How do environmental policies link to dynamic and relational family practices for children and parents This Policy Press Short presents innovative cross national research into how environment is understood and negotiated within families and how this plays out in everyday lives Based on an ESRC study that involved creative qualitative work with families in India and the UK who live in different contexts this book illuminates how environmental practices are negotiated within families and how they relate to values identities and society In doing so it contributes to understanding of the ways in which families and childhood are constructed as sites for intervention in climate change debates In an area that is increasingly of concern to governments NGOs and the general public this timely research is crucial for developing effective responses to climate change

House Sharing and Young Adults Vicky Clark, Keith Tuffin, 2022-12-27 House Sharing and Young Adults offers unique insight into the dynamics of successful house sharing among young adults and questions some of the myths fostered by the negative stereotyping of housemates Illustrated with research from interviews with young adults it explores co residence interpersonal relationships and young people s development Beginning with an overview of the concept and history of house sharing among young adults Clark and Tuffin s volume also examines the reasons for the lack of research into the area up until recently It explores key questions including how young adults choose housemates what makes a desirable housemate avoiding complications the psychological advantages of house sharing how conflict arises and the impact of house sharing on adult development The authors challenge the stigma of shared domesticity demonstrating the potential of house sharing to enhance well being through companionship while acknowledging the potential pitfalls caused by tension in intimate settings House Sharing and Young Adults will be essential reading for both undergraduate and postgraduate students of social psychology developmental psychology sociology and anthropology as well as those interested in group dynamics housing demographics and discrimination

Grandchildhood in Multigenerational Living Adéla Souralová, 2024-11-22 Grandchildhood in Multigenerational Living Practices Meanings Relations is the first book to sociologically analyse grandchild grandparent relationships from the perspective of grandchildren Expanding the knowledge about hitherto under researched grandchildren this book puts grandchildren s perspectives in the centre of qualitative analysis focuses Presenting grandchildhood in its complexity the author addresses its multiple dimensions from 54 in depth interviews with grandchildren living in three generation households with their parents and grandparents Drawing upon family practices this book conceptionally develops grandchild practices as a new approach to see the diversities and similarities harmonies and tensions joys and obligations or simply put the daily ambivalences of family relationships This unique book is an indispensable resource for researchers and students of family studies and sociology of generations who wish to investigate how grandchildren understand negotiate and make sense of their relationships with grandparents

Banking, 1925 Annual Report of the Federal Security Agency United States. Office of Education, 1945 Living and Dying in the USA Richard G. Rogers, Robert A. Hummer, Charles B. Nam, 1999-10-06 The simplicity of using one data set in addressing the relationship of single variables to mortality distinguishes Living and Dying in the USA from other recent investigations of mortality The authors use the recently released National Health Interview Survey and the National Death Index to make a definitive statement about demographics and mortality By surveying demographic and sociocultural characteristics associated with mortality socioeconomic effects health related conditions and health status they reveal connections among several factors related to mortality chances Easily understood and cited their study emphasizes the statistical methods underlying their revelations and invites readers to duplicate their results Comprehensive coverage of US adult mortality differentials Based on a new and innovative data set Includes factors rarely examined in related mortality research Not only documents mortality differentials but explores explanations for them Extensive list of references associated with each chapter Consistent straightforward methodology used throughout aids readers in both understanding the content and in comparing results from chapter to chapter Bibliography on Racism, 1972-1975 Center for Minority Group Mental Health Programs (U.S.), 1978 The Farmer's Standard of Living Ellis Lore Kirkpatrick, 1929

Vocational Division Bulletin United States. Division of Vocational Education, 1944 Fitting and Selling Shoes John Appleton Beaumont, 1945 Close Relationship Loss Terri L. Orbuch, 2012-12-06 Social scientists from various disciplines have been increasingly concerned with the nature structure and function of close relationships Although most of the early work on the topic of close relationships drew attention to the development of close relationships since the mid 1970s researchers have begun to investigate the many different aspects connected to the loss of close relationships Despite the change to a more comprehensive conceptual framework close relationship research is often criticized for being atheoretical the research is criticized for being purely descriptive in nature and thus lacking a more theoretical framework Contrary to this belief I wish to argue that researchers in the area of close relationship loss employ several critical and prominent theoretical perspectives to describe explain and understand the endings of relationships thus the fruition of this book The major aim of this edited book is to present and illuminate within one volume some of these major theoretical perspectives The volume as a whole has several unique qualities First within each chapter the authors provide a general overview of the theoretical perspective or approach within which they examine close relationship loss Thesaurus of ERIC Descriptors
