Long-Distance Nationalism Zlatko Skrbiš,2017-07-05 Focusing on Croatians and Slovenians in Australia this book examines the factors that influence the existence nature and intensity of ethno nationalism in the migrant context The presence and transmission of ethno nationalism between migrant settings homelands and across generations are explored

Long-Distance Nationalism Zlatko Skrbiš,2017-05-16 How strong and how significant is the interaction between migrants and homelands in the late 20th century Have the processes of globalization and transnational interaction produced new forms of nationalism or at least altered the old ones By using Croatians and Slovenians in Australia as examples this book examines the extent to which migrants are influenced by historical and contemporary processes of migration mediated through political and cultural symbolism What are the factors which influence the existence nature and intensity of ethno nationalism in the migrant context The study analyses both the existence and transmission of ethno nationalism between migrant settings and homelands and specifically deals with the transmission of ethno nationalism sentiments across migrant generations To understand the effects and consequences of long distance nationalism fully the book proceeds from an analysis of nationalism s public manifestations to an analysis of the relatively private domain of diasporic ethno communal existence

Diasporas and Homeland Conflicts Bahar Baser,2016-03-09 As violent conflicts become increasingly intra state rather than inter state international migration has rendered them increasingly transnational as protagonists from each side find themselves in new countries of residence In spite of leaving their homeland the grievances and grudges that existed between them are not forgotten and can be passed to the next generation This book explores the extension of homeland conflicts into transnational space amongst diaspora groups with particular attention to the interactions between second generation migrants Comparative in approach Diasporas and Homeland Conflicts focuses on the tensions that exist between Kurdish and Turkish populations in Sweden and Germany examining the effects of hostland policies and politics on the construction shaping or elimination of homeland conflicts Drawing on extensive interview material with members of diasporic communities this book sheds fresh light on the influences exercised on conflict dynamics by state policies on migrant incorporation and multiculturalism as well as structures of migrant organizations As such it will be of interest to scholars of sociology political science and international studies with interests in migration and diaspora integration and transnational conflict

Displacements and Diasporas Wanni W. Anderson,Robert G Lee,2005-05-26 Asians have settled in every country in the Western Hemisphere some are recent arrivals other descendents of immigrants who arrived centuries ago Bringing together essays by thirteen scholars from the humanities and social sciences Displacements and Diasporas explores this genuinely transnational Asian American experience one that crosses the Pacific and traverses the Americas from Canada to Brazil from New York to the Caribbean With an emphasis on anthropological and historical contexts the essays show how the experiences of Asians across the Americas have been shaped by the social dynamics and politics of settlement locations as much as by transnational connections and the economic forces of globalization Contributors bring new insights to the unique situations of Asian communities previously overlooked by scholars such as Vietnamese Canadians and the Lao living in Rhode Island Other topics include Chinese laborers and merchants in Latin America and the Caribbean Japanese immigrants and their descendants in Brazil Afro Amerasians in America and the politics of second generation Indian American youth culture Together the essays provide a valuable comparative portrait of Asians across the Americas Engaging issues of diaspora transnational social practice and community building gender identity institutionalized racism and deterritoriality this volume presents fresh perspectives on displacement opening the topic up to a wider more interdisciplinary terrain of inquiry and teaching

Transnationalism, Diaspora and Migrants from the former Yugoslavia in Britain Gayle Munro, 2016-09-13 The geo political area of what once constituted Yugoslavia has been a region of significant migration since the 1960s More recently the conflicts in the region were the catalysts for massive displacements of individuals families and whole communities Thus far there has been a gap in the literature on the qualitative experience of migrants from the former Yugoslavia through the twin theoretical lenses of transnationalism and diaspora This book offers an ethnographic account of migration and life in diaspora of migrants originating from the former Yugoslavia and now living in Britain Concepts such as the development of cultural beacons and diasporic borrowing are introduced through the ways in which migrants from the region form community associations and articulate or avoid such affiliations The study examines the ways in which the experience of migration can be shaped by the socio political contexts of departure and arrival and considers how the lexicon associated with the act of migration can weave itself into the identities of migrants The ways in which the transnational and diasporic spaces are dictated by certain narratives for example the allegory of dreaming and the language of guilt are explored It also investigates migrants ongoing connection with the homeland considering social and cultural elements their reception in UK and British media representations of Yugoslavia Contributing to the knowledge on the experiences of migrants from a part of the world which has been under researched in terms of its migrating populations this book will be of interest to students and scholars of Political Geography Social Geography Eastern European Politics and Migration and Diaspora studies

