The high interest shown in these conferences by academics and government representatives and the fact that several research projects have already crystallised out of the debates they engendered indicate that the network is meeting a need for exchange and cooperation Decisions on spatial development do not stop at national borders and the discussion on spatial development in any European region has therefore to take the European context into consideration A special advantage of this publication is that as well as focusing on spatial development and research in CEE regions it also discusses Central and Eastern Europe in a European context

Europeanisation and new patterns of governance in Ireland Nicholas Rees, Bríd Quinn, Bernadette Connaughton, 2013-07-19 To what extent did Europeanisation contribute to Ireland's transformation from poor relation to peer idol This book examines how Europeanisation affected Irish policy making and implementation and how Ireland maximised the policy opportunities arising from membership of the EU while preserving embedded patterns of political behaviour It focuses on the complex interplay of European domestic and global factors as the explanation for the changing character of the Celtic Tiger The authors demonstrate that although Europeanisation spurred significant institutional and policy change domestic forces filtered those consequences while global factors induced further adaptation By identifying and assessing the adaptational pressures in a range of policy areas the book establishes that in tandem with the European dimension domestic features and global developments were key determinants of change and harbingers of new patterns of governance

Spatial Planning Systems and Practices in Europe Mario Reimer, Panagiotis Getimis, Hans Blotevogel, 2014-02-05 Ideal for students and practitioners working in spatial planning the Europeanization of planning agendas and regional policy in general Spatial Planning Systems and Practices in Europe develops a systematic methodological framework to analyze changes in planning systems throughout Europe The main aim of the book is to delineate the coexistence of continuity and change and of convergence and divergence with regard to planning practices across Europe Based on the work of experts on spatial planning from twelve European countries the authors underline the specific and context dependent variety and disparateness of planning transformation focusing on the main objectives of the changes the driving forces behind them and the main phases and turning points the main agenda setting actors and the different planning modes and tools reflected in the different policy and planning styles Along with a methodological framework the book includes twelve country case studies and the comparative conclusions covering a variety of planning systems of EU member states According to the four ideal types of planning systems identified in the EU Compendium at least two countries have been selected from each of the four different planning traditions regional economic France Germany Urbanism Greece Italy comprehensive integrated Denmark Finland Netherlands Germany land use planning UK Czech Republic Belgium Flanders along with two additional case studies focusing on the recent developments in eastern European countries by looking at Poland and in southern Europe looking at Turkey

European Spatial Planning and Territorial Cooperation Stefanie Dühr, Claire Colomb, Vincent Nadin, 2010-10-18 There is a strong international dimension to spatial planning European integration strengthens interconnections development and decision making across national and regional borders EU policies in areas such as environment transport agriculture or regional policy have far reaching effects on spatial development patterns and planning procedures Planners in the EU are now routinely engaged in cooperation across national borders to share and devise effective ways of intervening in the way our cities towns and rural areas develop In short the EU has become an important framework for planning practice research and teaching Spatial planning in Europe is being Europeanized with corresponding changes for the role of planners Written for students academics practitioners and researchers of spatial planning and related disciplines this book is essential reading for everybody interested in engaging with the European dimension of spatial planning and territorial governance It explores spatial development trends and their influence on planning the nature institutions and actors of the European Union from a planning perspective the history of spatial planning at the transnational scale the planning tools perspectives visions and programmes supporting European cooperation on spatial planning the territorial impacts of the Community s sector policies the outcomes of European spatial planning in practice European Yearbook / Annuaire Europeen Council of Europe Staff,2013-12-01 The European Yearbook promotes the scientific study of nineteen European supranational organisations and the Organisation for Economic Co operation and Development OECD Each volume contains a detailed survey of the history structure and yearly activities of each organisation and an up to date chart providing a clear overview of the member states of each organisation Each volume contains a comprehensive bibliography covering the year s relevant publications