Muslim Diaspora in the West Haideh Moghissi, Halleh Ghorashi, 2016-04-29 In view of the growing influence of religion in public life on the national and international scenes Muslim Diaspora in the West constitutes a timely contribution to scholarly debates and a response to concerns raised in the West about Islam and Muslims within diaspora It begins with the premise that diasporic communities of Islamic cultures while originating in countries dominated by Islamic laws and religious practices far from being uniform are in fact shaped in their existence and experiences by a complex web of class ethnic gender religious and regional factors as well as the cultural and social influences of their adopted homes Within this context this volume brings together work from experts within Europe and North America to explore the processes that shape the experiences and challenges faced by migrants and refugees who originate in countries of Islamic cultures Presenting the latest research from a variety of locations on both sides of The Atlantic Muslim Diaspora in the West addresses the realities of diasporic life for self identified Muslims addressing questions of integration rights and equality before the law and challenging stereotypical views of Muslims As such it will appeal to scholars with interests in race and ethnicity cultural media and gender studies and migration Ethnographies of Development and Globalization in the Philippines Koki Seki,2020-05-26 The contributors to this volume examine the actual workings and on the ground effects of contemporary political economic shifts in the Global South and implications for reconfiguring social networks conceptions and practices of governance and burgeoning social movements How do various groups in the Global South respond to and manage chronic states of insecurity and precarity concomitant with contemporary globalization processes While drawing on diverse ethnographic viewpoints in the Philippines the authors analyze the impact of these processes through the conceptual framework of emergent sociality a purported connectedness among individuals fostered through interactions copresence and conviviality within a community over a long duration In so doing the case studies in this volume suggest illuminate and debate insecurities that may be commonly shared among populations in the Philippines and throughout the Global South This anthology will be of great interest to students and scholars of cultural anthropology globalization and Philippines society Translocal Geographies Ayona

Datta,Katherine Brickell,2016-02-17 Bringing together a wide range of original empirical research from locations and interconnected geographical contexts from Europe Australasia Asia Africa Central and Latin America this book sets out a different agenda for mobility one which emphasizes the enduring connectedness between and embeddedness within places during and after the experience of mobility These issues are examined through the themes of home and family neighbourhoods and city spaces and allow the reader to engage with migrants diverse practices which are specifically local yet spatially global This book breaks new ground by arguing for a spatial understanding of translocality that situates the migrant experience within across particular locales without confining it to the territorial boundedness of the nation state It will be of interest to academics and students of social and cultural geography anthropology and transnational studies

Development in Difficult Sociopolitical Contexts A. Ware,2016-04-30 This edited volume explores development in the so called fragile failed and pariah states It examines the literature on both fragile states and their development and offers eleven case studies on countries ranking in the very high alert and very high warning categories in the Fund for Peace Failed States Index A Muslim Diaspora in Australia Lejla Voloder,2017-02-28 In a world of increasingly mixed identities what does it mean to belong As western democracies increasingly curtail their support for multiculturalism how can migrants establish belonging as citizens A Muslim Diaspora in Australia explores how a particular migrant group has faced the challenges of belonging The author illustrates how Bosnian migrants in Australia have sought to find places for themselves as migrants as refugees and as Muslims in Australia and Australian society Challenging the methodological nationalism that tends to dominate discussions of migrant identities the author exposes the ways in which dignity emerges as a dominant concern for people as they relate to varied local national and translational contexts Very little is known about how migrants themselves read and react to the multiple challenges of belonging and this pioneering work offers a timely and much needed critical insight into what it means to belong

The Microfoundations of Diaspora Politics Alexandra Délano Alonso, Harris Mylonas, 2021-09-21 The Microfoundations of Diaspora Politics examines the various actors within and beyond the state that participate in the design and implementation of diaspora policies as well as the mechanisms through which diasporas are constructed by governments political parties diaspora entrepreneurs or international organisations Extant theories are often hard pressed to capture the empirical variation and often end up identifying exceptions The multidisciplinary group of contributors in this book theorise these exceptions through three interrelated conceptual moves first by focusing on understudied aspects of the relationships between states as well as organised non state actors and their citizens or co ethnics abroad or at home in cases of return migration Second by examining dyads of origin states and specific diasporic communities differentiated by time of emigration place of residence socio economic status migratory status generation or skills Third by considering migration in its multiple spatial and temporal phases emigration immigration transit return and how they intersect to constitute diasporic identities and policies These conceptual moves facilitate comparative research and help scholars identify the mechanisms connecting structural variables with specific policies by states and other actors as well as responses by the relevant diasporic communities This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies

Diaspora, Politics, and Globalization M. Laguerre,2006-08-01 Laguerre proposes a relationship among migrants and their home society that transcends current views in migration studies The relationship among Haitians who live outside Haiti reflects a web rather than a radial relationship with the home country Haitian migrants communicate among themselves and the home country simultaneously In viewing the Haitian diaspora from a global perspective the author reveals a new theory of interconnectedness in migration which marks a significant move away from transnationalism

Marriage Migrants of Japanese Women in Australia Takeshi Hamano,2019-05-30 This book investigates the experience of Japanese women who have immigrated to Australia through marriage to a local partner Based on long term participant observations gathered with a Japanese ethnic association in Sydney and on in depth interviews with the association s members it examines the ways in which the women remould themselves in Australia by constructing gendered selves that reflect their unique migratory circumstances through cross border marriage In turn the book argues that the women tend to embrace expressions of Japanese femininity that they once viewed negatively and that this is due to their lack of social skills and access to the cultural capital of mainstream Australian society Re molding the self through conventional Japanese notions of gender ironically provides them with a convincing identity that of minority migrant women Nevertheless by analyzing these women s engagement with a Japanese ethnic association in a suburb of Sydney the book also reveals a nuanced sense of ambivalence a tension between the women s Japanese community and their lives in Australia Accordingly the book provides a fresh perspective on interdisciplinary issues of gender and migration in a globalized world and engages with a wide range of academic disciplines including sociology of migration sociology of culture cultural anthropology cultural studies Japanese studies Asian studies gender studies family studies migration studies and qualitative methodologies

Diasporic Chineseness after the Rise of China Julia Kuehn,Kam Louie,David M. Pomfret,2013-11-26 As China rose to its position of global superpower Chinese groups in the West watched with anticipation and trepidation For members of China s diasporic community the rise of China created ripples of change influencing communities culture and communication and even challenging the very concept of diaspora Diasporic Chineseness after the Rise of China examines how artists writers filmmakers and intellectuals from the Chinese diaspora responded to China s ascendancy by representing it to global audiences with a new found vitality and self assurance The chapters often personal in nature cover locations as varied as Australia North America and Tibet And yet the focus of each is the nexus between the political and economic rise of China and the cultural products this period produced a place where new ideas of nation identity and diaspora were forged

The Transnational Political Participation of Immigrants Jean-Michel Lafleur,Marco Martiniello,2013-10-18 With the progress in communication and transport technologies it has never been easier for migrants to stay connected with their country of origin Facing the wide range of activities in which immigrants are involved governments in the country of origin and the country of destination have endeavoured to respond to these activities Up until now the question of the nature of political engagement across borders that migrants may pursue has yet to be studied in a broad sense The purpose of this book is to establish to what extent the place in which immigrants settle namely the region or country might determine the types of political activity in which they engage More precisely it ascertains whether and for what reasons different forms of transnational political activity develop in the United States and Europe Looking at a series of case studies from Europe and the USA it identifies the full range of political activities and various similarities in the actions undertaken by communities based in the same area With contributions from international experts this insightful book will be of interest to postgraduates in the field of international politics migration researchers political scientists and policymakers This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies

Return Migration and Nation Building in Africa Adele Galipo, 2018-11-08 Return migration has received growing levels of attention in both academic and policy circles in recent years as the African diaspora's role in contributing to the development of their country of origin has become apparent However little is known about the lived experiences of those who come back and even less about the ways in which their return shapes socio political dynamics on the ground This book aims to unpack the complexities of migrant transnational experiences as situated in global political and economic processes In particular the book takes the case of the return of skilled and educated Somalis from Western Europe and North America in an attempt to recast the idea of diaspora return and transnational ethnography in a more political light and to show how these returnees are both subject to and generative of important political conditions that are transforming Somaliland society Overall the book captures the complexities of the migrant's position showing that return is rarely permanent and that success comes from perpetuating the transnational stance This book will appeal to scholars of migration diaspora development and African studies as well as to those interested in the Somali case specifically the third biggest community of refugees in the world
